John Connell Caught in Belting at Waterhead Mills

He Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital, His Body Having Been Badly Crushed and Lacerated

John Connell, aged 26 years and residing at 35 Agawam street, was fatally injured while at work at the Waterhead mills in Lawrence street about 5:45 o'clock this morning as a result of being wound around a shafting. He was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died about 8 o'clock.

Just how the accident occurred is not known for the officials of the mill refused to give any information to the press.

From what could be learned as a result of a roundabout investigation the young man was working about a machine when part of his clothing got caught in a belt and he was whirled around the shafting and thrown to the floor with great force, his legs being broken.

Little short of a panic prevailed among the operatives in the room, but several had the presence of mind to get the assistance of the unfortunate man and finding him cut and torn and bleeding profusely from numerous wounds, summoned the ambulance.

The ambulance made a hurried trip to the mill and from there to the hospital, where the doctors did everything in their power to save the man's life.

An examination showed that Connell's legs were mashed almost to a pulp, he was suffering from internal injuries and had numerous abrasions and lacerations about the face, arms and body. A report was issued to the effect that the amputation of both his lower limbs would be the only thing that could possibly save the young man's life, but little hope was entertained for his recovery as it was plain that his entire body was crushed.

He gradually grew weaker and passed away about eight o'clock.

The young man was conscious until within a short time before his death and his case excited the deepest sympathy of the sisters and the doctors at the hospital. He showed the greatest fortitude. His friends are overcome with grief at his sad fate.

One Man Dead and Deputy Sheriff Badly Injured

TOPSHAM, Me., Jan. 17.—Single-handed, Deputy Sheriff John Ballou of Bath, a son of Sheriff John W. Ballou, who has served Sagadahoc county for 30 years, approached a mob of 30 ugly and drinking Italians who had just rescued a prisoner from himself and two other deputy sheriffs, and engaged in a duel with John Parri, one of the number, who advanced from the others as the deputy drew near. When they were within ten feet of each other, Parri and Ballou both fired. The Italian was shot through the right side with a wound that brought death within a few minutes. As he fell he fired a second shot. One of these two bullets struck the plucky deputy under the left eye, the bullet striking a glancing blow so that it followed the cheek bone through under the nose and along under the right eye, then turning and lodging about half way between the eye and ear. The wound was not considered dangerous although it was not certain from the last examination whether the eye-sight would be affected.

Deputy Ballou was taken to the Bath hospital. The riot was quelled shortly afterward by two deputy sheriffs who had accompanied Deputy Ballou. The man arrested and afterwards rescued by his friends was Cerrano Mariani, the warrant charging him with illegal possession of intoxicating liquors. In rescuing him the Italian secured possession of Deputy Ballou's automatic revolver and it was with this weapon that Parri afterwards shot the deputy. Ballou shot the Italian with Deputy Burlington's revolver.

Deputy Ballou is about 40 years of age. Parri was 22.

Chauffeur Who Drove Mrs. Schenk's Auto to be Called—Doctors Give Result of Chemical Analysis—Other Testimony

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 17.—With the resumption of the Schenk case this morning, in which Mrs. Laura F. Schenk is charged with attempting to poison her husband, John O. Schenk, the chauffeur of the Schenks, who is alleged to have driven Mrs. Schenk on a number of occasions with a man other than her husband, was expected to be called as the first witness for the state. Witnesses heretofore called have testified that Lundy Wilson, the chauffeur, was present on occasions that both defense and state have announced would be inquired into further.

Wilson is expected to substantiate the story told by Daniel Phillips, who on the stand last Friday, stated that he had taken frequent automobile rides with Mrs. Schenk at night and that Wilson was the driver of the machine. Other witnesses planned to be called today are Dr. J. E. Burns, one of the physicians who made blood tests to ascertain if Schenk was really suffering from arsenical poisoning. Dr. Gregory McKernan also was expected to be called today. His appearance at this time is for cross-examination by the defense. Prosecuting Attorney Handlan late last night took an unexpected action in summoning a deputy sheriff to hale before him a reporter on a Pittsburgh newspaper, whom he charged with sending out erroneous reports of the trial. The scribe was notified that he would be barred from the courtroom during the remaining days of the trial.

CHILDREN CHILLED WHILE WAITING WITH DINNERS AT MILL GATES

The attention of many passersby in Market street was attracted shortly before noon today by several gatherings of children about the different gates of the Carpet mills, each with a dinner pail, waiting for the gates to open at noon. The little ones were bundled together like sheep trying to keep warm and it was frequently remarked that the corporation might do an act of charity without interfering with its business by finding them a place indoors where they may stand during cold and inclement weather.

VALUABLE HORSE

May be Lost by the Fire Dept.

One of the horses recently purchased for Engine Co. No. 5, in Pawtucketville, and considered one of the best horses in the department, fell yesterday afternoon, while attached to the exercising wagon, and its condition is such at the present time that it is doubtful if it will ever be able to respond to another alarm. The animal is suffering from what is known as "black water," a sort of paralysis and for horses ever recover. Those that do are never worth much afterwards.

When "Zeb" and "Charlie," the two horses attached to the Pawtucketville engine, became unfit for fire service and were relegated to the city farm to pass the remainder of their lives, two new horses were purchased. Of the two purchased the one which was taken ill yesterday was the more valuable.

It was the centre horse of the three which pull the heavy engine and has done excellent work during the short time he has been in the department. Yesterday while out exercising the animal without any intimation that it was ill or suffering, fell to the street and all efforts to raise him were without avail. A large horse drape was secured and the horse after being placed on it was taken to Dr. Sparks' stable in Worthen street where it is now undergoing treatment.

FOR SENATOR

THE DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE FOR J. W. KERN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 17.—The two houses of the Indiana legislature voted separately today for a United States senator to succeed Albert J. Beveridge. A joint session will be held tomorrow. The democrats have a majority of 30 on joint ballot.

J. W. Kern, a candidate for the vice presidency, was the only democratic candidate. The republican minority voted for Senator Beveridge.

McLEAN ELECTED SENATOR

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 17.—George P. McLean, of Simsbury, republican, was chosen United States senator from Connecticut for the six year term beginning March 4th next by the general assembly today. He will succeed Senator Bulkley.

BOTH CONFIDENT

Colt and Lippitt Expect to Win at Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 17.—At a meeting both in the senate and in the house today will be selected the man who will succeed Nelson A. Aldrich in the United States senate when he concludes his 30 years' service in that body on March 4th next.

The vote today will settle at least the various and conflicting claims of the two most active candidates, Henry F. Lippitt and Judge Lebanon B. Colt, both republicans. The democrats are expected to be loyal to the last to their candidate, Judge Arthur Brown, who, without the aid of the republicans, has no chance of being elected.

The legislature met at noon and up to that hour there was no change in the apparent confidence of each of the republican candidates.

The Colt leaders claim today that they also expected five democratic votes on the first ballot. If their claims materialize a deadlock is probable. The Lippitt men, however, claim his election on the first ballot. The vote today is taken separately in the senate and house and 11 votes are necessary to a choice. Whatever the outcome of the vote today the legislature will meet in joint ballot on the second ballot, which will be taken today. It should it fail to elect, the voting may be continued as often as desirable to-morrow and the following days. In 1907, when at this time, three candidates were in the field, 61 ballots were taken without success, and no senator was elected until the next year when George Peabody Wetmore of Newport was chosen.

CONTESTS OVER WILLS

But They Were Allowed by Judge McIntire Today

The will of the late George W. Poore was admitted by Judge McIntire in the probate court session this morning. All of the deceased's property excepting a little personal property was bequeathed to the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C.

The late George W. Poore made a will on Feb. 2, 1910, but revoked it by the making of a last will on May 11, 1910, which latter will is the one admitted today. This will was contested by Attorney Frederick J. White, of Somerville, in behalf of John Edwin Poore, of Philadelphia, a brother of the deceased. Attorney Frank E. Dunbar also contested the will in behalf of a half sister of the deceased, Mary L. Choover, of Lowell.

Judge McIntire allowed the will and the contestants entered an appeal. Pending the appeal, Judge McIntire appointed John J. Pickman who was named executor of the will, special administrator of the estate. John J. Harvey represented the will.

The will of the late Margaret Finney was also allowed by Judge McIntire this morning. The will was represented by Riley & Kern. The deceased, who owned considerable property in the vicinity of Concord street, bequeathed this property to her three nieces and her nephew. A sister of the deceased, Mrs. Max Sweeney of Los Angeles, Cal., contested the will through her attorneys, Farley & Tierney. After summing up the testimony the judge allowed the will.

The following uncontested will was presented before Judge Lawton this morning: J. Avison Baker, Lowell; Daniel W. Webster, Lowell; George W. Seales, Billerica; Margaret J. Washburn, Lowell; Leah A. Kettley, Lowell; Louis Lemay, Lowell; Louis Deagle, Braintree; John Nawn, Lowell; Mary T. Dyer, Lowell.

SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE TO TEST SUBMARINE

Nominated by the Democrats for Haverhill Man Perfects a Spiral Shaped Craft

U. S. Senator

Democrats Say That There Will be a Deadlock in Joint Convention—The Democrats Claim That Lodge is Defeated

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Sherman L. Whipple of Brookline, classmate of William Howard Taft, republican president of the United States, received the nomination for U. S. senator yesterday at the democratic caucus at the state house on the fifth ballot.

Mr. Whipple is regarded as the personal choice of Gov. Foss. His boom was sprung by those closely affiliated with the political fortunes of Gov. Foss and by considerable quiet lobbying during the past week. Gov. Foss' friends succeeded in nominating Mr. Whipple, comparatively a new name in the political game, over an old and experienced party and veteran campaigner, John R. Thayer of Worcester, who led on the first ballot with 10 votes more than Mr. Whipple.

John R. Thayer led all competitors up to the fourth ballot. On the fifth his vote dwindled to almost one-half of Whipple's and the latter had eight more than enough to nominate.

The fifth ballot resulted as follows:

Single number votes cast: 111
Necessary for a choice: 55
Whipple: 54
Thayer: 54
O'Connell: 11
Gov. Foss: 2

Made Unanimous

The moment the ballot was announced Representative Hensbury of Worcester was on his feet and moved to make the ballot unanimous. Senator Hunt of Worcester seconded Hensbury's motion.

Representatives Foley and Baran, friends and supporters of Congressman Connell, followed in the same line. Mr. Whipple's nomination was made unanimous with great enthusiasm.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 17.—James F. Buckley has spent twenty years of his life in perfecting a submarine boat and he is now near the goal of his ambition, which is to be able to explore the bottom of the harbor at Portland, Me., where, as a boy, he used to long to stay under water long enough to see what was there.

He has perfected a submarine boat in which the naval and war powers of several nations are interested. The United States war department, having recently communicated with him relative to the improvements he has perfected on a craft which was tried out successfully ten years ago.

The secret of it he refuses to divulge except that it is a cigar-shaped craft revolving on an axle which makes possible a spiral movement through the water at a speed of between 100 and 150 miles per hour, depending only upon the engine power. The secret of air supply he has already solved, as well as that of speed under water, but he is not yet ready to give out the plans.

Mr. Buckley navigated the bottom of the Merrimack river several years ago, but his submarine depended upon hand power at that time. It worked well, however, the motion of the outer shell demonstrating the possibilities of that method. Since then the inventor's efforts have been directed toward the equipment of a motor.

An accident to his craft while at the bottom of the river came near resulting in his death, for one of the fins of the boat struck an obstruction and damaged the power crank.

The English admiralty requested him to construct a craft along the lines of his first boat, but the expense involved was too great and he abandoned the project. He has had correspondence with the naval agents of Great Britain, Spain, France and Japan, but now says he will give America first choice and has offered his plans to the United States.

Dr. Daniels Tells How Brockton Man Arrested as a Suspect

BROCKTON, Jan. 17.—"Burr-r-r" remarked Policeman Philip Finnegan, as he stood at the corner of Main and Centre streets, looking at a thermometer that registered just a below zero. Then he turned, looked up Centre street, and gasped.

leisurely approaching him was a man, whose garments consisted of a pair of trousers and an undershirt. He was bald and his expression indicated that he was a cool customer.

"Suffering cats, is it awake I am?" asked Finnegan, pinching himself.

Finnegan was awake, all right. The lightly clad pedestrian stroled up to him, bowed courteously, and would have passed on, had not Finnegan stopped him.

"Come here, my boy," said he. "When were you first taken this way?"

The stranger looked at Finnegan. "I no speak English," he declared.

"It makes no difference. 'Tis warn you must be getting, standing here! Come along with me, I'll show you the cooler."

Finnegan's friend had no desire to go to the cooler. He protested volubly, but to no avail. The policeman, who said and cared less, took the man, headed, bare-footed one to the police station.

"Then the captain came to the same conclusion Finnegan had. He sent out for doctors. Two came and put Finnegan's hand through a series of tests.

"The matter with him," he said. "He's sane enough," they declared.

"Well, what is the matter?" asked Finnegan and the captain.

The doctors didn't know.

"Send for an interpreter and ask him," they suggested.

An interpreter was summoned. To and the mystery gestulated and conversed for about two minutes. Then the interpreter turned to the captain.

"His name is Fabian Pellino, and he says it's all a joke," he explained. "To-night he called on a friend of his, Antonio Galanti, who lives at 21 Alton street. When he leave there he think it a good joke to take off his hat and shoes, and stand outside shirt and pants, and throw them all together in a bundle in Antonio's back yard."

"Then he start to walk home. He walk most mile and a half when this man here (indicating Finnegan) stop him and bring him in. He did it just for a joke."

"Well, he'll be jiggered!" said Finnegan.

"He says his clothes at Antonio's house," resumed the interpreter, and perhaps you send for them. His feet they get cold while he ride in patrol wagon."

The captain sent one of the men to Antonio's house and Pellino's clothes were found there, sure enough, lying where he picked up and brought to headquarters, where Pellino put them on and was allowed to depart.

"It was a joke all right," Finnegan told the captain, "but who in blazes was it?"

"You and Fabian might lose up and decide," suggested the captain.

SOLD COCAINE

Woman Was Given Two Months' Sentence

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Anne L. Manley, the colored woman who caused Prof. Phillip Marcus to resign from Harvard university by bringing a $50,000 breach of promise suit against him two years ago, was sent to Deer Island yesterday for two months for selling cocaine. She was arraigned in the superior court under the name of Sarah Smith.

Living at Brockton, where she has a Williams street terrace, Brockton, Manley boarded and lodged, was also sent with her to the island yesterday on a charge of having cocaine in her possession. Both were sent away as a result of investigations made by the Watch and Ward society.

Ex-Judge Dewey defended the Manley woman and Brockton, and lost their cause on Friday the 14th.

The woman sold cocaine to an agent of the Watch and Ward society on Nov. 12, the society with police officers of station 19 under charge of Sergeant O'Neil raided the house at 9 Williams street terrace, and secured a lot of cocaine, in spite of the fact that Brockton threw some of it out of the window. The Brockton court they were sentenced to four months each. Judge Kenney yesterday, after an argument by Judge Dewey on the constitutionality of the cocaine statute, cut the sentence of the lower court in halves because both had already been between their arrest and the trial of their appeal served two months.

HALE AND HEARTY

Samuel N. Wood Observes 90th Birthday

Samuel N. Wood, for many years one of Lowell's best known business men, but long since retired, observed his 90th birthday at his home, 645 Central street, yesterday. Mr. Wood was in good health and spirits, and during the afternoon received many friends and a wealth of flowers. His memory is remarkably good, despite his great age. His sight is good and he reads the newspapers daily, keeping in close touch with current events. He does not go outdoors much in winter. Mr. Wood is a most interesting talker and his talks of early Lowell never fail to charm.

Samuel Newell Wood was born in Dracut, Jan. 17, 1821. His father, Samuel Wood, was born in Tewksbury on June 9, 1786, and died in Lowell June 1, 1874. He was nearly 85 years old, so it can readily be seen that the subject of the present sketch comes of a family quite noted for longevity. Mr. Wood's mother was Patience Kendall, who was born in Tewksbury, and who died in Lowell about 1830.

Samuel N. Wood came to Lowell with his father when a mere boy, and he was educated in the public schools of Lowell and at Phillips Andover Academy, from which school he was graduated in 1837. For five years thereafter he worked at the grocery business as clerk, and at the end of that time he formed a business partnership with Marshall Hemmingway, under the firm name of Wood & Hemmingway, in the same line of business.

Some five years later he went into partnership with his father, on Market street, in the wholesale grain business. A year later his father retired and Mr. Wood assumed full control of the business. The business increased rapidly, and in 1863 he admitted his son to partnership. In 1882 Mr. Wood retired from the business. For a number of years afterwards he devoted himself to the supervision of his real estate, although of recent years he has relinquished this considerably.

Mr. Wood's father brought the first bale of wool and cotton shipped to Lowell, to the Hurd mills. Before that time he had been proprietor of a grocery store at Quincy, Mass., and often he spoke with pride of the fact that one of his steady customers had been John Quincy Adams, a former president of the United States.

In June, 1842, he married Maria Gray of Wilton, N. H. He was married a second time on Nov. 15, 1845, to Laura Hyde of Oxford, Conn. His third marriage was to Mrs. Emma B. Dudley of Lowell, N. H. He has two children surviving him, Mrs. Charles W. Gray of New London, N. H., and Edward N. Wood, who for many years conducted the grain business originally established by his grandfather. He also has two sisters, Miss Mary Wood, aged 92, of Harvard, Mass., and Mrs. Hannah Hoagland of this city.

Mr. Wood has always been a strong republican. He was a member of the common council in 1861. He was one of the earliest members of Oberlin lodge, I. O. O. F., and of Wainwright camp, of the same order. He has been a director of the First National bank, and a trustee of the Central Savings bank. During his younger years he was deeply interested in military affairs and for a number of years was quartermaster sergeant under Col. Bancroft. He is a member of the High Street Congregational church.

LODGE IS CHOICE

The Republican Caucus Favored Him for Senator

132 Members Took Part in the Meeting—His Friends Claim That the Senator Will Get Nine More Votes, Giving Him a Majority on Joint Ballot

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The first legislative session in the United States senatorial contest at the state house yesterday resulted in the unanimous nomination of Senator Lodge in the republican caucus. All of the avowed Ames men remained away, as well as several anti-Lodge men. A few of Senator Lodge's supporters were unable to be present for business reasons.

There were 28 absentees, which comes pretty near corroborating Congressman Butler Ames' claim that at least 30 republicans would not attend the caucus.

As there are 153 republican members on a joint ballot, one can start with the proposition that Senator Lodge had in yesterday's caucus 123 votes. Add to this the seven absentees who sent word that they would be present today and vote for Senator Lodge and his vote is swelled to 132.

The Lodge men also claim nine of the others absent, which would give him a majority of one on a joint ballot. Some of the more enthusiastic of the Lodge men claim 12 of the absentees, uncommitted which would give him two more than a majority on a joint ballot.

Butler Ames laughed at the Lodge claim last night and declared that he was satisfied that the democrats and the anti-Lodge republicans would deadlock the legislature on the senatorship.

The Absentees

These republicans were absent from the caucus:

Senators Denny of Worcester, Hilditch of Hilditch, Nelson of Essex and Thibault of Suffolk. Representatives Arkwell of Worcester, Bagley of Boston, Baker of Westwood, Barlow of Lowell, Bean of Cambridge, Cogswell of Lynn, Collins of Amesbury, Cushman of Provincetown, Dow of Cambridge, Dwyer of Everett, Keefe of Fall River, Kilpatrick of Lowell, Knowles of Gloucester, Marchant of Lowell, Morgan of Lawrence, Pennington of Cambridge, Quinn of Swampscott, Silvester of Worcester, Stevens of Dracut, Turner of Waltham, Wells of Haverhill, C. J. Wood of Cambridge and R. A. Wood of Cambridge.

Of these the Lodge men claimed Senators Denny of Worcester, Thibault of Boston and Representatives Bagley of East Boston, Baker of Westwood, Bean of Cambridge, Collins of Amesbury, Cushman of Provincetown, Dow of Cambridge, Gifford of Chatham, Greenwood of Everett, Keefe of Fall River, Knowles of Gloucester, Pennington of Cambridge, Quinn of Swampscott, Turner of Waltham, Wells of Haverhill, and C. J. Wood of Cambridge. The 12 other absentees they gave to Ames.

Nominated by Acclamation

Prolonged applause greeted the conclusion of the nominating speech by Speaker Walker, and Representative Willets of Fall River immediately moved that Senator Lodge be nominated by acclamation. This was seconded by Senator Pearson of Norfolk.

At this point Representative Underhill of Somerville said he had heard that some members thought the nomination ought to be made by ballot. He believed if there were such men they should frankly urge that nomination should be made that way. The acclamation method, however, apparently of all present, and Representative Willets' motion was carried without dissent. The chairman then put the question and Senator Lodge was unanimously nominated as the choice of the republican caucus.

When the caucus opened there were 123 republicans present. Of these 22 were senators and 101 were representatives. Later two more representatives entered the chamber, so that there were present when the vote was taken 125 of the 153 republicans in the legislature. Before the vote was taken seven of the absentees were vouchered by members present as being unavoidably absent. It was said, but they would be present today and vote for Senator Lodge. This made the total vote as far as the caucus and vouchers went 132 for Senator Lodge.

Outsiders Think Lodge Shy

The republican situation in the house was regarded by outsiders last evening about as follows: The caucus had pledged the 102 house members who attended to Senator Lodge. Five other representatives, though absent, were quoted in favor of the senator. This made 107. Of the other absentees not referred to at the caucus nine were claimed by Lodge leaders last evening as a total of 117 republicans, with 121 necessary to nominate in the lower house.

There are in the legislature 153 republicans, 26 in the senate and 127 in the house.

In the senate it is believed Senator Lodge will receive 21 out of a total of 49 votes. If he can get 117 in the house and 24 in the senate he will have a bare majority in joint convention. There are 153 republicans in the legislature (26 in the senate and 127 in the house) making 141 votes necessary for a majority in joint convention.

The other four ballots for senator resulted as follows:

Old Ferncroft Inn at Danvers Burned Today

It Was the Oldest in New England and Had Much Valuable Antique Furniture

DANVERS, Jan. 17.—Ferncroft Inn, the Middleton Colonial hostelry, was burned to the ground early this morning. The fire started from an open fireplace in one of the parlors and burned rapidly to the upper floors. Fortunately there were few guests at the house at the time and the small force of employees was able to help them to places of safety before the fire assumed threatening proportions.

The Danvers fire department was called out and found the water supply inadequate, making it impossible to save any part of the buildings. Only a few of the larger pieces of the inn's famous collection of antique furniture was saved. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

The Ferncroft Inn was considered one of the oldest hotels in New England. It was built in 1679 to accommodate the stage-coach travelers and has always been used as a hotel. A few years ago it was partially destroyed by fire, but since had been restored in its recent colonial design.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—City Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde returned to New York on the very night that the authority of the legislative investigating committee to examine him expired. The committee wanted Hyde to testify about sworn statements aiming to establish that he co-operated with August Belmont, Harry Payne Whitney, R. T. Wilson and other millionaires in raising a bribe fund to kill the anti

AUTO AMERICAN TRUCK ASSOCIATION

FOUR AUTO BILLS TOWN MEETING

Filed by Automobile Legal Association In Billerica Was Slimly Attended

The Automobile Legal Association has filed four bills of interest to automobilists who operate in the state of Massachusetts.

The first is the so-called light bill, which would require every vehicle on wheels, whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge to have attached to it a light or lights, which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and rear during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle while upon any lighted street or highway where street lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart or less or to any other vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

This bill is in seven sections, the sixth section of which provides that for a violation of the provisions of it fine not exceeding $5 may be imposed. The second bill is one which is designed to give not only automobilists, but all persons charged with misdemeanors punishable by a fine of not more than $25, the opportunity to appear by counsel, he may plead guilty or not guilty for the defendant without his being present, provided, that the person charged deposits, with the clerk of the court, before which he is summoned to appear, before 10 a. m. of the day upon which the summons is returnable the sum of $25, out of which the fine imposed may be taken and the balance returned to the attorney representing him.

This bill requires that a person taking advantage of this provision would have to execute a written power of attorney.

The third bill tends to correct the present automobile laws in abolishing the minimum fine, but leaves the maximum fine as it is, so that if the court find a violation of the law to have been very slight and the consequences thereof to have been not serious enough to warrant a consideration, the court may impose a fine less than $10.

The injustice of the present law, which requires, for instance, that a person who fails to blow his horn at an intersecting street must be fined at least $10 and not more than $25 for the first offence, has been commented upon by numerous judges of the district and municipal courts as a harsh law, which leaves the courts no alternative but to impose the fine of $10.

The fourth bill is an amendment to the last clause, or paragraph, of chapter 54A, of acts of 1909, which defines "ways", so as to include private driveways, and the amendment is so framed as to permit an automobilist to pass a private driveway without slowing down to eight miles an hour and blowing his horn.

Less than forty people were in attendance at the special town meeting held in the town hall in Billerica last night for the purpose of hearing the report of the board of selectmen relative to the footbridge at the Fordway bridge and see what action the town would take in the matter. After considerable discussion pro and con the meeting came to a close and the matter is at the same stage at the present time as it was before the meeting was called.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator Charles Kohlrausch, and after Clerk King read the article, Chairman Shinghi gave a report of the matter and submitted opinions from J. C. Worcester, an engineer of Boston. Mr. Shinghi explained that the sum of $2000, available for the work of erecting a footbridge, was wholly inadequate, as the lowest bid received was $2652.

Relative to the bridge itself, the following letter from Engineer Worcester was read:

The present bridge was well designed for ordinary highway traffic, including light-weight electric cars. It is now in a fair state of preservation, with the exception that the floor beams are more or less weakened by corrosion, and one of the trusses has been seriously damaged, apparently by a collision with a derrick car. The wooden stringers supporting the electric car track, and in bad shape and will have to be replaced before long and it is evident that all parts of the wooden floor system will need renewal within a limited number of years.

The present weight of electric cars overstrains the floor of the trusses adjacent to the tracks. These trusses, however, would not be dangerous if the damage caused by the collision above referred to were properly repaired.

The worst feature of the bridge as it now stands comes from the fact that it is too narrow to safely carry foot traffic. There are no sidewalks and there is no place for people to take refuge when the bridge is occupied by an electric car and vehicles in the roadway.

Considering the fact that there are two cars every 15 minutes on the bridge, that the bridge is only 250 feet long, that autos going at high speed are a common occurrence, and that within 250 feet there is no refuge, it is obviously somewhat dangerous for foot passengers.

The pine along the southerly side of the highway bridge is in an extremely precarious condition on account of the brackets supporting the trusses at the piers and the safety factor being badly bent and liable to collapse at any time.

THE DELAWARE

WILL CARRY BODY OF LATE MINISTER CRUZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Because of the dismemberment of the battleship South Carolina by the loss of her propeller on her voyage across the Atlantic, the battleship Delaware will take the body of the late Minister Anibal Cruz to Chile.

The body, which is now here, will be transported from Washington to Hampton Roads on the Mayflower and there transferred to the Delaware. According to present arrangements the Delaware will sail for Chile on January 31 by the Straits of Magellan.

$25,000 VERDICT

Returned by Jury in Essex Co. Court

SALEM, Jan. 17.—A verdict, about one-fifth of the amount sued for, was returned by a jury in the Essex county superior court today, when Stuart Browne of New York was awarded $25,000 after a hearing of his suit against Joseph H. Fairhall, executor of the estate of John Burnham Brown, late of Ipswich, who died a year or two ago in Chicago. Browne claimed that Brown had agreed to purchase from the plaintiff stocks and bonds in New York Banking company enterprises to the value of about a million and a half dollars, but that the agreement was not kept by Brown. Browne sued the executor of the Brown estate for $1,250,000 in an action of contract. This is the largest damage suit ever tried in Essex county, but the verdict of $25,000 falls far short of being the heaviest verdict awarded in the city.

race track bills at Albany in 1903. These men and others denied before the committee that they had participated in any bribery plot. Hyde, however, left the city and mysteriously disappeared for more than a month. Later he was discovered on a houseboat in Florida waters. He denies any one to show that he was in any conspiracy as alleged and says that New York city money was endangered by bank failures during his absence will not be lost. Hyde laughs and refuses to pay attention to demands that he resign and says he will "continue to serve the city faithfully." Petition has been made to Mayor Gaynor to remove Hyde.

NAMES CONFUSED

STATE DEPARTMENT SUBJECTED TO SEVERE CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Through a curious transposition of names, the state department was recently subjected to severe criticism from Berlin for the alleged appointment of an important consular generalship of a person directly from civil life, which of course would be in violation of the principles of consular reform, for which Secretary Knox has been so earnestly working. It is reported that one Gabriel Hollis had been appointed consul general at Constantinople. As a matter of fact the new consul general at that point is one of the veterans of the service, Gabriel H. Stanish, who has been consul at Berlin, where he is succeeded by W. S. Hollis, formerly consul at Dundee. It is evident that the two names were confused.

The disposition of the state department to abide by the principle of promotion in filling these higher places in the consular service is manifested by the strong support it is giving to the bill recently introduced in the house of representatives of Mr. Lodge of Illinois, the purpose of which is to give the force of statutory law to the present executive order which places the consular service on the basis of the merit system.

FELL FROM A POLE

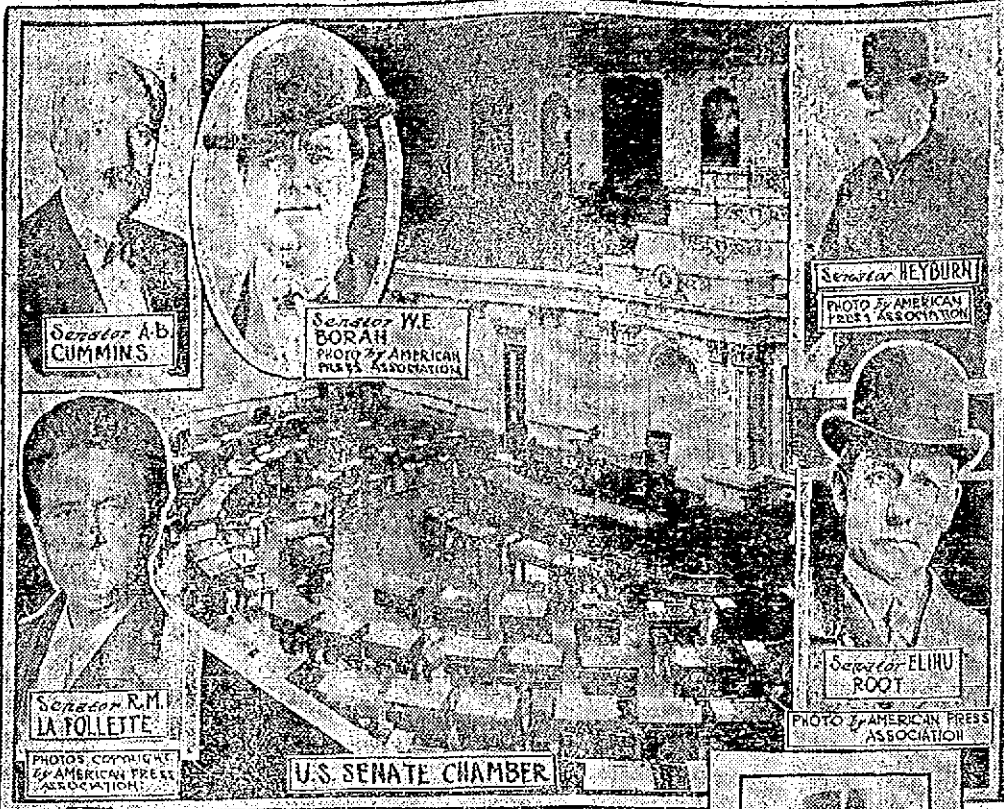

Peter Evans Had a Narrow Escape From Being Killed

He Dropped From a Pole in Chelmsford Street—Both His Arms Were Injured and His Face Was Badly Cut

Peter Evans, a young man employed as a lineman by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday afternoon as a result of falling from a telephone pole in Chelmsford street, Chelmsford.

The young man was working on one of the cross bars which is about 30 feet from the ground when he lost his hold and fell to the ground. In falling he had the presence of mind to extend his arms, and when he struck the ground he

FIGHT FOR POPULAR ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS WAXES RED HOT AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Probably the chief topic of interest here in congressional circles is the battle over the subject of the election of United States senators by a popular vote. The warfare has become so bitter between the opposing sides in the upper house that talk of a prolonged filibuster on the part of the opponents of the proposition is becoming more and more frequently heard.

Senator Heyburn, leader in opposition to the plan for popular vote, threatens to tie up proceedings indefinitely if the backers of the movement secure enough votes to pass the resolution. The charge that the opponents of the change intended to stave off a vote until congress dies on March 3 is followed in the same breath by the threat of the advocates of popular election to hold up all other legislation until the amendment has been passed. This shows the spirit of

GANLEY SIGNS UP

Lowell Player Goes Back to Newark Team

Some time ago it was reported in a local paper that Bob Ganley might be seen at the head of the Lowell team this year and his friends smiled at the statement for while Bob, departed from the Class A to the class B teams it was no indication that he had become a has-been.

The best evidence that Bob will not head the Lowell team this year is the fact that this week he received and sent back a contract for the season from Joe McKinnity with an increase of salary, accompanied by a letter from the contents of which it would seem likely that he may be running the team this year. Bob is keeping down to weight with pedestrianism and an occasional physical culture stunt at the U. C. gym and undoubtedly he will begin the season in perfect shape.

With last year's experience in mind Manager Gray of Lowell team is gathering his try-out players from points nearer home this year and will not spend a small fortune on uncertain propositions as he did last year. It will be recalled that he imported four players from California last year on fine recommendations and at a wholesale expenditure in transportation expenses only to find that not one of them was strong enough for the local grammar school league. Never again for Joe!

A number of well recommended players have been booked up this far and every mother's son of them must show the manager that he has the goods, or home he goes.

Walter Foye goes back to the New London team at an increase of salary and according to talk Jack Burns may sell him into farther company this season. Under the wise tutelage of Jack

Burns Walter improved greatly and quit the season in fast form.

Charlie Mackenzie, the popular member of the school board from ward six is a pitcher who has shown some class and who has received an offer from a minor league team. Since entering the school board, however, Charlie may hesitate before leaving town to play ball.

SAM LANGFORD

HAD AN EASY TIME WITH FRED ATWATER

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Sam Langford of Boston last night made his last appearance in the ring before going to England, in the state armory here. Fred Atwater, another pugilist of color, who has stated his desire to some day meet Johnson, was Langford's opponent, and he proved to be out of Sam's class.

Langford is not as big as Atwater but he toyed with him. Atwater was visibly nervous and failed to make good in the opening round. In the second round Langford dropped his hands and permitted Atwater to hit him three times.

Then he went after his opponent and had him going when the bell rang. The third round saw Langford cut loose, and he knocked Atwater down with a terrific wallop. The bout was stopped right there, for a continuance would have been cruelty.

BOBBY WALLACE

SAYS BALL PLAYERS SHOULD HAVE A LITTLE BOCK

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Bobby Wallace, the new manager of the St. Louis Americans, returned to St. Louis yesterday from his home in Allentown, Pa.

Wallace does not believe in anti-drink clauses in the contracts of ball players.

"I think a little bock every day helps ball players," said Bobby, "and if you try to shut it out entirely you are bound to offend some of them."

FRANK GOTCH

CHAMPION WRESTLER MATCHED TO MEET ORDEMAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Frank Gotch, champion wrestler, confirmed a statement from Kansas City, that he had been matched to meet Henry Ordeaman in a finish contest Feb. 28. "The date is correct," said Gotch, "and I intend to go out and clean up a few more of them."

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Various seats of learning, local hospitals and Presbyterian churches, missions and charities are beneficiaries named in the will of Mrs. Emily N. Morrill, which was probated yesterday. It is expected that probate will show the estate to aggregate at least $1,000,000.

Requests are made to trustees of institutions, Harvard university, Harvard, Princeton and Lincoln universities, Presbyterian board of missions, for freedom, the Presbyterian board of relief for disabled ministers and Presbyterian boards of home and foreign missions.

TEXTILE SCHOOL TWO LOWELL MEN

Trustees Ask Legislature for $69,500 In Boxing Bouts on Wednesday Night

The board of trustees of the Lowell Textile school has asked the legislature for $69,500, $40,000 for maintenance and $29,500 for building and equipment. The bill was introduced in the legislature on Saturday, and James T. Smith, secretary of the board of trustees, said that the estimate was prepared in a hurry and that there would probably be a reduction in at least one item. The amount asked for this year is $1500 less than was allowed the school last year.

WOLGAST TO TRY OUT HIS ARM ON CHICAGO LIGHTWEIGHT

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—The English sporting world and Freddie Welsh will have to wait awhile for Packy McFarland. The young Chicago boxer has more engagements than a front row chorus girl. Having just added Ad Wolgast, the champion lightweight, to his date book, McFarland doesn't care much about London, for a time at least. It seems strange, in view of the fact that Wolgast told Moran he wanted a trial bout to test his arm before putting his championship in jeopardy, in Philadelphia, Jan. 25.

ners-up for the heavyweight title that is possessed by Jack Johnson, completely upset that old story.

Indications are that this will be another banner week in the boxing game. Stellar shows are carded everywhere. New England has its quota, however, and the followers of boxing in these parts will not want for glove entertainment.

In Boston tonight Pat Moore will attempt to whip Marty Baldwin, who has been on the hospital list for several weeks. They meet at the Army A. in a 12-round contest.

But despite the class of this match it has nothing on the which is to be offered at the Queen City A. C. of Manchester next Wednesday night. This is as good a match as any offered anywhere in the country. Interest runs high in the bout, so high in fact that a special train will be used to convey the Lawrence sports to the ringside.

More than 250 Lawrence fans have signified their intention of going to Manchester.

Both boxers are said to be in prime fix for the contest. Each has trained for the minute in anticipation of a gruelling battle. They are old ring enemies. Thomas has a victory to his credit over Sullivan and the Lawrence boy is determined to reverse things on this occasion.

In Fall River, Mass., Jimmy Gardner of Lowell and Terry Martin of Manchester and Philadelphia will hook up for 12 rounds. This will be a hard bout. Martin is in good shape, now. He has trained hard and feels confident that he will hold the Lowell wonder to a draw.

Packey McFarland and Jack Goodman will clash in New York. The Chicago boxer must make good in order to be a card in England. He is a flatterer offer to go abroad, but he must win to get the opportunity to sign the articles.

Boston will be well represented in the ring this week. Sam Langford will spar a joke named Jim Atwater in Utica N. Y. Porky Flynne will tackle Con. O'Kelly in Syracuse, Kid Shea will meet Jeff Doherty in Lawrence, and one of the hardest battles of the season at the Unity club should result. Mike Twin Sullivan, one of the bald headed champions, will face the Dixie Kid in Buffalo. Johnny Glover will meet Joe Hyland in Glen Falls, N. Y. George Alger will clash with Jack Leonard at Johnny Nelson's benefit and he may also meet some star at the American A. C. in Philadelphia.

Digger Stanley, the recent arrival from England, will make his New York debut Friday night at Tom O'Rourke's club. He will clash with Frankie Burns, the New Jersey sensation. The match is at 116½ pounds, a new bantam weight limit.

There will be several sets of amateur contests. At the Irish-American A. C. in New York a series of bouts will be held Tuesday and again on Wednesday night.

Jim Buckley has again assumed the management of the Dixie Kid. The Dixie Kid was released after he faked in Albany, but when he got the match in Buffalo Jim decided to reinstate him.

Jimmy DeForest has a new protege. He is a fast Philadelphia featherweight. In bouts with Pat Moore at the camp in Allentown, N. J., he showed up signals of the Y. M. C. I. Frankie Conley, who was ordered out of the ring by Doc. Freny the other night for faking, will meet Tommy Dixon in Kansas City in a 10-round bout. Conley sparred with Attell once and in that way got the "habitué."

Sandy Ferguson is training in Natick for a return match with Jim Barry. They fought under go-as-you-please rules in New Orleans a few months ago. The match ought to be a big drawing card.

An all-star show will be the feature at the Rhode Island A. C. next Wednesday night. Three 10-round bouts and a six-round mill will entertain the members.

THE ALPINE FIVE

Now Tied With Y. M. C. I. Quintet

The Alpines and Y. M. C. I. are now tied for first place in the Catholic league as a result of the former team winning three points from the Y. M. C. I. in the game played last night. Good scores were in order and while the Alpines besides taking all three points captured the total pinfall, the game was close and exciting.

Coleman of the vanquished team put up an excellent game, having a single of 120 and a triple of 317, and Devlin of the winning team had a total of 399. Two other members of the Alpines came within three plus of the 300 mark.

The first game in the new Minor league was played last night between the J. P. S. and Rocklands, the former winning the three points. Six of the 15 strings rolled by the winning team were over the 100 mark, while the members of the losing team were able to reach the century mark but four times during the game.

The feature of the game was the consistent rolling of A. Severance of the winning team. His first string was 199, his second 105 and he got 110 in the third, with a total of 324.

The game between the Y. M. C. I. and St. Peter's teams in the Catholic league series resulted in the former team winning two of the three points, but the St. Peter's quintet secured the total pinfall as a result of the high score put up in the first string.

WASHINGTON SHOCKED AT DISCLOSURES IN BARRY CASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The sensational disclosures surrounding the resignation of Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet have aroused official Washington from top to bottom. It is stated here that for months officers on board the flagship West Virginia have been aware of serious allegations made against the rear admiral and have ostracized him. The charges were first made generally public in the San Francisco Chronicle. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beekman Whitford states that Admiral Barry had retired voluntarily and that no charges had been filed against him. He denied any knowledge of special reasons whereby the admiral should retire at this particular time.

Admiral Barry will be succeeded by Rear Admiral C. A. Thomas as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. Admiral Thomas is now in command of the second division under Admiral Barry. Rear Admiral Barry, who succeeded Rear Admiral Giles B. Harber, U. S. N., as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet last fall, is a New Yorker born and bred and for many years has been one of the best known officers in the navy. He was born in New York, Oct. 20, 1840, his father being Garrett Robert Barry and his mother Sarah Agnes Glover Barry. He was educated at the Lehigh school and St. Francis Xavier college in New York, and at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis.

STATE OFFICERS

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of local 352 of the International Union of Stationary Engineers was held last night in its hall. Among the state officers present were President Fred W. Detheridge of Boston, Vice-President William E.

MRS. DANNIE MANN
Playing the Title Role in "Mandy Hawkins" at the Merrimack Sq. Theatre

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The bill presented at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is one of the best the house has put on since its inception.

The real feature of the program is a little pastoral playlet presented by Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Mann and called "Mandy Hawkins." It is a dainty bit, rich in Down East humor and dialect. Mrs. Mann plays the title role of the little girl in a way to win the heart of everyone in the audience, while Mr. Mann as the old farmer is excellent. Elaborate setting and unusual electrical effects depicting a typical country scene at the closing of the day, with the lighted windows of the church shining in the distance from which comes the sound of the choir singing, suggests perhaps the most popular scene in that old favorite, "The Old Homestead."

The Four Everetts, acrobats and equilibrists, are very clever. They do a really remarkable series of balancing and acrobatic stunts from juggling, pyramid, and their features are quite original. The act is interesting from start to finish and handsomely put on.

Archer and Carr have a singing and talking sketch which is unusual only in its excellence. Carr is a very charming comedienne with a pleasing soprano voice, the other a young man with great abilities as a comedian. They present a lot of laughable repartee and sing a number of new songs.

Gilbert Loebe, late of Lew Dockett's minstrels, is billed as the "fashion plate comedian." He is a sure laugh maker with his stories and parodies on popular songs. Mr. Loebe is a wonderful singer equipped with a voice of remarkable range, which he can switch from soprano to deep bass.

Harrington and Millard are making quite a hit with their illustrated songs, one a bass soloist and the other a baritone. They present a novel offering that is well done.

The pictures presented yesterday were unusually good. A continuous performance will be presented every day this week from 1 until 10:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mann besides appearing in mid-afternoon and evening also "come on" at 5:40, so that patrons are given every opportunity of seeing them.

Last night the theatre orchestra gave a pleasing concert of selections from the opera "L'Amorita."

MILK PROBLEM MAN ARRESTED

Discussed at Meeting Is Accused of Robbing a Friend

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The milk selling farmers of New England, with contractors and health officers, discussed the milk problem under the auspices of the Boston Co-operative Milk Producing company at the American house last night, and concluded the day's work last night with resolutions upholding claims of the purity of the product and justifying the existing prices.

The resolutions offered by Prof. J. W. Sanborn of Gilmanton, N. H., embraced the salient features of the addresses of the day. They declared the farmers were not, that tuberculosis had decreased at the same time the use of milk had increased, showing the product was not responsible for the increase in the disease claimed; that a Massachusetts legislative committee had found that Massachusetts farmers were raising milk without profit; that milk was not expensive, but comparatively cheaper than beef and other food products, and that, on the other hand, condensed milk was more costly and of much uncertain character.

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston told the milkmen that it was the opinion of men in authority that if Boston could secure a pure milk supply the death rate among children would be reduced 50 per cent in the city.

H. O. Deane of Grafton, N. H., made a plea for a return to the farm, and J. S. Whiting, an A. A. Grinstein and C. H. Hood, contractors and the agitation had increased the burden of the farmer.

Dr. Mark Richardson, secretary of the state board of health, spoke on the inadequacy of present dairy inspection. The organization continued its meeting today for the election of officers and other business.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Julia M. It is natural to grow heavier during cold weather months, but your weight is increasing too rapidly, and I would suggest a simple remedy, which is splendid for taking off flesh. Get from your druggist four ounces of paraffin and dissolve in 1½ cups of water. A tablespoonful of this before each meal will gradually take off the superfluous weight. This treatment is harmless, costs little and requires no starving, but you must be sure to get paraffin.

Anna G. The condition you describe is not eczema of the scalp, but is likely caused through using injurious soaps or shampoo mixtures, which have robbed the scalp of the oily secretion necessary to keep it in a healthy condition. I am sure you can overcome this if you buy some caustic and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough for one good shampoo, and although its cost is trifling, it stops itching and soon corrects the dry, scaly condition of the scalp. It would be advisable to use the caustic hair tonic mentioned in another paragraph, as it is a splendid tonic in all scalp and hair troubles.

May. Stop using face powders and try this "liquid powder" for that shiny look and your complexion will soon resume its natural healthy tint. Dissolve four ounces of spumax in one-half pint hot water, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, shake well and let cool. This applied to the skin's surface after washing clear and cleanses it and gives it a pink and white glow not obtainable with powder or rouge. Any druggist can supply spumax, and it is inexpensive.

Hermes. Face lotions will not rid your face of its pimples and liver spots. This condition is caused through impurities in the blood finding their way to the skin's surface. What you require is a blood purifier and system tonic, and if you will prepare this inexpensive recipe, the skin will become clear and you will feel much better. Get an ounce of karsolin from your druggist and dissolve in one-half pint alcohol, adding one-half cup sugar, then heat water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and in a few days you will see the results.

an ounce of almond oil in a half-pint of cold water, add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine, stir well and let stand for a few hours. Nightly massaging with this almond cream fully softens the skin and removes blackheads, while its continued use will give to the skin the perfect glow of youthful health. You will find almond oil inexpensive and any druggist can supply it.

Maxine. Your thin, straggly falling hair with dandruff is due to a starved condition of the hair follicles, and unless soon looked after will be a serious matter. You can make an excellent and inexpensive hair tonic at home if you get an ounce of quinine from the druggist and dissolve it in one-half pint of water. This makes a full pint of excellent tonic for the hair, and a few careful treatments of the scalp with this brings back the silky lustre to the hair and promotes a luxuriant growth.

J. V. M. You are right in saying that dull, listless eyes detract from womanly beauty. The burning sensation which you speak does not call for eye-glasses, but rather an eye tonic. If you make up the following simple and inexpensive eye lotion you will find it a splendid remedy. Get a half-ounce of crystals from the drug store and dissolve in a pint of warm water. One or two drops of this harmless liquid in each eye will strengthen the eye muscles and renew the sparkle to the eye.

ALMOST A RIOT

At a Special Town Meeting in North Attleboro

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Jan. 17.—When a couple of business men tried to push a $50,000 railway appropriation through a special town meeting last night a near riot broke out among several hundred citizens which was quelled only by the arrival of the police.

During the excitement several prominent citizens were roughly handled, and the possession of the hall, and scenes never before witnessed in local town meetings were enacted.

At the height of the confusion several hundred workmen lined on one side of the hall hooped and jeered representatives of the business, and their friends lined opposite them until a riot threatened and Selectman John Devlin called for the police to restore order.

The meeting had been called for the consideration of an appropriation of $50,000 asked by a faction which was in favor of the Boston & Providence interurban railway changing the location of its tracks from the filter beds to Cheever's corner, a point nearer the center of the town. The Rev. W. Henry Kling was elected moderator.

Immediately the question of the appropriation was submitted to the meeting, a strong opposition developed. The opposition claimed that if the railway wanted to change its location, the cost of the change should be borne by those to be benefited, the manufacturers.

Charles P. Paye and T. I. Smith, who had been elected to the committee, declared the motion carried. The vote was counted.

When the Rev. Mr. Kling attempted to have the vote counted the meeting broke away from his control and men climbed over tables and railings to get away from the voters their lives. Charges of graft and personalities were hurled and fast and finally when several hundred men had become so excited that the slightest provocation would have started a riot, a squad of police entered the hall and restored order.

The meeting adjourned until tonight when one of the bitterest fights in local political history is due.

MISS GRACE WILSON WITH THE SHEEHAN OPERA CO.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

It is to be deeply regretted that Joseph P. Sheehan, the American tenor, does not see fit to study the languages and join The Metropolitan Grand Opera company; surely they have no one who can excel him either vocally or artistically. Whether it is that Mr. Sheehan believes in making hay while the sun shines and refuses to abandon his own company at the height of its success, or whether he is sincere in his repeated statement, that his mother tongue is good enough for him, is immaterial; suffice it that were he in the Metropolitan company today, he would be classed with Tainigno, De Reske and Caruso. He is the only man I ever heard who sang the "Dilemma Pira" in the key it is written. Even the great artists I have mentioned had it put down from half to whole tone—Ede. De Lamer, Chicago, Record-Herald.

Mr. Sheehan and his excellent company come to the Opera House tonight for one performance of "Il Trovatore."

MARIE CAHILL

"Judy Fergot" is a remarkable musical comedy that ranks with the best of its kind, and Marie Cahill breaks all past records in making songs hit. Says the Boston Journal in reviewing Miss Cahill's latest musical comedy success which comes to the Lowell Opera House January 23.

The production will be seen here in its New York entirety including the famous "Judy" chorus of sixty young and pretty girls.

THE SOUL KISS

"The Soul Kiss," which had a run of three hundred nights at the New York theatre, New York, six months in Chicago, and three months in Boston, is a musical comedy that will never grow old, for love, comedy, and excellent musical numbers are elemental and undying. The story of "The Soul Kiss" is a simple one, but in it is woven so much of truth, humor, beautiful music, well executed song and dance numbers, and comedy situations, that it makes an evening's entertainment of high order. It is to be given an excellent presentation in a company of sixty people at the Opera House on Tuesday, Jan. 24.

AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS

Apparently the Sunny South has afforded more than its share of material for the writers of fiction the past few years, as the majority of the most popular novels and plays contain a Southern atmosphere which continually appeals to the general public. "At the Old Cross Roads" with its scenes laid in the vicinity of Matchez, Miss., is one of those pleasing stories of the South in which the strong dramatic situations are blended with bright comedy lines, and the characters are taken from real life in that interesting district. The engagement of this well known play takes place at the Opera House soon. Manager Arthur C. Aisler has engaged a stronger cast than ever and while this is the tenth annual tour of the piece he has not allowed the production to deteriorate even in the slightest manner. Special scenery has been built this season.

THE CALLAN LAW

IS HELD TO BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Callan automobile law, which provides that a person who runs down another with an automobile must stop and give his name and address, is unconstitutional, according to a ruling of Justice Crain, made yesterday in dismissing the indictment against Edward L. Rosenheim, the young millionaire who was charged with speeding away after he ran down and killed Miss Grace Hough on the night of Aug. 18. Rosenheim was tried and acquitted on a charge of murder, but was promptly indicted again under the Callan law.

Justice Crain declares that this law is in violation of an article of the state constitution, commonly called the "bill of rights," which provides among other things "that no person shall be compelled to be a witness against himself in any criminal case."

RECIPROCITY NEGOTIATIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The reciprocity negotiations between the United States and Canada were reported last night to have made considerable progress since the conference began. It is believed that an understanding has been reached as to the main principles upon which changes in existing duties should be made. It is said that the work of the conference is rapidly nearing completion.

There will be no session of the commissioners today because Secretary Knox wishes to attend the regular cabinet meeting.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17.—The lower branch of the Washington legislature passed a resolution memorializing congress yesterday to throw open the Alaskan coal fields to immediate entry and development.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Hathaway's theatre in Shattuck street, which was closed during the early part of December, will be reopened the first of February. Repertoire will be put on instead of vaudeville, as heretofore, and a capable company, headed by Mr. Donald Meek, will present popular productions. Mr. Meek is well known in this city, where he has a host of friends. For two seasons he was with the Huntington-De Deyn Stock Co. of this city.

A BIG CONTRACT

England Gives It to a Boston Man

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The entire telephone system of England, which, with the beginning of next year is to become a part of the government post office department, is to be examined and appraised by Professor Dugald J. Jackson of the Institute of Technology, who leaves tomorrow on the Lusitania for a consultation with the postmaster general of England.

This, the most important commission of his kind ever given to any one man, has fallen to Professor Jackson in preference to all English or foreign experts on engineering, partly because of his work in advising the Chicago authorities about rates and franchises four years ago, and his intimacy with telephone affairs in Boston.

The English government is to take over all telephone lines; it does not now operate a transaction that will include over 1500 exchanges, 500,000 separate stations and $63,000,000 worth of stock.

Since 1880 the government has had the legal right to absorb the telephone systems, but has only acquired the toll lines. The expiration of the last outstanding franchise, on Dec. 31, 1911, gives the government the opportunity to complete its acquisition by taking over the local business of the companies or the alternative of building parallel lines.

Professor Jackson expects to return to America on February 7, to leave for England later in the year for an extended examination of the properties it is proposed to take over.

The valuation of the plants requires, from the government's point of view, the most expert technical knowledge of the telephone business, and in addition accurate knowledge and sound judgment as to the value for future use of telephone equipment, which varies greatly in age, technical character and fitness for service under modern conditions.

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LOWELL

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The government of the City of Lowell and the general management and control of all its affairs shall be vested in a municipal council, which shall be elected and shall exercise its powers in the manner hereinafter set forth, except, however, that the general management and control of the public schools of the city and of the property pertaining thereto, shall be vested in a school committee.

Section 2. The municipal council shall consist of five members, to wit: a mayor and four aldermen. The school committee shall consist of five members. All the above officers shall be elected at large by and from the qualified voters for terms of two years, unless it is otherwise provided in this act.

Section 3. The annual city election of the City of Lowell shall be held on the second Tuesday of December. Every special city election shall be held on a Tuesday.

Section 4. The municipal year shall begin at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of January, and shall continue until ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of the January next following.

Section 5. In the year nineteen hundred and twelve and every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election of said city a mayor, two aldermen, and two members of the school committee, for the term of the two municipal years next following such election. There shall also be elected at the said annual city election in the year nineteen hundred and eleven ten aldermen, and three members of the school committee, for the term of the two municipal years next following such election. In the year nineteen hundred and twelve and every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election two aldermen and three members of the school committee, for the term of the two municipal years next following such election.

Except as aforesaid, and as otherwise provided in this act, no city officer shall be elected at any city election.

The above mentioned officers shall be elected by and from the qualified voters of the city and may be residents of any part thereof.

Section 6. On the third Tuesday preceding every annual or special city election at which any officer mentioned in section two is to be elected, there shall be held a preliminary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for such offices as under the provisions of this act are to be held on and thereafter are to be held at such annual or special city election. The notice calling for the said preliminary election shall be issued at least forty days before the date of the city election. No special election for mayor or alderman shall be held until after the expiration of forty days from the calling of the preliminary election, which under the provisions of this act is to be held on the third Tuesday preceding such special election.

Section 7. At every preliminary election the polls shall be opened at twelve o'clock noon and shall not be closed before eight o'clock at night, and except as is otherwise provided in this act every such preliminary election shall be called by the same officers and held in the same manner as an annual city election. The polling places shall be designated, provided, and furnished, and official ballots, special ballots, ballot boxes, voting lists, specimen ballots, blank forms, apparatus and supplies shall be provided for every such preliminary election, of the same number and kind and in the same manner as at an annual city election, and the same election officers shall officiate as at an annual city election.

Thereupon the city clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed the ballots to be used at such preliminary election; and the ballots so prepared shall be the official ballots, and the only ballots that may be used at such preliminary election. Party Designations Abolished

Section 13. No ballots used at any annual or special city election, or at any preliminary election shall have printed thereon any party or political designation or mark; and there shall not be appended to the name of any candidate any party or political designation, mark, or anything showing how he was nominated, or indicating his views or opinions. On said ballots to be used at annual or special city elections, or at preliminary elections, blank spaces shall be left at the end of each list of candidates for the different offices equal to the number to be elected thereon, in which the voter may insert the name of any person not printed on the ballot for whom he desires to vote for such office, provided that such person is eligible for such office.

Section 14. The qualifications for voting at a preliminary election and at a city election shall be the same.

Section 15. The election officers shall immediately upon the closing of the polls at preliminary elections count the ballots and ascertain the number of votes cast in the polling places where they respectively officiate for each person for nomination for the office for which he was a candidate; and they shall forthwith make returns thereof to the city clerk upon blank forms to be furnished to them as in city elections.

Section 16. On the first day, not being Sunday or a legal holiday, following such preliminary election, the city clerk shall canvass said returns so received from the election officers, shall forthwith determine the results of said canvass, and shall forthwith cause the same to be published in one or more daily newspapers of said city.

Nominations

Section 17. The two persons receiving at a preliminary election the highest and second highest number of votes respectively, for any office shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at the annual or special city election for which such preliminary election was held; except that in case two or more persons receive the same number of votes and more votes than any other person for the same office, then said persons shall be the candidates as aforesaid whose names shall be printed on said official ballots. If two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at such annual or special city election, the several persons to a number equal to twice the number so to be elected to such office receiving at said preliminary election the highest number of votes, the second highest number of votes, and so on to the number to be nominated, shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at such annual or special city election. If, in order to obtain the requisite number of candidates for any office, it becomes necessary to take one of two or more persons having the same number of votes for the same office, then the names of all the aforesaid persons having the same number of votes for such office shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such annual or special city election, together with the names of all persons, if any, receiving a higher number of votes, for such office, even though it makes the number of candidates more than twice the number to be chosen to such office. No names of candidates shall be printed on said official ballots except as provided in this section and in section five-nine.

Section 18. No acceptance of a nomination made at a preliminary election shall be necessary for the validity of such nomination.

Section 19. At a city election other than the above described preliminary election, the person receiving the highest number of votes for an office shall be deemed and declared elected to such office; and if two or more persons are to be elected to the same office the several persons receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes, the second highest, and so on to the number to be chosen to such office, shall be deemed and declared to be elected; but persons receiving the same number of votes shall not be deemed to be elected if thereby a greater number would be elected than are by law to be chosen.

Section 20. The laws of the Commonwealth relating to annual city elections, special elections of city officers, special elections in cities, election officers, voting places for elections, election apparatus and blanks, calling and conduct of elections, manner of voting at elections, counting and counting of votes, elections, corrupt practices and penalties shall apply to all elections under this act, including preliminary elections, except as is otherwise provided herein.

municipal council. The municipal council shall be the judge of the election of its own members.

Section 22. The municipal council elected as aforesaid shall meet at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the first Monday of January in each year; and the members of said municipal council, whose terms of office then begin shall severally make oath before the city clerk, or any officer authorized to administer oaths, to perform faithfully the duties of their respective offices. The president of the municipal council shall be some member thereof other than the mayor. The organization of the municipal council shall take place as aforesaid, notwithstanding the absence, death, refusal to serve, or non-election of the mayor, or one or more of the four other members; provided, that at least three of the persons entitled to be members of the municipal council are present and make oath as aforesaid. Any person entitled to make the aforesaid oath, who was not present at the time fixed therefor, may make oath at any time thereafter.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of public safety, and the municipal council shall at such meeting, or soon thereafter as may be, designate by majority vote one alderman to be commissioner of finance; one to be commissioner of streets and highways; one to be commissioner of water works and fire protection; and one to be commissioner of public property and licenses; but such designations shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby.

In the absence of the mayor, the president of the municipal council shall preside, and in the absence of both, a chairman pro tempore shall be chosen. The city clerk shall be ex officio clerk of the municipal council, and shall keep records of its proceedings; but in case of his temporary absence, or in case of a vacancy in the office, the municipal council may elect by ballot a temporary clerk who shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of his duties and may act as clerk of the municipal council until a city clerk is chosen and qualified. All dues and votes of the municipal council involving the expenditure of fifty dollars or over shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered on the records. It shall vote by yeas and nays when that is practicable, and on the request of one member any vote shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered upon the records. The affirmative vote of at least three members shall be necessary for the passage of any order, ordinance, resolution or vote.

Section 25. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, without the approval of the mayor, all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, now do with such approval. The municipal

If the petition as originally filed or as supplemented, shall be certified by the city clerk to be sufficient, he shall present the same to the municipal council without delay, and the municipal council shall call the election so demanded, and shall fix a date for holding the same, which shall be not less than sixty nor more than seventy days after the date when the petition was presented by the city clerk to the municipal council. The municipal council shall make or cause to be made all arrangements for holding such election, and the same shall be held and conducted, returns thereof made, and the results thereof declared in all respects as in the case of other city elections. So far as applicable and except as otherwise herein provided, nominations hereunder shall be made without the intervention of a preliminary election by filing with the clerk at least ten days prior to said election a statement of candidacy accompanied by a petition, signed by a number of such voters equal to at least ten per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast for candidates for the office of mayor at the last preceding annual election at which a mayor was elected, which said statement of candidacy and petition shall be substantially in the form set out in section ten of this act, so far as the same is applicable, submitting the word "special" for the word "preliminary" in such statement and petition, and stating therein that such person is a candidate for election instead of nomination.

BOSTON'S MAYOR

Greatly Impressed With Tech's Plea

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—That Mayor Fitzgerald is favorably impressed with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's campaign for additional financial support by petitioning for a grant of $100,000 from the present legislature was made known last evening in his reply to President Richard C. Maclaurin's recent communication. "The mayor wrote in part as follows: 'I would be greatly pleased to see the Institute in Boston, if through the industry of its resources to meet the increased demands upon it, the institution of which you are president, should be obliged to remove to a location upon cheaper land outside the borders of the city. While I cannot at the present time pledge my support to the measure, yet, should I ever promise you money, I would make it the subject of my most careful consideration from both an educational and an economic standpoint.'"

"I do not need to remind you of course, that the proposed appropriation would involve an increased expenditure of $75,000 in the ten-year period, and that of this amount Boston would ultimately assume nearly $300,000. While this consideration, let it be said, is not a final objection, it is one which I am bound as the official representative for a careful administration of the city's finances to give due weight."

That complete state control of Technology would impose a tremendous burden upon the commonwealth, was the statement of President Maclaurin yesterday, in discussing the grant of $100,000 sought from the legislature. "At present the commonwealth exercises considerable jurisdiction over Technology," said President Maclaurin. "The official representatives of the commonwealth in the Technology corporation are the governor, the chief justice of the supreme court, and the commissioner of education. If the state wishes to make this institution a complete state institution, let it do so. But let it at the same time realize what this step means."

"Not only the annual running expenses at Technology would be thrown upon the commonwealth—something like $600,000 per annum—but the state would then be bound to build and develop the school in all its allied branches; if the high standard already reached is to be maintained. The Institute of Technology is not fearing complete state control for fear that it would be an excellent argument for the reduction of tuition fees and the corresponding diminution of the general income of the Institute. It is generally thought that all state institutions should offer a minimum tuition fee. This necessarily is not a bad thing, but let the state fully realize what it means."

"As we receive $250 a year tuition from each student and expend $470 a year upon their education, together with the grant of $25,000 from the state and the alumni fund, which is coming to an end this year, it is certain the institute cannot maintain its high standard of efficiency unless adequate financial support is forthcoming."

MARATHON DANCES

ARE BARRED BY THE MAYOR OF LYNN

LYNN, Jan. 17.—Marathon dances, which have suddenly attained great popularity in Lynn, will not be tolerated in the future by the police. Mayor Conery instructed the department yesterday to take steps to prevent any more marathons in local dance halls.

The mayor dropped in upon a marathon in Old Fellows hall Saturday night, and from what he saw he reluctantly formed a decision that marathons are not quite the proper amusement for Lynn dancers. The mayor had been told at a previous marathon that girls collapsed and required medical attention.

As public dances cannot be held without the sanction of the mayor, the latter possesses the authority to stop any more marathons by simply revoking the permits issued to persons who show any disposition to disregard the edict of the mayor.

ELECTION OF JUDGES

Carpenters' State Council Wants a Direct Vote

Resolutions to That Effect Were Adopted at Today's Session—President Hannigan Presented Gavel and "Mallet"—Grand Open Meeting Tonight

The state council of union carpenters of Massachusetts in semi-annual session in this city this morning declared itself in favor of the election of the judges by direct vote of the people by adopting resolutions submitted by the committee on resolutions concerning the imprisonment in Kansas of one Frank D. Warren of Concord, N. H., and calling for the direct election of the judges in the interest of the working people of America.

The resolutions came up with others from the resolution committee though the others all dealt with matters pertaining to the craft.

This morning's session was graced by the presence of Brother J. Gerhardt representing the New York state council, R. B. Scott of Newport, R. I., president of the Rhode Island state council, and F. C. Willis of Hartford, Conn., president of the Connecticut state council. All will be speakers at the big open meeting and smoke talk to be held this evening in Carpenters' hall, to which all carpenters, whether organized or not, are cordially invited.

Today's session was opened at 9 o'clock by President Hannigan and the visiting brothers upon their arrival were introduced and all three made brief remarks.

After the early business Bro. Thos. Beano of Boston obtained the floor and in a neat speech presented President Hannigan a beautiful gavel suitably inscribed from the carpenters and painters of Boston.

President Hannigan responded gracefully. Then President Scott in a humorous speech presented Pres. Hannigan, a monster mallet of solid oak inscribed: "Presented to President Hannigan at Lowell by the Rhode Island council. May he use it judiciously." The mallet made a tremendous hit both ways for President Hannigan in accepting it gave it a resounding thump on the rostrum that could be heard across Merrimack street.

The mill problem was further considered during the morning session as were several communications relative to the craft.

This afternoon action will be taken upon the place of the next meeting and the election of officers may come up, though it is probable that the election will go over until tomorrow as some of the visitors will give the afternoon to sightseeing.

The open meeting will be held in Carpenters' hall at 8 this evening. It will be opened by C. P. Monahan, president of the local council, and besides the visiting officers there will be remarks by the state officers and local men both in and out of the craft. An entertainment will be given. The closing session will be held tomorrow.

AN EX-PAUPER BUBONIC PLAGUE

Must Pay His Board Is Causing 150 Deaths Daily

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—When Granville F. Lombard, formerly of 203 Salem street, Malden, penniless nine years ago, fell into consumption, his mother, worth thousands of dollars, turned him from her door. As a pauper he applied for aid from the city of Malden and was sent to Rutland for a long period, at an alleged expense to the city of $1000.

After his mother died, late in 1909, and left him $17,000, mostly in cash, which she had hidden in her clothes and under carpets, the city of Malden sent him a bill for what it claimed it had spent on him.

It was not until yesterday that the city obtained a decree from a court for the sum. Judge Sweetser, sitting as auditor in the suit of the city against Lombard, yesterday awarded the city that amount.

His father was Charles Lombard, a real estate broker, who when he died left his wife 40 houses on Baker Hill. She converted most of them into cash, some of which she invested in a bank and the rest she hid in the house.

Lombard became a pauper in the Back Bay and earned some money but at an early age he caught consumption and spent time and money in travel. When he returned penniless and sicker than ever he called at his mother's home, but she went away visiting and he was turned away. This was in 1901.

Lombard was admitted to the Malden almshouse but became so ill that he was sent to the Rutland state sanitarium.

Five years ago the city sued his mother for his support up to that time. She paid nearly $1000 and then put the rest of her real estate into cash. After that the city was unable to collect from her.

Lombard is now living with his wife and five children in Hubbardston. Just across the Princeton line. Two of his children are in the almshouse and he lives in what appears to be extreme poverty.

No one seems to know what has become of the $17,000 left him by his mother.

FAMILIES FLED

Driven From Homes by Fire

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Six families, including 20 persons, were driven out into the bitter cold when the big double apartment house at Broadway and Pleasant street, Roxbury, took fire last night. The building is three stories in height, with stores on the ground floor and dwellings above and is owned by former Senator Alfred S. Hall. It is known as Hale's block.

On the ground floor is the drug store of Chas. R. Stevens, the printing office of the Revere Journal, owned by Ernest H. Pierce, and the grocery store of James Melley. The fire, which started in the basement of the drug store, was discovered about 9.15. The thick smoke filled the halls of the apartments above and the police ordered all the occupants to leave the building. They stood shivering in the zero weather for a time, until they were taken to the police station for shelter.

The fire worked its way through the partitions as far as the second story and compelled the firemen to cut holes in the walls in a number of places. After a two-hour fight it was extinguished. The cellars were filled with water. The loss on the building will be about $2800; on the contents of the drug store $1000, and $500 on the printing office and grocery store.

The families living in the building were those of Edward F. Labonte, John Smith, plumbing inspector of the town, Philip H. Hastings, William A. Brown, John Warnock and William Hubbard. They all returned after the fire was extinguished, as their furniture had not been injured.

Here is a treatment which promptly cleans, soothes, and heals the mucous passages, while destroying all the putrid, slimy matter and preventing its further formation. Obtain of any well-stocked drugist two ounces of antiseptic vialine powder. Use a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water. Snuff up into the nostrils six or eight times. Use two or three times daily and catarrh will vanish. Gives a delightfully clear feeling and makes breathing easy. Also stops the following splendid catarrh balm to the nostrils. There was once a playwright who sat in the front row at the first night of a new piece of his own. This piece failed. It failed dreadfully. As the playwright sat, pale and sad, amid the hisses, a woman behind him leaned forward and said:

"Excuse me, sir; but, knowing you to be the author of the play, I took the liberty at the beginning of the performance of snipping off a lock of your hair. Allow me now to return it to you."

WHEN THE PATIENT QUIT.

"The Doctor—You don't feel any better? Well, how's that? Have you done what I said and taken plenty of animal food?"

"Farmer—Yes, doctor, but I'll have to drop it. I managed middlin' well with the oats and corn and done a bit at split beans, but the chopped hay—that was too much. Animal food don't suit me."

LODGE WINS SENATE

SENIOR SENATOR

Had the Votes of 24 Senators on the First Ballot

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—In each branch of the state legislature today ballots were cast for the choice of a successor in the United States senate of Henry Cabot Lodge, who for 18 years has represented Massachusetts in the national senate.

The closeness of the contest, especially in the house, as shown by the non-attendance yesterday of more than a score of republicans at the party caucus, drew the greater part of the spectators to the galleries of the lower branch. It was generally admitted before the voting began that Mr. Lodge would secure a majority in the senate, where his supporters claimed 24 out of 40 votes. There were all sorts of rumors as to the attitude of the majority of 243 members of the house. Both sides expressed confidence. The anti-Lodge members, made up of members and insurgent republicans, were certain that the lower branch of the legislature would be denuded for some days. None of the opponents of Mr. Lodge, however, was willing to predict a definite outcome of the contest, nor were any of them optimistic regarding the chances of the democratic candidate, Sherman Whipple, a well known Boston lawyer. The senate was scheduled to begin balloting at 2:30 p. m. and the house a half hour later. In both branches the roll was called and each member rose in his seat and announced his choice for United States senator. Under the United States statutes the two houses meet in joint session at noon tomorrow when their journals are read and compared and if either branch has failed to make a selection a joint ballot is immediately taken. No nominating speeches are made.

In Massachusetts for 24 years the legislature has settled the senatorial question on the first day of balloting; the democrats usually joining the republicans in voting for the single senatorial candidate. At his first election in 1893 and his subsequent elections in 1899 and 1905 Mr. Lodge received the encouragement of a large majority of the members of both branches. The last contest was in 1887 when there were three candidates for the seat of Henry D. Daves. That struggle lasted several weeks and was finally settled by the re-election of Mr. Daves for a third term.

Whipple's Statement.
A few hours before the senate convened Sherman L. Whipple, the democratic candidate, issued the following statement:

"The principal interest in the present state campaign was the prevailing high price of the necessities of life. The democrats claimed that the prices were artificially maintained by trusts and combinations. This Senator Lodge repeatedly denied in his speeches. He asserted that these prices were the result of the natural laws of demand and supply, that similar high prices prevailed throughout the world, and that trusts and combinations were in no way responsible therefore.

"Yesterday morning it was announced that in Chicago millions of pounds of butter, eggs, cheese, and poultry had been held in storage warehouses for months and were to be thrown upon the market, that it was not possible long to sustain the artificial prices which had been so long maintained. Today there were intimations that the same thing is true in relation to beef and pork products and that prices which have been artificially maintained are to go lower.

"It is thus demonstrated that the contentions of the democrats in the last campaign was correct and that Senator Lodge was absolutely wrong in his statement. It now appears that while he was asserting from one end of the commonwealth to the other that the prevailing high prices of food were not artificially maintained by combinations and trusts these millions of pounds of food products were in cold storage in Chicago while the trusts which had engineered the corner were subjecting the people to exactions in prices which must have brought to them millions in profits.

"It is a dramatic coincidence indeed that upon the day of his nomination for re-election to the senate it is absolutely demonstrated that Senator Lodge's political utterances upon the public platforms in the last campaign are discredited and his political sagacity at fault."

The vote was taken at 2:30 p. m. Senator Roger Sherman Hoar, a democratic member from Concord first asked consideration of his bill providing for a popular vote on the question of Senator Lodge's successor but at the request of one of the other members of the senate the bill was laid on the table. The roll was then called.

Every member of the senate was in his seat and responded when his name was called.

The senate vote was:
Lodge, 24; Whipple, 14; Butler Ames, 2.

NIGHT EDITION

DUEL WITH PISTOLS

One Man Dead and Deputy Sheriff Badly Injured

TOPSHAM, Me., Jan. 17.—Single-handed, Deputy Sheriff John Ballou of Bath, a son of Sheriff John W. Ballou, who has served Sagadahoc county for 30 years, approached a mob of 30 ugly and drinking Italians who had just rescued a prisoner from himself and two other deputy sheriffs, and engaged in a duel with John Parri, one of the number, who advanced from the others as the deputy drew near. When they were within ten feet of each other Parri and Ballou both fired. The Italian was shot through the right side with a wound that brought death within a few minutes. As he fell he fired a second shot. One of these bullets struck the plucky deputy under the left eye, the bullet striking a glancing blow so that it followed the cheek bone through under the nose and along under the right eye, then turning and lodging about half way between the eye and ear. The wound was not considered dangerous although it was not certain from the hasty examination whether the eyesight would be affected.

Deputy Ballou was taken to the Bath hospital. The riot was quelled shortly afterward by two deputy sheriffs who had accompanied Deputy Ballou. The man arrested and afterwards rescued by his friends was Cerara Marriotti, the warrant charging him with illegal possession of intoxicating liquors. In rescuing him the Italians secured possession of Deputy Ballou's automatic revolver and it was with this weapon that Parri afterwards shot the deputy. Ballou shot the Italian with Deputy Purlington's revolver.

Deputy Ballou is about 40 years of age. Parri was 22.

ALLEGED THIEVES

Were Arrested by the Local Police Inspectors

It is Said That They Stole Plumbing Articles — They Were Arraigned Before Judge Fisher and Cases Were Continued Until Tomorrow

Fred Lamarche, John Lane and Michael Cassidy are occupying cells at the police station charged with larceny, and in their arrest the police are of the opinion that they have captured three members of an organized gang of thieves who have been stealing plumbing articles from local and out of town plumbing establishments.

Yesterday afternoon Inspector Martin Maher and Sergeant Alexander Duncan apprehended Lamarche and Lane in Merrimack street and upon searching them found three nickel plated faucets, each of the value of $1.75, on their persons. They claimed that they found the faucets on the street, but failed to explain why they tried to sell them at various plumbing establishments instead of turning them over to the police.

Both men were arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning and after entering pleas of not guilty stated they were ready for trial, but at the request of Deputy Downey the cases were continued till tomorrow. The police have not yet learned where the faucets were taken from and are anxious to find the owner before tomorrow morning.

This morning Inspector Maher arrested Cassidy in Middle street and when he appears in court tomorrow morning he will also be charged with larceny. It is alleged that he entered the store of Scott & O'Day last Friday afternoon, and representing that his boarding, unless wanted some plumbing articles secured a faucet and self-closing bowl cock. Yesterday the matter was reported to the police and as a result of an investigation Inspector Maher, it is alleged, found two faucets which Cassidy had pawned and subsequently located the articles secured at Scott & O'Day's in a pool room in Merrimack street.

It is also alleged that Cassidy went to the Thompson Hardware Co. and representing himself as being in the employ of C. I. Hood, got an automobile jack, which it is said he also disposed of.

BRAVE FIREMAN

DRAGGED A WOMAN FROM BURNING BUILDING

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Fireman Kavanaugh dragged Mrs. Mary Lally from her blazing room at No. 5313 Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, about 7 o'clock last evening. An oil stove had exploded and Mrs. Lally, who is 63 years old, could not help herself. She was badly burned before the fireman reached her. At the Norwegian hospital it is feared she cannot recover. Kavanaugh's hands were badly burned, but the fire did little damage to the house.

FOR SUPPORT OF WIFE AND FAMILY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Members of one of the clubs to which Horace Wylie, who disappeared a month ago with Mrs. Philip Hichborn, belonged, are discussing a letter which Wylie is reported to have left in a private box in one of the banks of Washington. The story is to the effect that in addition to a formal note to Mrs. Wylie, the envelope contained bonds to the amount of $15,000. The note was one of advice, stating that the writer believed that the sum would be sufficient for the support of the family for a reasonable time, at the end of which Mrs. Wylie could, if she chose, ask for a divorce.

IN FATAL ACCIDENT

He Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital, His Body Having Been Badly Crushed and Lacerated

John Connell, aged 26 years and residing at 35 Agawam street, was fatally injured while at work at the Waterhead mills in Lawrence street about 5:45 o'clock this morning as a result of being wound around a shafting.

Just how the accident occurred is not known for the officials of the mill refused to give any information to the press.

From what could be learned as a result of a roundabout investigation the young man was working about a machine when part of his clothing got caught in a belt and he was whirled around the shafting and thrown to the floor with great force, his legs being broken.

Little short of a panic prevailed among the operatives in the room, but several had the presence of mind to go to the assistance of the unfortunate man and finding him cut and torn and bleeding profusely from numerous wounds, summoned the ambulance. The ambulance made a hurried trip to the mill and from there to the hospital, where the doctors did everything in their power to save the man's life.

An examination showed that Connell's legs were mangled almost to pulp; he was suffering from internal injuries and had numerous abrasions and lacerations about the face, arms and body. A report was issued to the effect that the amputation of both his lower limbs would be the only thing that could possibly save the young man's life, but little hope was entertained for his recovery as it was plain that his entire body was crushed.

He gradually grew weaker and passed away about eight o'clock.

The young man was conscious until within a short time before his death and his case excited the deepest sympathy of the sisters and the doctors at the hospital. He showed the greatest fortitude. His friends are overcome with grief at his sad fate.

As the Schenk Poisoning Case Proceeds—Reporter Barred

Chauffeur Who Drove Mrs. Schenk's Auto to be Called— Doctors Give Result of Chemi- cal Analysis—Other Testimony

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 17.—With the resumption of the Schenk case this morning, in which Mrs. Laura F. Schenk is charged with attempting to poison her husband, John O. Schenk, the chauffeur of the Schenks, who is alleged to have driven Mrs. Schenk on a number of occasions with a man other than her husband, was expected to be called as the first witness for the state. Witness heretofore called have testified that Lundy Wilson, the chauffeur, was present on occasions that both defense and state have announced would be inquired into further.

Wilson is expected to substantiate the story told by Daniel Phillips, who on the stand last Friday, stated that he had taken frequent automobile rides with Mrs. Schenk at night and that Wilson was the driver of the machine. Other witnesses expected to be called today are Dr. J. E. Burns, one of the physicians who made blood tests to ascertain if Schenk was really suffering from arsenical poisoning. Dr. Gregory Akerman also was expected to be called today. His appearance at this time is for cross-examination by the defense. Prosecuting Attorney Handan late last night took an unexpected action in summoning a deputy sheriff to hold before him a reporter on a Pittsburgh newspaper, whom he charged with sending out erroneous reports of the trial. The sheriff was notified that he would be barred from the courtroom during the remaining days of the trial.

BANK IS CLOSED

Stories Led to a Run on the Institution

DEXTER, Me., Jan. 17.—The Dexter Savings bank closed its doors at 10 a. m. today. The closing follows a run. President Arthur P. Abbott attributed the run to stories circulated that were wholly without foundation. The closing of the Dexter Savings bank, together with that of the Dexter branch of the Waterville Trust Co. about two years ago, leaves this town with only a single bank. Many of the depositors are mill operatives and children and the total deposits are upwards of $400,000.

The annual statement of the bank, issued a few days ago, showed total assets of $429,459 and amount due depositors including dividends to date $408,272.

The bank was organized in 1867 and the present officers are:

President, Arthur P. Abbott; vice-president, Charles H. Haynes; treasurer, Wesley Hughes; trustees, A. P. Abbott, C. H. Haynes, and Amos Spring.

President Abbott, in a statement, said:

"After talking the matter over with the bank commissioner, the decision was reached that the closing of the doors was the best thing that could be done. Everything within the power of the bank people has been done to stop the run and to reassure the depositors. Owing largely to the fact that the failure of the Waterville Trust Co. two years ago and the closing of its branch here struck many people in this section a hard blow it was impossible to stem the tide of depositors who were clamoring for their money. Realizing that a continuance of the run meant the disposal of their stocks and bonds in a low market it became necessary for the officials of the institution to take immediate steps. The bank commissioner, therefore, was consulted, the situation laid before him and it was decided that the best move was to close the doors and thus allow the bank to dispose of its holdings on a stranger market."

President Abbott stated that a few days ago he went very carefully over the books of the institution for 18 years back and found that the bank today is in better condition than at any time in that period.

He also stated that there is absolutely no suspicion of mismanagement and that the closing of the bank was unavoidable. The closing caused no noticeable excitement up to noon.

LIPPITT LEADS

In Senatorial Fight in Rhode Island

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 17.—Both senate and house were packed to their capacity with members and spectators when the roll call was taken. In the senate every member was present to respond to his name and there was only one absentee from the house, Representative Whipple of Pawtucket, a Lippitt man, who, it was announced, was there on his way to the capital. In the senate, Phillips Wilbour of Little Compton in a ten minute speech placed in nomination the name of Mr. Lippitt, the seconding speech being made by Edwin E. Arnold of Coventry. Both speakers paid enthusiastic tribute to the ability and the accomplishments of Senator Aldrich.

The name of Mr. Lippitt was presented in the house by Ambrose Kennedy of Providence with a seconding speech by Stephen B. Marsh of Pawtucket.

Lippitt secured a bare majority of votes in the senate, the vote being:

Number of votes cast, 33; necessary for a choice 20; Brown 11, Colt 7, Lippitt 20.

LIPPITT WILL WIN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 17.—Although there was no choice for senator in balloting in both branches of the legislature today, Henry S. Lippitt will be elected as the successor of Nelson W. Aldrich tomorrow, provided that the vote tomorrow remains the same as that of today.

Today it is necessary for the successful candidate to have a majority in both branches of the legislature, and Mr. Lippitt failed to get a majority in the house by one vote, while he did have a majority in the senate. Tomorrow, when the legislature meets in joint convention, it will be necessary for the successful candidate to have a majority of the joint assembly, which

May be Lost by the Fire Dept.

One of the horses recently purchased for Engine Co. No. 5, in Pawtucketville, and considered one of the best horses in the department fell yesterday afternoon while attached to the exercising wagon and its condition is such at the present time that it is doubtful if it will ever be able to respond to another alarm. The animal is suffering from what is known as "black water," a sort of paralysis, and few horses ever recover. Those that do are never worth much afterwards.

When "Zeb" and "Charlie," the two horses attached to the Pawtucketville engine, became unfit for fire service and were relegated to the city farm to pass the remainder of their lives, two new horses were purchased. Of the two purchased the one which was taken ill yesterday was the more valuable.

He was the center horse of the three which pull the heavy engine and has done excellent work during the short time he has been in the department.

Yesterday while out exercising the animal without any intimation that it was ill or suffering, fell to the street and all efforts to raise him were without avail. A large horse drey was secured and the horse after being placed on it was taken to Dr. Sparks' stable in Worthen street where it is now undergoing treatment.

CONTESTS OVER WILLS

But They Were Allowed by Judge McIntire Today

The will of the late George W. Poore was admitted by Judge McIntire in the probate court session this morning. All of the deceased's property, excepting a little personal property, was bequeathed to the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C.

The late George W. Poore made a will on Feb. 2, 1910, but revoked it by the making of a last will on May 1910, which latter will is the one admitted today. This will was contested by Attorney Frederick J. White, of Somerville, in behalf of John Edwin Poore, of Philadelphia, a brother of the deceased. Attorney Frank E. Dunbar also contested the will in behalf of a half sister of the deceased, Mary L. Cheever, of Lowell.

Judge McIntire allowed the will and the contestants entered an appeal. Pending the appeal, Judge McIntire appointed John J. Pickman who was named executor of the will, special administrator of the estate. John J. Harvey represented the will.

The will of the late Margaret Finnegan was also allowed by Judge Mc-Intire this morning. The will was represented by Riley & Kerwin.

The deceased, who owned considerable property in the vicinity of Gerham street, bequeathed this property to her three nieces and her nephew.

A sister of the deceased, Mrs. Max Sweeney, of Los Angeles, Cal., contested the will through her attorneys, Farley & Tierney. After summing up the testimony the judge allowed the will.

In the Senatorial Fight in New York

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The race for the United States senatorship was still open this morning. Without denying that the majority vote he received at last night's democratic caucus gave William F. Sheehan a nominal advantage, his opponents declared that he was no nearer a return than before the caucus met. If all the democrats who attended last night's caucus, by its action Mr. Sheehan was sure of 91 votes in both houses today. There are 201 members. For election the successful candidate for United States senator must have a majority of all those present and voting. Unless Mr. Sheehan could capture ten more votes from among the 25 democrats who bolted the caucus, making his total 101, or enough legislators absented themselves from today's session to reduce the number required for a choice, the election would remain deadlocked. Through the caucus action last night, which was made unanimous, the republicans were pledged to vote for Senator Chauncey M. Depew. No fear by members would actively interfere with the majority's fight but in a sense the republicans were factors in the situation for any less than a full attendance of the minority would lessen the vote required for Mr. Sheehan's election. Although Edward M. Shepard and D. Cady Herrick were the only other candidates presented, the democratic caucus this did not prevent the nomination of any new candidate.

Mr. Shepard received 22 caucus votes and Judge Herrick seven. Even if all the 25 bolters voted for Shepard his strength would not equal Sheehan's. The members who refused to caucus, however, said that their action should not be construed primarily as a move in Mr. Shepard's favor nor yet exclusively as a protest against the election of Mr. Sheehan. Most of them declared that the principle they wished to enforce was that laid down by Gov. Dix in his public statement issued yesterday, namely, that they would submit to no coercion and would not permit the caucus decisions to limit their individual action. Twenty of these absentees signed an agreement to stick together on this proposition.

The Sheehan men this morning were working hardest among the remaining five bolters who did not sign the agreement of yesterday. The committee of twenty held an informal conference before the session today.

D. Cady Herrick said this morning:

"I am still a candidate."

A deadlock resulted from the first and only ballot taken today by the senate and assembly separately for United States senator. William F. Sheehan, who led the democratic candidates, received a total of 91 votes in both houses. Since 196 members voted, this number was eight less than the majority.

The first ballot for United States senator in the assembly gave Sheehan 68, Shepard 21, Parker 5, Herrick 1, Gerard 1, Littleton 1, Depew 20; absent 1.

The senate voted as follows:

Sheehan 23, Shepard 11, Herrick 1, Gerard 1, Littleton 1, Depew 20; absent 1.

BIG CELEBRATION

Democrats to Meet in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 17.—Baltimore was the gathering place today of prominent democrats from all sections of the country, invited to participate in the Jackson day celebration and the democratic victories of 1910. Governor Hiram of Ohio led the vanguard of incoming democrats. He was not at the train by a distinguished committee and escorted to the Belvidere house. A special train was run from Washington for the especial benefit of senators and representatives. The celebration proper included the afternoon meeting of the Lyric with Governor Harmon, Champ Clark and Senator Dacey as the speakers and the banquet at the Fifth regiment armory tonight. Gov. Foss of Massachusetts and one or two others who were expected at the banquet have been detained.

Stonewall harmony and a wise settlement of the tariff problem in the next congress were declared by Senator Bailey of Texas today before the democratic conference to be the controlling factors that would lead to democratic success in 1912.

"To me the face of the returns," he said, "is that our party can never hope to win a triumph worth celebrating in this splendid manner which does not include some achievement in the north as well as in the south and in the east as well as in the west. The blind guides who have, from time to time, urged their brothers of the north to repudiate the south and to seek assistance only in the west must regard the results of the election with amazement and chagrin, for the dullest of them cannot be insensible to the fact that had we followed their advice we would even now be in the shadow of defeat."

The speaker advocated a middle course in party progress, avoiding what are known as the "progressive" or "conservative" camps.

The democratic party believes in progress," he declared, "but it believes still more in safety and will never hazard the future of this country by rejecting what has been found to serve a noble purpose in a vain attempt to realize the iridescent dream of socialism."

The tariff received much attention at Mr. Bailey's hands. He prophesied that the republican predictions that revision of the tariff would wreck the undoing of democracy would be shown to be unfounded. Then he sketched briefly his own idea as to the manner in which the tariff should be revised.

"My rule would be this," he said, "Levy a duty on every article from the importation of which an appreciable amount of revenue can be realized and make the duty on each article as low as the necessities of the government will permit. The only exception I would make to this rule would be in favor of the necessities of life and so far as the government could dispense with the revenues from them I would place them on the free list."

CHAS. F. JOHNSON

Elected U. S. Senator From Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 17.—Charles F. Johnson of Waterville, a democrat, was elected a United States senator to succeed Eugene Hale, by the Maine legislature at noon today. Mr. Johnson received 107 votes and Frederick A. Powers of Houlton, republican, 67. In the house the vote was strictly on party lines, 55 to 58. In the senate it was 22 to 8 in favor of Mr. Johnson. Senator Chandler, under Washington, bolting his party and voting for Mr. Johnson.

BOND ISSUE AUTHORIZED

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The upstate public safety commission has authorized the Delaware & Hudson R. Co. to issue its first and four percent refunding and mortgage bonds to the par value of $7,000,000 to be sold at not less than 95. The proceeds are to be used for the discharge of notes in the amount of $4,400,000, and the balance for improvements and additions to its lines.

BOTH CONFIDENT

Colt and Lippitt Expect to Win at Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 17.—At a meeting both in the senate and in the house today will be selected the man who will succeed Nelson A. Aldrich in the United States senate when he concludes his 30 years' service in that body on March 11th next.

The vote today will settle at least the various and conflicting claims of the two most active candidates, Henry F. Lippitt and Judge Lebanon B. Colt, both republicans. The democrats seemed to be loyal to the last to their candidate, Judge Arthur Brown, who, without the aid of the republicans, has no chance of being elected. The legislature met at noon and up to that hour there was no change in the apparent confidence of each of the republican candidates.

The Colt leaders claim today that they also expected a five democratic vote on the first ballot. If their claims materialize a deadlock is probable. The Lippitt men, however, claim his election on the first ballot.

The vote today is taken separately in the senate and house and 71 votes are necessary to a choice. Whatever the outcome of the vote today the legislature will meet in joint ballot. Only one ballot can be taken today but should it fail to elect, the voting may be continued as often as desirable tomorrow and the following days. In 1907, when, at this time, three candidates were in the field, 61 ballots were taken without success, and no senator was elected until the next year when George Peabody Welcomes of Newport was chosen.

EIGHT MEN KILLED

On Board the United States Battleship Delaware

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Eight men were killed and one injured on the United States battleship Delaware en route from Cuba to Hampton Roads, according to a wireless message received by the navy department this afternoon. The dispatch stated that the men were burned by steam and that details of the accident would be telegraphed to the department when the vessel arrives at the Norfolk navy yard about 5 o'clock tonight.

The dead are:

Charles H. Harp, William M. White, Columbus P. Watts and Herbert A. Brower, all firemen; Lewis A. White and Clarence Dewitt, coal passers; Christian Jensen, water tender; and unknown man. Eugene Phillips, a fireman, was badly injured.

SKATING ON ROOF

Innovation in Sport in Front Street

The latest innovation in the skating line comes from Centralville and attracted the attention of many residents of that section this morning.

Jimmie Gray may have many attractions at Washington park, and Shedd park may also draw the bunch, but you have to tramp or ride to those places; to get your skating right at home is the thing, and the Polish residents of Front street are the lucky ones who have solved this problem.

There are a couple of flat roof buildings in Front street on the roofs of which the Polish residents have occurred within the past few days in Lowell, have combined to leave a fine slippery surface. This morning an inquisitive Polish boy residing in one of the blocks found his way up to the roof and there found a good place to skate and at the same time "mind the house," while the folks were at work. He returned and got his skates and soon was to be seen skating around the roof, circling around the chimney and going dangerously close to the edge and having a fine time for himself. Some of the neighbors' children saw the lone skater and in a short time the roofs were crowded with a shock as they saw the head-headed kiddos skating within a few inches of the edge of the roof, but the kids had the time of their lives.

MIND A BLANK

Man Wandered About for Six Weeks

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Gaston Ketcham, 52 years old, a wealthy real estate operator of Wassaic, Dutchess county, who disappeared inexplicably six weeks ago while visiting with his wife at the home of relatives in Haverhill, Mass., was found yesterday in Poughkeepsie by his half brother.

Mr. Ketcham's case is evidently one of amnesia. He came to his senses late Sunday afternoon when he was walking along Broadway in this city, near 35th street.

"It was like coming out of a dream," he said yesterday. "I suddenly realized who and where I was. I did not know where I had been, but possibly I have wandered into many cities."

When the sudden awakening restored Mr. Ketcham to an understanding of his situation and a realization of the anxiety which his absence must have caused his family and friends, he took a train to Poughkeepsie.

His first move on entering that city was to go to a bank where he has an account. He cashed a check. The cashier recognized him, and knowing of his mysterious disappearance, called Mr. Ketcham's half brother, Charles H. Ketcham, by telephone. The latter arrived at the bank a few minutes afterward. The long lost brother recognized him instantly, and the other relatives in different parts of the country were notified by wire.

When Mr. Ketcham went away he had about $200 in cash and wore valuable jewelry. He still has his jewelry, but he had but a few cents in his pocket when he reached Poughkeepsie. Ketcham was on a visit with his wife

FIRST REHEARSAL

Of Consolidated Bands of Musicians' Union

Judging from the results of the first rehearsal of the consolidated bands of the local Musicians' union held Sunday at the rooms of the union, the grand musical festival of the union will be a big success. The meeting was arranged by John J. Giblin, director of the Lowell Cadet band, and the rehearsal was under the direction of Mr. J. P. Burleigh, who volunteered his services until a director can be obtained.

The band rehearsed the overture to "Rienzi" by Wagner and the beautiful suite "Peer Gyn" by Grieg. These were followed by the ballet music from "Faust" by Gounod and the overture to "Lombard" by Verdi.

After the rehearsal the committee in charge of the affair met and discussed ways and means of covering the incidental preliminary expenses of such an undertaking. It was suggested that a social be held in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the expenses of the festival.

Many names have been suggested for conductor of the consolidated band, prominent among them being Prof. Emil Mollenhauer, leader of the Municipal band of Boston and Prof. Thornton D. Perkins, leader of the Perkins' Chronometric band of Boston and a composer of band music of note. Both of these men have had great success in directing great musical festivals and it is probable that one of the two will be engaged to conduct the Lowell festival and the members of the union hope that the public will appreciate their efforts to give them the biggest thing in the musical line offered in Lowell in a long time. The union expects to have 150 professional musicians on the stage at the festival. At the next rehearsal the overture to "Tannhauser" by Wagner and "Rosenmund" by Schubert will be played. It is expected that the full instrumental band will be present at the next meeting and will include all the many instruments used in the biggest bands.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

CHARLES H. HYDE

Says He Was Not in Conspiracy

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—City Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde returned to New York on the very night that the authority of the legislative investigating committee to examine him expired. The committee wanted Hyde to testify about sworn statements aiming to establish that he co-operated with August Belmont, Harry Payne Whitney, R. T. Wilson and other millionaires in raising a bribe fund to kill the anti race track bills at Albany in 1908. These men and others denied before the committee that they had participated in any bribery plot. Hyde, however, left the city and mysteriously disappeared for more than a month. Later he was discovered on a houseboat in Florida waters. He denies any one to show that he was in any conspiracy as alleged and says that New York city money was endangered by bank failures during his absence will not be lost. Hyde laughs and refuses to pay attention to demands that he resign and says he will continue to serve the city faithfully. Petition has been made to Mayor Gaynor to remove Hyde.

NAMES CONFUSED

STATE DEPARTMENT SUBJECTED TO SEVERE CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Through a curious transposition of names, the state department was recently subjected to severe criticism from Berlin for the alleged appointment of a person directly from civil life, which of course would be in violation of the principles of consular reform, for which Secretary Knox has been so earnestly working. It is reported that one Gabriel Hollis had been appointed consul general at Constantinople. As a matter of fact, the new consul general at that point is one of the veterans of the service, Gabriel B. Hendall, who has been consul at Beirut, where he is succeeded by W. S. Hollis, formerly consul at Dundee. It is evident that the two names were confused. The disposition of the state department to abide by the principle of promotion in filling these higher places in the consular service is manifested by the strong support it is giving to the bill recently introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Lowden of Illinois, the purpose of which is to give the force of statutory law to the present executive order which places the consular service on the basis of the merit system.

Old Ferncroft Inn at Danvers

Burned Today

It Was the Oldest in New England and Had Much Valuable Antique Furniture

DANVERS, Jan. 17.—Ferncroft Inn, the Middleton Colonial, hostelry, was burned to the ground early this morning. The fire started from an open fireplace in one of the parlors and burned rapidly to the upper floors. Fortunately there were few guests at the house at the time and the small force of employees was able to help them to places of safety before the fire assumed threatening proportions. The Danvers fire department was called out and found the water supply

FOUR AUTO BILLS TOWN MEETING

Filed by Automobile In Billerica Was Slimly Legal Association Attended

The Automobile Legal Association has filed four bills of interest to automobilists who operate in the state of Massachusetts.

The first is the so-called light bill, which would require every vehicle, on wheels, whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge to have attached to it a light of lights, which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and rear, during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle while upon any lighted street or highway, where street lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart or less, or to any other vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

This bill is in seven sections, the sixth section of which provides that for a violation of its provisions a fine not exceeding $5 may be imposed. The second bill is one which is designed to give not only automobilists, but all persons charged with misdemeanors punishable by a fine of not more than $25, the opportunity to appear by counsel, who may plead guilty or not guilty for the defendant without his being present, provided, that the person charged deposits with the clerk of the court before which he is summoned to appear, before 10 a. m. of the day upon which the summons is returnable the sum of $25, out of which the fine imposed may be taken and the balance returned to the attorney representing him.

This bill requires that a person taking advantage of this provision would have to execute a written power of attorney. The third bill tends to correct the present automobile laws in abolishing the minimum fine, but leaves the maximum fine as it is, so that if the court find a violation of the law to have been very slight and the consequences thereof to have been not serious enough to warrant a consideration, the court may impose a fine less than $10. The injustice of the present law, which requires, for instance, that a person who fails to blow his horn at an intersecting street must be fined at least $10 and not more than $25 for the first offense, has been commented upon by numerous judges of the district and municipal courts as a harsh law, which leaves the courts no alternative but to impose the fine of $10. The fourth bill is an amendment to the last clause of paragraph of section 1 of chapter 534 of acts of 1909, which defines "ways," so as to include private driveways, and the amendment is so framed as to permit an automobilist to pass a private driveway without stopping down to eight miles an hour and blowing his horn.

inadequate, making it impossible to save any part of the buildings. Only a few of the larger pieces of the inn's famous collection of antique furniture was saved. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The Ferncroft Inn was considered one of the oldest hotels in New England. It was built in 1679 to accommodate the stage coach travelers and has always been used as a hotel. A few years ago it was partially destroyed by fire, but since had been restored in its recent colonial design.

Less than forty people were in attendance at the special town meeting held in the town hall in Billerica last night for the purpose of hearing the report of the board of selectmen relative to the footbridge at the Fordway bridge and see what action the town would take in the matter. After considerable discussion pro and con the matter and submitted opinions from J. C. Worcester, an engineer of Boston, Mr. Shingel explained that the sum of $2000, available for the work of erecting a footbridge, was wholly inadequate, as the lowest bid received was $2662.

Relative to the bridge itself, the following letter from Engineer Worcester was read: "The present bridge was well designed for ordinary highway traffic, including light-weight electric cars. It is now in a fair state of preservation, with the exception that the floor beams are more or less weakened by corrosion, and one of the trusses has been seriously damaged, apparently by a collision with a derrick car. The wooden stringers supporting the electric car track are in bad shape and will have to be replaced before long, and it is evident that all parts of the wooden floor system will need renewal within a limited number of years."

The present weight of electric cars overstrains the floor of the trusses adjacent to the tracks. These trusses, however, would not be dangerous if the damage caused by the collision above referred to were properly repaired. The worst feature of the bridge as it now stands comes from the fact that it is too narrow to safely carry foot traffic. There are no sidewalks and there is no place for people to take refuge when the bridge is occupied by an electric car and vehicles in the road. Considering the fact that there are two cars every 15 minutes on the bridge, that the bridge is only 250 feet long, that autos going at high speed are a common occurrence, and that within 250 feet there is no refuge, it is obviously somewhat dangerous for foot passengers.

The pipe along the southern side of the highway bridge is in an extremely precarious condition on account of the brackets supporting the trusses at the piers and the easterly abutment being badly bent and liable to collapse at any time.

THE DELAWARE

WILL CARRY BODY OF LATE MINISTER CRUZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Because of the disablement of the battleship South Carolina by the loss of her propeller on her voyage across the Atlantic, the battleship Delaware will take the body of the late Minister Anibal Cruz to Chile. The Delaware already has left Guantanamo for Hampton Roads. The body, which is now here, will be transported from Washington to Hampton Roads on the Mayflower and there transferred to the Delaware. According to present arrangements, the Delaware will sail for Chile on January 31 by the Straits of Magellan.

$25,000 VERDICT

Returned by Jury in Essex Co. Court

SALEM, Jan. 17.—A verdict, about one-fiftieth of the amount sued for, was returned by a jury in the Essex county superior court today, when Stuart Browne of New York was awarded $25,000 after a hearing of his suit against Joseph H. Fitch, executor of the estate of John Burnham Brown, late of Ipswich, who died a year or two ago in Chicago. Browne claimed that Brown had agreed to purchase from the plaintiff stocks and bonds in New York Bunting company enterprises to the value of about a million and a half dollars, but that the agreement was not kept by Brown. Browne sued the executor of the Brown estate for $1,228,750 in an action of contract. This is the largest damage suit ever tried in Essex county, but the verdict of $25,000 falls far short of being the heaviest verdict awarded in the city.

FELL FROM A POLE

Peter Evans Had a Narrow Escape From Being Killed

He Dropped From a Pole in Chelmsford Street—Both His Arms Were Injured and His Face Was Badly Cut

Peter Evans, a young man employed as a huerman by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday afternoon as a result of falling from a telephone pole in Chelmsford street, Chelmsford.

The young man was working on one of the cross bars which is about 30 feet from the ground when he lost his hold and fell to the ground. In falling he had the presence of mind to extend his arms, and when he struck the ground he landed on his hands and then dropped in a heap.

He was picked up and placed on an electric car and brought to Morriam square where the ambulance was waiting for the car and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital. At the time of going to press the doctors at the hospital were unable to make a statement relative to the extent of his injuries other than both his arms were injured and he had abrasions about the face.

Evans resided at 134 Charles street.

Trustees Ask Legislature for $69,500 In Boxing Bouts on Wednesday Night

The board of trustees of the Lowell Textile school has asked the legislature for $69,500, $40,000 for maintenance and $29,500 for building and equipment. The bill was introduced in the legislature on Saturday, and James T. Smith, secretary of the board of trustees, said that the estimate was prepared in a hurry and that there would probably be a reduction in at least one item. The amount asked for this year is $4500 less than was allowed the school last year.

Recent results show that the boxing game is coming back to its own. The Reno tragedy seems to be passing from the minds of the fans. Everywhere throughout the country the outlook for the game is encouraging. In Boston recently one of the biggest crowds in the history of boxing in the Hub saw the battle between Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette.

This was a remarkable occurrence. It has been said repeatedly that two colored men would not draw. But the outpouring in Boston to see the run-

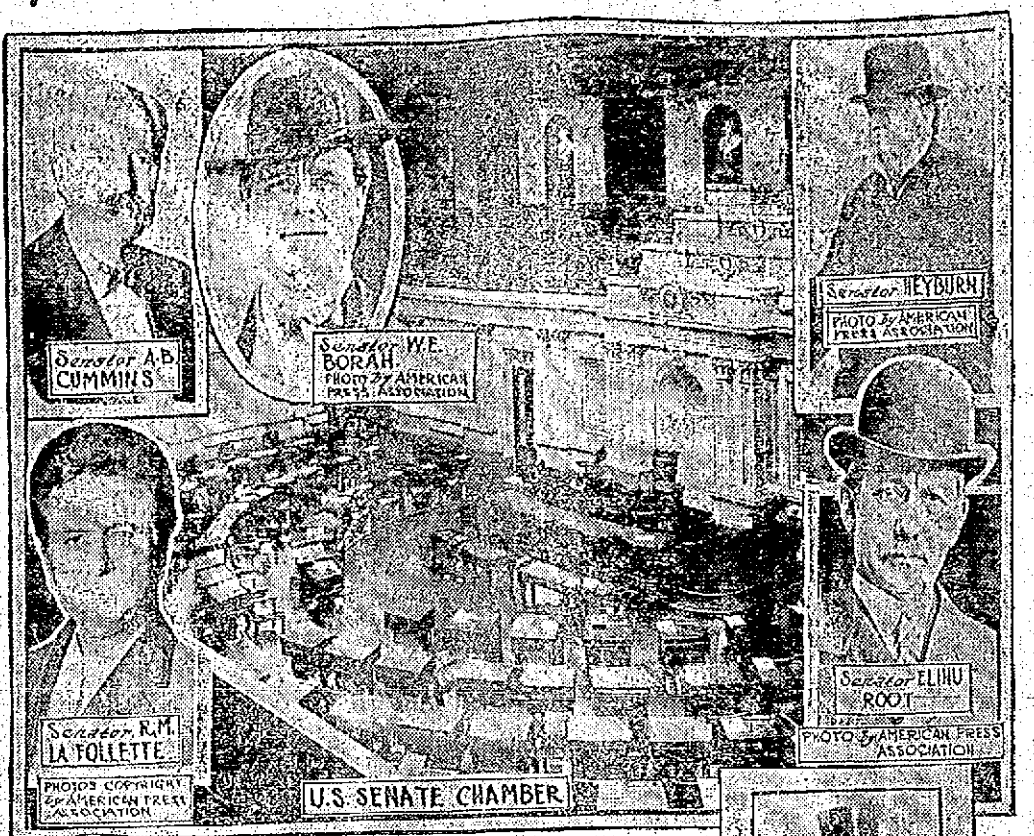

WOLGAST TO TRY OUT HIS ARM ON CHICAGO LIGHTWEIGHT

MILWAUKEE Jan. 17.—The Edglish sporting world and Freddie Welsh will have to wait awhile for Packy McFarland. The young Chicago boxer has more engagements than a front row chorus girl. Having just added Ad Wolgast, the champion lightweight, to his date book, McFarland doesn't care much about London, for a time at least. It seems strange, in view of the fact that Wolgast told Moran he wanted a trial bout to test his arm before putting his championship in jeopardy, that McFarland should get the match. Feb. 22 is the date set by the Star A. C. of this city for the Wolgast-McFarland affair. Packy has agreed to weigh 135 pounds at 7 o'clock on that night and is to get 35 per cent. of the gross receipts for his performance. It will be a ten round no decision fracas; but, as Packy naively explains, "There's no law against knocking out a champion in one of those no decision fights." McFarland's next bout will be with that tough customer, Young Erno, in Philadelphia, Jan. 26.

FIGHT FOR POPULAR ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS WAXES RED HOT AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Probably the chief topic of interest here in congressional circles is the battle over the subject of the election of United States senators by a popular vote. The warfare has become so bitter between the opposing sides in the upper house that talk of a prolonged filibuster on the part of the opponents of the proposition is becoming more and more frequently heard. Senator Heyburn, leader in opposition to the plan, for popular vote, threatens to tie up proceedings indefinitely if the backers of the movement secure enough votes to pass the resolution. The charge that the opponents of the change intended to stave off a vote until congress dies on March 3 is followed in the same breath by the threat of the advocates of popular election to hold up all other legislation until the amendment has been passed. This shows the spirit of the two sides, and when senatorial temper takes the form of delaying proceedings there is no telling when that body will get to business again. Senator Borah, who is in charge of the constitutional amendment, was prevented from fixing a date for a vote by the objection of his colleague, Mr. Heyburn. That objection was evidently expected. Mr. Borah at once announced that he understood the tactics of his opponents, but that he could assure them that if the vote were prevented on the constitutional amendment there would be very little legislation at all at this session. That means simply that the senate would find itself unable to appropriate money for the upkeep of the government. The most active workers in favor of the proposed amendment are Senators Borah, Cummins, La Follette, Bristow and Norris Brown. Leading opponents of it are Senators Heyburn,

THE ALPINE FIVE

Now Tied With Y.M.C.I. Quintot

The Alpines and Y. M. C. I. are now tied for first place in the Catholic league as a result of the former team winning three points from the Y. M. C. I. in the game played last night. Good scores were in order and while the Alpines besides taking all three points captured the total point, the game was close and exciting.

Coleman of the vanquished team put up an excellent game, having a single of 120 and a triple of 317, and Devlin of the winning team had a total of 300. Two other members of the Alpines came within three plus of the 300 mark.

The first game in the new minor league was played last night between the Y. P. S. and Rocklands, the former winning the three points. Six of the 15 strings rolled by the winning team were over the 100 mark, while the members of the losing team were able to reach the century mark but four times during the game.

The feature of the game was the consistent rolling of A. Severance of the winning team. His first string was 100, his second 105 and he got 110 in the third, with a total of 321.

The game between the Y. M. C. I. and St. Peter's teams in the Catholic league series resulted in the former team winning two of the three points, but the St. Peter's quintet secured the total point as a result of the high score put up in the first string.

GANLEY SIGNS UP

Lowell Player Goes Back to Newark Team

Some time ago it was reported in a local paper that Bob Ganley might be seen at the head of the Lowell team this year and his friends smiled at the statement for while Bob departed from the Class A to the class B teams it was no indication that he had become a has-been.

The best evidence that Bob will not head the Lowell team this year is the fact that this week he received and sent back a contract for the season from Joe McKinnity with an increase of salary accompanied by a letter from the contents of which it would seem likely that he may be running the team this year. Bob is keeping down to weight with pedestrianism and an occasional physical culture stunt at the K. of C. gym, and undoubtedly he will begin the season in perfect shape.

With last year's experience in mind Manager Gray of Lowell team is gathering his try-out players from points nearer home this year and will not spend a small fortune on uncertain propositions as he did last year. It will be recalled that he imported four players from California last year on fine recommendations and at a wholesale expenditure in transportation expenses only to find that not one of them was strong enough for the local grammar school league. Never again for James!

A number of well recommended players have been looked up thus far and every mother's son of them must show the manager that he has the goods, or home he goes.

Walter Foye goes back to the New London team at an increase of salary, and according to talk Jack Burns may sell him into faster company this season. Under the wise tutelage of Jack

Burns Walter improved greatly and quit the season in fast form.

Charles Mackenzie, the popular member of the school board, from Ward six is a pitcher who has shown some class and who has received an offer from a minor league team. Since entering the school board, however, Charlie may hesitate before leaving town to play ball.

SAM LANGFORD

HAD AN EASY TIME WITH FRED ATWATER

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Sam Langford of Boston last night made his last appearance in the ring before going to England, in the state armory here. Fred Atwater, another pugilist of color, who has stated his desire to some day meet Johnson, was Langford's opponent, and he proved to be out of Sam's class.

Langford is not as big as Atwater, but he toyed with him. Atwater was visibly nervous and failed to make good in the opening round. In the second round Langford dropped his hands and permitted Atwater to hit him three times.

Then he went after his opponent and had him going when the bell rang. The third round saw Langford cut loose, and he knocked Atwater down with a terrific wallop. The bout was stopped right there, for a continuance would have been cruelty.

BOBBY WALLACE

SAYS BALL PLAYERS SHOULD HAVE A LITTLE BOOK

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Bobby Wallace, the new manager of the St. Louis Americans, returned to St. Louis yesterday from his home in Milvale, Pa. Wallace does not believe in anti-drink clauses in the contracts of ball players.

"I think a little book every day helps ball players," said Bobby, "and if you try to shut it out entirely you are bound to offend some of them."

WASHINGTON SHOCKED AT DISCLOSURES IN BARRY CASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The sensational circumstances surrounding the resignation of Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet have aroused official Washington from top to bottom. It is stated here that for months officers on board the flagship West Virginia have been aware of serious allegations made against the rear admiral and have ostracized him. The charges were first made generally public in the San Francisco Chronicle. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beckman Winthrop states that Admiral Barry had retired voluntarily and that no charges had been filed against him. He denied any knowledge of special reasons whereby the admiral should retire at this particular time. Admiral Barry will be succeeded by Rear Admiral Channing Thomas as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. Admiral Thomas is now in command of the second division under Admiral Barry. Rear Admiral Barry, who succeeded Rear Admiral Gies B. Harber, U. S. N., as commander in chief of the Pacific fleet last fall, is a New Yorker born and bred and for many years has been one of the best known officers in the navy. He was born in New York, Oct. 20, 1843; his father being Garrett Robert Barry and his mother Sarah Agnes Grove Barry. He was educated at the Lespinasse school and St. Francis Xavier college, in New York, and at the United States Naval academy, Annapolis.

STATE OFFICERS

Were Guests of Stationary Engineers

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of local 355 of the International Union of Steam Engineers was held last night in its hall. Among the state officers present were President Fred W. Detheridge of Boston, Vice-President William E.

MRS. DANNIE MANN

Playing the "Little Role in 'Mandy Hawkins'" at the Merrimack Sq. Theatre

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The bill presented at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is one of the best the house has put on since its inception.

The real feature of the program is a little pastoral playlet presented by Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Mann and called "Mandy Hawkins." It is a dainty little play, rich in down East humor and dialect. Mrs. Mann plays the title role of the little girl in a way to win the heart of everyone in the audience, while Mr. Mann as the old farmer is excellent. Elaborate setting and unusual electrical effects depicting a typical country scene at the closing of the day, with the lighted windows of the church shining in the distance, from which comes the sound of the choir singing, respectively of the local of the Stationary Engineers union. John J. Mahoney, president of the Trades and Labor council, was also present. All the visitors addressed the meeting.

There was also an interesting musical program during which there were songs by Daniel Duffy, Michael Hilleberg, John Mutter, who also gave imitations of Harry Lauder, Brother Saxton and others. Light refreshments were served.

Archer and Carr have a singing and talking sketch which is unusual only in its excellence. One is a very charming comedy with a pleasing soprano voice, the other a young man with great ability as a comedian. They present a lot of laughable repartee and sing a number of new songs.

Gilbert Lasee, late of Lew Dockstader's minstrels, is billed as the "fashion plate comedian." He is a sure laugh maker with his stories and parodies on popular songs. Mr. Lasee is a wonderful singer equipped with a voice of remarkable range, which he can switch from soprano to deep bass. Harrington and Willard are making quite a hit with their illustrated songs, one a bass soloist and the other a baritone. They present a novel, offering that is well done.

The pictures presented yesterday were unusually good. A continuous performance will be presented every day this week from 10:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mann besides appearing in mid-afternoon and evening, also "come on" at 5:40, so that patrons are given every opportunity of seeing them.

Last night the theatre orchestra gave a pleasing concert of selections from the opera "L'Ancora."

MILK PROBLEM MAN ARRESTED

Discussed at Meeting Is Accused of Robbing a Friend

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The milk selling farmers of New England, with contractors and health officers discussed the milk problem under the auspices of the Boston Co-operative Milk Producing company at the American house last night, and concluded the day's work last night with resolutions upholding claims of the purity of the product and justifying the existing prices.

The resolutions offered by Prof. J. W. Sanborn, of Gilmanton, N. H., embraced the salient features of the addresses of the day. They declared the farmers were not, that tuberculosis had decreased at the same time the use of milk had increased, showing the product was not responsible for the increase in the disease claimed; that a Massachusetts legislative committee had found that Massachusetts farmers were raising milk without profit; that milk was not expensive, but comparatively cheaper than beef and other food products, and that, on the other hand, condensed milk was more costly and of more uncertain character.

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston told the milkmen that it was the opinion of men in authority that if Boston could secure a pure milk supply the death rate among children would be reduced 50 per cent in the city.

H. G. Deane of Grafton, N. H., made a plea for a return to the farm, and I. S. Whiting, W. A. Graustein and C. H. Flood, contractors, said the agitation had increased the burden of the farmer.

Dr. Mark Richardson, secretary of the state board of health, spoke on the inadequacy of present dairy inspection. The organization continued its meeting today for the election of officers and other business.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Julia M.: It is natural to grow heavy during cold weather months, but your weight is increasing too rapidly, and I would suggest a simple treatment which is splendid for taking off flesh. Get from your druggist four ounces of paronitis and dissolve in 1½ pints hot water. A tablespoonful of this before each meal will gradually take off the superfluous weight. This treatment is harmless, costs little and requires no starving, but you must be sure to get paronitis.

Elsie L.: It is unalluring for your sweetheart to chide you about the downy growth on your face, but if you follow these simple directions the hair can be easily removed. Buy an ounce of delatone from your druggist, mix a little with enough water to make a paste, and apply to the hairy surface. Let remain for two or three minutes, then rub off and wash the surface well. White delatone is a little expensive, one application usually does the work.

May: Stop using face powders and try this "liquid powder" for that shiny look and your complexion will soon resume its natural healthy tint. Dissolve four ounces of spirum in one-half pint hot water, and two teaspoonfuls glycerine, shake well and let cool. This applied to the skin's surface after washing cleans and cleanses it, and gives it a pink and white glow not obtainable with powder or rouge. Any druggist can supply spirum, and it is inexpensive.

Hermes: Face lotions will not rid your face of its pimples and liver spots. This condition is caused through impurities in the blood finding their way to the skin's surface. What you require is a blood cleanser and system tonic, and if you will prepare this invigorative recipe, the skin will become clear and you will feel much better. Get an ounce of karsene from your druggist and dissolve in one-half alcohol, adding one-half cup sugar, then hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and I'm sure you will find it excellent.

Bride: Here is a splendid recipe for a granule massage cream. Dissolve an ounce of almozoin in a half-pint of cold water and let stand for a few hours. Nightly massaging with this almozoin cream jelly softens the skin and removes blackheads, while its continued use will give to the face that perfect glow of youthful health. You will find almozoin inexpensive and any druggist can supply it.

Anna O.: The condition you describe is not eczema of the scalp, but is likely caused through using injurious soaps or shampoo mixtures, which have robbed the scalp of the sebaceous secretion necessary to keep it in a healthy condition. I am sure you can overcome this if you buy some canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough for one good shampoo, and although its cost is trifling, it stops itching and soon corrects the dry, scaly condition of the scalp. It would be advisable to use the quinzoin hair tonic, mentioned in another paragraph, as it is a splendid tonic in all scalp and hair troubles.

Maxine: Your thin, straggly, falling hair with dandruff is due to a starved condition of the hair follicles, and unless soon looked after will be a serious matter. You can make an excellent and inexpensive hair tonic at home if you get an ounce of quinzoin from the druggist and dissolve it in one-half pint alcohol, then add one-half pint of water. This makes a full pint of excellent tonic for the hair, and a few careful treatments of the scalp with this brings back the silky lustre to the hair and promotes a luxuriant growth.

J. V. M.: You are right in saying that dull, listless eyes detract from womanly beauty. The burning sensation of which you speak does not call for eye-glasses, but rather an eye tonic. If you make up the following simple and inexpensive eye lotion you will obtain quick relief. Get an ounce of crystals from the drug store and dissolve in a pint of warm water. One or two drops of this harmless liquid in each eye will strengthen the eye muscles and renew the sparkle to the eye.

ALMOST A RIOT

At a Special Town Meeting in North Attleboro

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Jan. 17.—When a coterie of business men tried to push a $200,000 railway appropriation article through a special town meeting last night a riot broke out among several hundred citizens which was quelled only by the arrival of the police.

During the excitement several prominent citizens were roughly handled, and the police were called to restore order. The meeting was adjourned until tonight, when one of the bitterest fights in local political history is due.

At the height of the confusion several hundred women lined on one side of the hall, and several men on the other, and the police were called to restore order. The meeting was adjourned until tonight, when one of the bitterest fights in local political history is due.

MISS GRACE WILSON WITH THE SHEEHAN OPERA CO.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

It is to be deeply regretted that Joseph F. Sheehan, the American tenor, does not see fit to study the languages and join The Metropolitan Grand Opera company, surely they have no one who can excel him either vocally or artistically. Whether it is that Mr. Sheehan believes in making hay while the sun shines and refuses to abandon his own company at the height of its success, or whether he is sincere in his oft-repeated statement, that his mother tongue is good enough for him, is immaterial; suffice it, that he would be classed with Tamagno, De Resque and Caruso. He is the only man I ever heard who sang the "Diquella Fira" in the key it is written. Even the great artists I have mentioned had it put down from him to whole tone. —Eric De Lamater, Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. Sheehan and his excellent company come to the Opera House tonight for one performance of "Il Trovatore."

MARIE CAHILL

"Judy Forgot" is a remarkable musical comedy that ranks with the best of its kind, and Marie Cahill, in all past records in making song hits, says the Boston Journal in reviewing Miss Cahill's latest musical comedy success which comes to the Lowell Opera House January 22.

The production will be seen here in its New York entirety including the famous "Judy" chorus of sixty young and pretty girls.

COLONIAL THEATRE

The show at the Colonial theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is one of the best of the season. There is an exceptionally good comedy sketch, that of Loring Paquette & Co., entitled "The Gibson Girl." Onthank and Bianchete, novelty acrobats, won great applause for their feat of jumping upstair on their heads. Others on the bill were Arthur Pippin, in a very clever musical act and the Child Sisters, in a neat singing and dancing specialty.

THEATRE VOYONS

The history of the great struggle between the North and South is full of romances in which Northern soldiers fell in love with Southern maids and this love resulted in many happy marriages. After the war the soldiers returned to their homes and found their wives had married other men. The Theatre Voyons, the feature dramatic picture is a true picture of life during the war and the story of the Southern girl and her Northern sweetheart. It is one of the best yet filmed. There are three comedies in the program and each a gem of its kind and sure to bring plenty of laughs. A novel and beautiful subject showing some very beautiful Swiss wood carving and a song program which features "Love Joe" sung by Charles Sturtevant complete a great show.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A capital show from beginning to end is that is being presented at the Academy for the first half of the week. The Lovitts are a pair of clever pantomime performers and have a real novelty act in this line. Hughes and Tiffany appear in a comedy act, "The Waller and the Maid," and introduce some funny sayings that will keep you laughing all through the acts, which includes several catchy songs. The feature act on the bill is presented by Francis Morse & Co., and is one that is out of the ordinary. It tells of the entrance of a Bowery girl into a stage carcer and the slung that is used by Miss Moore in the role of the Bowery belle is certainly very amusing. The bill is interspersed with the latest in motion pictures.

"THE SOUL KISS"

"The Soul Kiss," which had a run of three hundred nights at the New York theatre, New York, six months in Chicago, and three months in Boston, is a musical comedy that will never grow old, for love, comedy, and excellent musical numbers are elemental and undying. The story of "The Soul Kiss" is a simple one, but in it is woven so much of truth, humor, beautiful music, well executed song and dance numbers, and comedy situations, that it makes an evening's entertainment of high order. It is to be given an excellent presentation by a company of sixty people at the Opera House on Tuesday, Jan. 24.

"AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS."

Apparently the Sunny South has afforded more than its share of material for the writers of fiction the past few years, as the majority of the most popular novels and plays contain that Southern atmosphere, which continually appeals to the general public. "At the Old Cross Roads" with its scenes laid in the vicinity of Matchee, Miss., is one of those pleasing stories of the South in which the strong dramatic situations are blended with bright comedy lines, and the characters are taken from real life in that interesting district. The engagement of this well known play takes place at the Opera House, Manager Arthur G. Alston has engaged a stronger cast than ever, and while this is the tenth annual tour of the piece he has not allowed the production to deteriorate even in the slightest manner. Special scenery has been built this season.

THE CALLAN LAW

IS HELD TO BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The Callan automobile law, which provides that a person who runs down another with an automobile must stop and give his name and address, is unconstitutional, according to a ruling of Justice Crain, made yesterday in dismissing the indictment against Edward J. Rosenheim, the young millionaire who was charged with speeding away after he ran down and killed Miss Grace Hough on the night of Aug. 18. Rosenheim was tried and acquitted on a charge of murder, but was promptly indicted again under the Callan law.

Justice Crain declares that this law is in violation of an article of the state constitution, commonly called the "bill of rights," which provides among other things "that no person shall be compelled to be a witness against himself in any criminal case."

RECIPROCITY NEGOTIATIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The reciprocity negotiations between the United States and Canada were reported last night to have made considerable progress since the conference began. It is believed that an understanding has been reached as to the main principles upon which changes in existing duties should be made. It is said that the work of the conference is rapidly nearing completion.

There will be no session of the commissioners today because Secretary Knox wishes to attend the regular cabinet meeting.

TO OPEN COAL FIELDS

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17.—The lower branch of the Washington legislature passed a resolution memorializing congress yesterday to throw open the Alaskan coal fields to immediate entry and development.

Since 1850 the government has had the legal right to absorb the telephone systems, but has only acquired the toll lines. The expiration of the last outstanding franchise, on Dec. 31, 1911, gives the government the opportunity to complete its acquisition by taking over the local business of the companies, or the alternative of building parallel lines.

Professor Jackson expects to return to America on February 7, to leave for England later in the year for an extended examination of the properties it is proposed to take over.

The valuation of the plants requires, from the government's point of view, the most expert technical knowledge of the telephone business, and in addition accurate knowledge and sound judgment as to the value for future use of telephone equipment, which varies greatly in age, technical character and fitness for service under modern conditions.

Kenefick of this city, Secretary Albra W. Hersome of this city, and Treasurer Howard B. Swanson of Rockport, respectively of the local of the Stationary Engineers union. John J. Mahoney, president of the Trades and Labor council, was also present. All the visitors addressed the meeting.

There was also an interesting musical program during which there were songs by Daniel Duffy, Michael Hilleberg, John Mutter, who also gave imitations of Harry Lauder, Brother Saxton and others. Light refreshments were served.

A BIG CONTRACT

England Gives It to a Boston Man

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The entire telephone system of England, which, with the beginning of next year is to become a part of the government, post office department, is to be examined and appraised by Professor Donald C. Jackson of the Institute of Technology, who leaves tomorrow on the Lusitania for a consultation with the postmaster general of England.

This, the most important commission of his kind ever given to any one man, has fallen to Professor Jackson in preference to all English or foreign experts on engineering, partly because of his work in advising the Chicago authorities about rates and franchises four years ago, and his intimacy with telephone affairs in Boston.

The English government is to take over all telephone lines it does not now operate a transaction that will include over 1500 exchanges, 500,000 separate stations and $69,000,000 worth of stock.

Since 1850 the government has had the legal right to absorb the telephone systems, but has only acquired the toll lines. Herewith is printed the full text of the draft of the new city charter as approved by the citizens' committee of sixty, appointed by the board of trade and with the assistance of representatives of numerous organizations throughout the city. If enacted by the legislature it will be submitted to the people for adoption at a special election in October. Citizens should study it carefully, and keep this copy for future reference.

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LOWELL

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The government of the City of Lowell and the general management and control of all its affairs shall be vested in a municipal council, which shall be elected and shall exercise its powers in the manner herein-after set forth; except, however, that the general management and control of the public schools of the city and of the property pertaining thereto, shall be vested in a school committee.

Section 2. The municipal council shall consist of five members, to wit: a mayor and four aldermen. The school committee shall consist of five members. All the above officers shall be elected at large by and from the qualified voters for terms of two years, unless it is otherwise provided in this act.

Section 3. The annual city election of the City of Lowell shall be held on the second Tuesday of December. Every special city election shall be held on a Tuesday.

Section 4. The municipal year shall begin at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of January, and shall continue until ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of the January next following.

Section 5. In the year nineteen hundred and eleven and in every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election of said city a mayor, two aldermen, and two members of the school committee, for the term of the two municipal years next following such election. There shall also be elected at the said annual city election in the year nineteen hundred and eleven and in every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election two aldermen and three members of the school committee each for the term of the two municipal years next following such election.

Except as aforesaid and as otherwise provided in this act, no city officer shall be elected at any city election.

The above mentioned officers shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city and may be residents of any part thereof.

Section 6. On the third Tuesday preceding every annual or special city election at which any officer mentioned in section two is to be elected, there shall be held a preliminary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for such offices as under the provisions of this act or of any act in amendment thereof are to be filled at such annual or special city election. The notice calling for the said preliminary election shall be issued at least forty days before the date of the city election. Section 7. At every preliminary election the polls shall be opened at twelve o'clock noon and shall not be closed before eight o'clock at night, and except as is otherwise provided in this act, every such preliminary election shall be called by the same officers and held in the same manner as an annual city election. The polling places shall be designated, provided, and furnished, and official ballots, special ballots, ballot boxes, voting lists, specimen ballots, blank forms, apparatus and supplies shall be provided for every such preliminary election, of the same number and kind and in the same manner as at an annual city election, and the same election officers shall officiate as at an annual city election.

Section 8. Except as is provided in section fifty-nine there shall not be printed on the official ballots to be used at any annual or special city election of said city the name of any person as a candidate for mayor, alderman or member of the school committee, unless such person shall have been nominated for such office at a preliminary election held as provided in this act. Section 16. Section 17. The two persons receiving at a preliminary election the highest and second highest number of votes respectively, for any office, shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at the annual or special city election for which such preliminary election was held; except that in case two or more persons receive the same number of votes and more votes than any other person for the same office, then said persons shall be the candidates as aforesaid whose names shall be printed on said official ballots. If two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at such annual or special city election, the several persons to a number equal to twice the number so to be elected to such office receiving at said preliminary election the highest number of votes, the second highest number of votes, and so on to the number to be nominated; shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at such annual or special city election. If, in order to obtain the requisite number of candidates for any office, it becomes necessary to take one of two or more persons having the same number of votes for the same office, then the names of all the aforesaid persons having the same number of votes for such office shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such annual or special city election, together with the names of all persons, if any, receiving a higher number of votes for such office, even though it makes the number of candidates more than twice the number to be chosen to such office. No names of candidates shall be printed on said official ballots except as provided in this section and in section fifty-nine.

Section 18. No acceptance of a nomination made at a preliminary election shall be necessary for the validity of such nomination.

All final votes of the municipal council involving the expenditure of fifty dollars or over shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered on the records. It shall vote by yeas and nays when that is practicable and on the request of one member any vote shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered upon the records. The affirmative vote of at least three members shall be necessary for the passage of any order, ordinance, resolution or vote.

Powers of the Municipal Council

Section 25. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, without the approval of the mayor, all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, can now do with such approval. The municipal council shall determine the policies to be pursued and the work to be undertaken in each department, but each commissioner shall have full power to carry out the policies or have the work performed in his department, as directed by the municipal council. Any money, bonds or scrip which said city is authorized to issue shall be signed by its treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the municipal council.

Section 26. The municipal council shall have full supervision of the erection, alteration and repair of all public buildings, including school buildings, except repairs and alterations of school buildings for which provision is made in the annual appropriation. No department of the city and no corporation or person, shall at any time, open, dig up or otherwise obstruct any way or sidewalk, without the consent of the municipal council in writing previously obtained, except in case of an emergency.

Section 30. Upon vote of the municipal council the mayor shall sign, seal, execute and deliver in behalf of the city deeds and leases of land sold or leased by the city, and other agreements, contracts, leases, indentures, assurances, and instruments on behalf of the city, except as is otherwise provided herein.

Section 31. The mayor shall have no power of veto, and no measure which the municipal council shall make or pass shall be presented to him for, or shall require, his approval in order to be effective.

Section 32. Each of the five commissioners provided for in section twenty-two of this act shall annually submit to the municipal council in the month of January detailed estimates of the amounts deemed necessary for his respective department for the financial year, which shall begin on the first day of January. No sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose, and no expenditure shall be made or liability incurred by or in behalf of the city until the municipal council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability, together with all prior unpaid liabilities which are payable therefrom, except that after the expiration of the financial year and before the fifteenth day of March, upon vote of the municipal council, liabilities payable out of the regular appropriation may be incurred to an amount not exceeding one-sixth of the total appropriation made for similar purposes in the preceding year. At any time the unexpended balance of any sum appropriated for a specific purpose may be transferred to another account by vote of the municipal council, but no money raised by loan shall be transferred to any appropriation from income or taxes. Nothing herein contained shall be taken to prohibit the payment at any time of executions against the city. The school committee shall in the month of January of each year submit to the municipal council an estimate in detail of the amount deemed by it necessary to expend for its purposes during the financial year which shall begin on the first day of January.

Section 33. No officer of said city, except in the case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend intentionally, in any fiscal year, any sum in excess of the appropriation therefor duly made in accordance with law, and any officer who shall violate this provision shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All bonds shall be offered for sale in such a manner that the effect of the premiums, if any, shall be to reduce the total amount of bonds issued.

Monthly Statements to Be Published

Section 35. The commissioner of finance shall each month have printed in pamphlet form a detailed itemized statement of all cash receipts and expenditures of the city during the preceding month and of all bills and accounts owed by the city at the end of the preceding month, in such a manner as to show the gross monthly receipts and expense of each department, and shall furnish copies thereof to the public library, to the daily newspapers published in said city, and to persons who shall apply therefor at the office of the city clerk. The provisions of this section shall apply to the school department of the city, and the school committee shall furnish the commissioner of finance with such information, facts, figures and data as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section so far as it applies to the school department.

Criminal Offense to Participate in Contracts

Section 36. It shall be unlawful for a member of the municipal council or school committee or for any officer or employee of the city directly or indirectly to make a contract with the city, or to receive any commission, discount, bonus, gift, contribution or reward from, or any share in the profits of any person or corporation making or performing such a contract, unless such member, officer, or employee immediately upon learning of the existence of such contract or that such contract is proposed shall notify in writing the municipal council or school committee of such contract and shall abstain from doing any official act on behalf of the city in reference thereto. In case such interest exists on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such a contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by another officer of the city, duly authorized thereto by the mayor, or if the mayor has such interest, by the commissioner of finance. A violation of any provision of this section shall render the contract in respect to which such violation occurs voidable at the option of the city. Any

Three of its members shall constitute a quorum, and its meetings shall be public. All final votes of the school committee involving the expenditure of fifty dollars or over shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered on the records. The committee shall vote by yeas and nays when that is practicable, and on request of one member any vote shall be by yeas and nays, and shall be entered upon the records. The affirmative vote of at least three members shall be necessary for the passage of any ordinance or vote.

Section 52. The school committee shall meet for organization on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in January in each year, and on that day, or so soon thereafter as may be, shall elect from their members a chairman who shall, unless sooner removed, hold his office until the Tuesday next after the first Monday of the following January, or until his successor is elected and qualified. Section 55. No site for a school building shall be acquired by said city unless the approval of the site by the school committee is first obtained. No plans for the construction of or alterations in a school building shall be accepted, and no work shall be begun on the construction or alteration of a school building, unless the approval of the school committee is first obtained. Nothing herein contained shall require such approval for the making of ordinary repairs.

Vacancies

Section 56. If there be a vacancy, by failure to elect, or otherwise, in the municipal council, the council shall, by its remaining members, call a special city election to fill the vacancy or vacancies for the unexpired term, or terms, except that if such vacancy or vacancies occur within four calendar months prior to the annual city election, the municipal council shall, by its remaining members, fill such vacancy or vacancies.

(a) For the remainder of the unexpired term of office of any such vacancy or vacancies occur within sixty days prior to such annual election, or

(b) For the remainder of the municipal year if such vacancy or vacancies occur within four calendar months prior to such annual election, but not within sixty days prior to such municipal election. A person elected to fill any such vacancy shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath of office, and the clerk of justice of the peace faithfully to perform the same.

Section 57. Upon the death, resignation or absence of the mayor, or upon his inability to perform the duties of his office, the president of the municipal council shall perform them, and if he also is absent, or unable, from any cause to perform said duties, they shall be performed by such member of the municipal council as may, from time to time, elect, until the mayor or president of the municipal council is able to attend to said duties, or until the vacancy is filled, as hereinafter provided. The person upon whom such duties devolve shall be called "Acting Mayor," and except as is otherwise provided in this act, shall possess the powers of mayor, but only in matters not admitting of delay.

Section 58. If there is a vacancy in the school committee, by failure to elect or otherwise, the mayor shall call a joint convention of the municipal council and the school committee, at which the mayor, if present, shall preside, and the vacancy shall, by vote of a majority of all the members of the two bodies, be filled by the election of a member to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term, provided such vacancy occurs within four calendar months prior to the annual city election; otherwise for the remainder of the municipal year. At the next annual municipal election thereafter a member shall be elected by the qualified voters of the city, to serve for the remainder, if any, of the unexpired term, of the member whose office is vacant, provided such vacancy occurs more than sixty days prior to such annual municipal election.

Recall

Section 59. The holder of any elective office may be removed at any time by the voters qualified to vote at city elections, and the procedure to effect his removal shall be as follows:—A petition signed by a number of such voters equal to at least twenty per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast for candidates for mayor at the last preceding annual election, at which a mayor was elected, demanding that a successor to the person sought to be removed, shall be filed in the office of the city clerk. Such petition shall contain a general statement of the grounds upon which the removal is sought. It need not be on one paper, but may consist of several distinct papers, each containing the demand and substantially upon the same grounds, and all papers containing the said demand and statement, which in any one day, shall be filed at the office of the city clerk, shall be deemed parts of the same petition. Every signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the street and street number, if any. One signer of every such paper shall make oath, upon his information and belief, before a notary public, or justice of the peace, that the statements therein made are true, and that each signature to such paper is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be. Within ten days after the date of filing of such petition, the city clerk, with the assistance of the registrars of voters, shall examine the petition to ascertain whether or not it is signed by the requisite number of voters, as above prescribed, and shall attach to said petition this certificate, showing the result of his examination. If, from the city clerk's certificate the petition appears not to be signed by the requisite number of voters, it may be supplemented, within ten days after the date of such certificate, by other papers, signed and sworn to as aforesaid, and all other papers containing a like demand and statement, and signed and sworn to as aforesaid, shall be deemed supplemental to the original petition. The city clerk shall within ten days after the expiration of the time allowed for filing the supplementary petition make a like examination of such petition, if any is filed, and shall attach thereto a new certificate, and if it appears from such new certificate that the petition is still insufficient as to the number of signers as aforesaid it shall be returned to the person or persons filing the same, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. If the petition as originally filed or as supplemented, shall be certified by the city clerk to be sufficient, he shall present the same to the municipal council, without delay, and the municipal council shall call the election so demanded, and shall fix a date for holding the same, which shall be not less than sixty nor more than seventy days after the date when the petition was presented by the city clerk to the municipal council. The municipal council shall make or cause to be made all arrangements for holding such election, and the same shall be held and conducted, returns thereof made and filed, results thereof declared in all respects as in the case of other city elections. So far as applicable and except as otherwise herein provided, nominations hereunder shall be made without the intervention of a preliminary election, by filing with the clerk at least ten days prior to said election a statement of candidacy accompanied by a petition signed by a number of such voters equal to at least ten per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast for candidates for the office of mayor at the last preceding annual election at which a mayor was elected, which said statement of candidacy and petition shall be substantially in the form set out in section 61 of this act, so far as the same is applicable, submitting the word "special" for the word "preliminary" in such statement and petition, and stating therein that such person is a candidate for election instead of nomination.

The ballot for such special election shall be substantially the following form:—

OFFICIAL BALLOT

Special election for the balance of the unexpired term of

The successor of any person removed shall hold office during the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Any person sought to be removed may be a candidate at such election, and unless he request otherwise in writing the city clerk shall place his name on the official ballots without nomination. The person receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. If some person other than the incumbent receives the highest number of votes, the incumbent shall, thereupon, be deemed to be removed from office. In case a person other than the incumbent, receiving the highest number of votes shall fail to make oath before the city clerk or a justice of the peace, within thirty days after his election, faithfully to perform the duties of the office, the office shall be deemed vacant. If the incumbent receives the highest number of votes he shall continue in office until the expiration of the term for which he was serving at the time of such election, unless sooner removed therefrom by new and like proceedings. The name of no candidate other than the person sought to be removed, shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at such election, unless such candidates be nominated as hereinafter provided.

Initiative

Section 60. If a petition, signed by a number of the voters of said city, qualified to vote at city elections, equal to at least twenty per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast for candidates for mayor at the last preceding annual city election at which a mayor was elected, and requesting the municipal council to pass any measure therein set forth or referred to, shall be filed in the office of the city clerk, the municipal council, provided said measure be one which it has a legal right to pass, shall election, if one is so to be held, submit said measure without restriction to the voters of the city at the next annual city election.

The date of said election shall be fixed as provided by section fifty-nine.

If, however, a petition like the above described petition, and signed by a number of qualified voters equal to at least ten per cent but less than twenty per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast as aforesaid, is filed as aforesaid, the municipal council shall

(c) Pass the measure, therein set forth or referred to, without alteration, within twenty days after such attachment of the certificate of sufficiency, or

(d) Submit the same to the qualified voters of the city at the next annual city election.

The votes upon the said measure at an annual city election or at a special election shall be taken by ballot in answer to the question, "Shall the measure (stating the nature of the same) be passed?" which shall be printed on the ballots after the list of candidates of the qualified voters voting on the proposed measure shall vote. In favor thereof, it shall thereupon become a valid and binding measure of the city, and no such measure passed as aforesaid by the municipal council, upon petition as aforesaid, or which shall be adopted as aforesaid by any such annual city election or special election, shall be repealed or amended except by the qualified voters of the city at an annual city election or special election. Any number of measures requested by petition, as aforesaid, may be voted upon at the same election, in accordance with the provisions of this section. The municipal council may submit a proposition for the repeal of any such measure, or for amendment thereof, to be voted upon at any succeeding annual city election, and should such proposition as submitted receive a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election, the measure shall thereby be repealed or amended accordingly. The vote upon such repeal or amendment at the annual city election shall be taken by ballot in answer to the question, "Shall the measure (stating the nature of the same) be repealed or amended (stating the nature of the amendment)?" which shall be printed on the ballots after the list of candidates. If there be any, whenever any such measure or proposition is required by this act to be submitted at any election as aforesaid, the city clerk shall cause the same to be published once in each of the daily newspapers published in said city; such publication to be not more than twenty-four hours before the date of the election to be voted on. Petitions under the provisions of this section may consist of one or more distinct papers. In each of such papers the measure, the passage of which is requested, shall be set forth or referred to, and all signatures, examined, re-examined, presented to the municipal council, shall have the city clerk's certificate of sufficiency or insufficiency attached thereto, and may be supplemented, in such manner as may be provided under section fifty-nine. Any measure, passed under the provisions of this section by the municipal council, or by the voters, may prescribe such penalty for its violation as the municipal council, after this act takes effect, shall have a right to affix to a like measure for a breach thereof.

Section 61. If, during the ten days, or in case of the granting, renewal, or extension of any franchise or right to occupy or use the streets, highways, bridges or public places in the city, during the thirty days next following the passage of any measure by the municipal council, except an order, resolution, or vote for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, as provided in section twenty-seven of this act, a petition, signed by a number of voters of said city, qualified to vote at city elections, equal to at least fifteen per cent of the aggregate number of votes cast for candidates for mayor at the last preceding annual city election at which a mayor was elected, and protesting against the passage of such measure, shall be filed in the office of the city clerk, such measure shall be suspended from going into operation, and it shall be the duty of the municipal council to reconsider the same, and if it is not entirely repealed the municipal council shall submit it, as is provided in sub-division (b) of section sixty, qualified voters of the city, and the said measure shall not go into effect, or become operative unless a majority of the voters, qualified as aforesaid, voting on the same shall vote in favor thereof. The vote upon such a measure at an annual city election or special election shall be taken by ballot in answer to the question, "Shall the measure (stating the nature of the same) take effect?" which shall be printed on the ballot after the list of candidates. If there be any, whenever any such measure or proposition is required by this act to be submitted at any election as aforesaid, the city clerk shall cause the same to be published once in each of the daily newspapers published in said city; such publication to be not more than twenty-four hours before the date of the election to be voted on. Petitions under the provisions of this section may consist of one or more distinct papers. In each of such papers the measure, the passage of which is protested, shall be set forth or referred to, and all signatures, examined, re-examined, presented to the municipal council, shall have the city clerk's certificate of sufficiency or insufficiency attached thereto, and may be supplemented in the same manner as petitions filed under section fifty-nine.

Section 62. If it shall not be necessary for the validity of any petition, or statement provided for or required by the provisions of this act that any signer thereof add to his signature any residence other than the name of the street, and street number, if there be any, at which he resides at the time of signing.

BOSTON'S MAYOR

Greatly Impressed With Tech's Plea

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—That Mayor Fitzgerald is favorably impressed with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's campaign for additional financial support by petitioning for a grant of $100,000 from the present legislature was made known last evening in his reply to President Richard C. Mather's recent communication. The mayor wrote in part as follows: "It would certainly be a disservice to Boston, if, through the inadequacy of its resources to meet the increased demands upon it, the institution of which you are president should be obliged to remove to a location upon cheaper land outside the borders of the city. While I cannot at the present time pledge my support to the measure which you propose, I am most anxious to hear that the whole subject will be most carefully considered from both an educational and an economic standpoint."

"I do not need to remind you of course, that the proposed appropriation would involve an increased expenditure of $75,000 in the ten-year period, and that of this amount Boston would ultimately assume nearly $300,000. While the expenditure is so necessarily a fatal objection, it is one which I am bound as the official representative of a careful administration of the city's finances, to give due weight."

That complete state control of Technology would impose a tremendous burden upon the commonwealth, was the statement of President Mather in his letter to the mayor.

"At present the commonwealth exercises considerable jurisdiction over Technology," said President Mather. "The official representatives of the commonwealth in the Technology corporation are the governor, the chief justice of the supreme court, and the commissioner of education. The state issues 'commodore' letters to the Technology institution, letting it go. But let it at the same time realize what this step means."

"Not only the annual running expenses at Technology would be thrown upon the commonwealth—something like $500,000 per annum—but the state would then be bound to build and develop the school in all its allied branches, if the high standard of the institution is to be maintained. The Institute of Technology is not, fearing any state control, far from this. Complete state control of Technology would be an excellent argument for the reduction of tuition fees and the corresponding diminution of the general income of the institution. It is generally thought that all state institutions should offer a minimum tuition fee. This necessarily is not a bad scheme, but let the state fully realize what it means."

"As we receive $250 a year tuition from each student and expend $470 a year upon their education, together with the grant of $25,000 from the state and the alumni fund, which is coming to an end this year, it is certain the institute cannot maintain its high standard of efficiency unless adequate financial support is forthcoming."

MARATHON DANCES

ARE BARRED BY THE MAYOR OF LYNN

LYNN, Jan. 17.—Marathon dances, which have suddenly attained great popularity in Lynn, will not be tolerated in the future by the police. Mayor Connelly instructed the department yesterday to take steps to prevent any more marathons in its local dance halls.

The mayor dropped in upon a marathon in Odd Fellows hall, Saturday night, and from what he saw he quickly formed a decision, that marathons are not quite the proper amusement for Lynn dances. The mayor had been told at a previous marathon one girl collapsed and required medical attention. As public dances cannot be held without the sanction of the mayor, the latter possesses the authority to stop any more marathons by simply revoking the permits issued to persons who show any disposition to disregard the edict of the mayor.

THE COLD STORAGE EXTORTIONS

Considerable satisfaction will be felt over the country over the report that a number of commission men in Chicago have had to release about 44,000,000 pounds of butter, eggs and poultry held in cold storage in order to keep up an artificial price in these products. The holders have succeeded in keeping up the price for quite a while, it is true, but owing to the open winter and the sale of oleomargarine to people who could not afford to pay the price for butter, the point has been reached when the combine cannot keep up the exorbitant price any longer.

As a result there will be a crash in prices by which these conspirators will lose on their speculation. The amount stated above may be but a small portion of the total held in the thirty-two warehouses, some of which has been in the refrigerators for five years. This is a case of which the government should take cognizance. These people who try to corner the market by buying up the produce and storing it away in order to limit the supply should all be sent to jail. What is done with butter and eggs in this respect by the cold storage speculators is done with beef and pork by the meat trust. With all the combines at work, each in its own way striving to fleece the people, is it any wonder that prices are high and that poor people are suffering as a result of the extortion?

NASON'S BILL A MENACE TO LOWELL

Having devoted himself for a considerable time to the work of booming Hon. Bulter Ames for the United States senate, Senator Nason of Haverhill has again taken up his favorite scheme of appealing to the legislature for a law to prevent the pollution of the Merrimack river. He has a bill now before the legislature for this purpose, that if enacted would cost the city of Lowell $2,000,000 for a change of its sewerage system.

In view of the fact that the question of making the river navigable may soon be reopened, it would be well to let the present conditions remain until definite action be taken by the federal government in regard to deepening the river.

In view of the great intra-coastal canal, the Cape Cod canal, and the advantages to be derived from these new waterways by cities on the water front or connecting with it by a navigable river, the navigation of the Merrimack becomes a public necessity to all the cities of the Merrimack valley. Senator Nason belongs in Haverhill which has the advantage of being connected with the ocean by the navigable portion of the river. It seems a rather selfish attitude for Haverhill to take against her sister cities up stream in agitating for a measure that would cost these cities a vast amount for a change in their system of sewerage.

Better let the matter be postponed until the question of navigating the Merrimack be taken up by the federal authorities. There will then be changes in the river that might facilitate the work advocated by Mr. Nason. Everybody admits that the pollution of the river should be prevented or minimized, but to change the sewerage system of an entire city is a very serious undertaking and one that must not be lightly considered. To break up our sewerage system in a rush of hurried reconstruction might cause an outbreak of disease, a danger which we believe it is the duty of the state board of health to avert.

In this respect as well as in the matter of expense, Senator Nason's bill is a menace to our city, and hence we expect Senator Hibbard and the Lowell representatives to muster their forces for the defeat of the measure.

THE POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS

The popular election of U. S. senators is bound to come in spite of the senate and in spite of some constitutional considerations of grave importance. The intent of the framers of the constitution was to have the sovereignty of each state equally represented by two senators chosen by the respective legislatures. That representation is important, and if the legislatures had done their duty as they should, there would be no need of any change in the method of electing the senators. But it appears that certain legislatures have proved recreant to their duty and susceptible to corrupt influences. As a result designing men have been sent to the senate who should never have been chosen for that dignity. After getting a foothold they entrenched themselves in office and seemed to be more interested in certain trusts and privileged classes than in their respective states. Hence the movement for the popular election of senators started in Wyoming in 1895 has become very general all over the country.

Already twenty-nine states have passed resolutions favoring a constitutional amendment, but on account of some irregularity in making application to congress the action of sixteen of these cases will be thrown out of ignored, so that only thirteen states stand officially credited with action favoring the constitutional amendment. Hence the others or enough of them to make two-thirds of the whole will have to act on the matter in order that the action of all combined may be effective.

It is not likely that the length of the senatorial term would be changed, but the senators would be strictly accountable to the people and would be more careful as to their action while in office. The fact that the legislature that elects a senator goes out of office within the year, leaves the senators independent of the succeeding bodies, and on the other hand the latter can reasonably disclaim responsibility for placing the senators in office. In this sense the senators get away from the people as it were. On the other hand senators elected by the people may not rise so far above the status of the congressmen in point of ability as they have done under the old method of election by the legislature, but what is the use of ability in a senator if it be not exerted in behalf of the people's interests. That is the point on which the whole question turns at the present time, for it is alleged that once they have been entrenched in office their labors are not devoted to the interests of their respective states.

It is mean to remind the weather prophet of the predictions that he made that in course of time have not been verified, but if it so happens that he is right, congratulate him, and maybe you can borrow money from him.

The name Marion Foster Gilmore is affixed to the title page of a recent volume of verse entitled "Virginia, A Tragedy, and Other Poems." We find a certain freshness and witchery in many of the poems. We can reprint but one:

THREE KISSES

(By Marion Foster Gilmore.)
A rampant wind, on a golden day,

Sported and played with a wild, wild rose.
He woke her soul from its mute repose,
He kissed the heart of the wild, wild rose,
And, kissing—kissed her leaves away,
And now the wind goes sighing.

Love won me, on a golden day,
He woke my soul with a kiss sublime,
And the whole world vanished, and death and time,
Seemed nought at the touch of that kiss sublime!
Love, kissing—kissed my heart away,
And now love goes rejoicing.

An angel came, on pinions gray,
In his cold, white arms he clasped my lover,
Earth recoiled, and sun went out above,
Oh! God! I saw death kiss my love,
And, kissing—kiss his soul away—

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A long list might be compiled of men who refused titles. Gladstone of course is the best known instance, but there are many others. Carlyle refused the Grand Cross of the Bath. In 1837 Melmerston wanted to make the Marquis of Lansdowne a duke, but "the Nestor of the Whigs" declined the honor, on the ground that he was too old to change his rank. According to Henry Greville the same plea of old age was advanced by the Duke of Grafton when offered a vacant Garter in 1824. "It was an honor he had long coveted, but it would be a waste of money for a man to pay fees amounting to nearly $1000 for a decoration which he could not live long to enjoy." Two distinguished historians, Grote and Hallam, refused baronetcies, and the same honor was declined by Watts, the painter, in 1855.

Lord Beaconsfield found in his time that there were those who were disappointed with the mere rank of knight bachelor. But, as Sir Mount Stuart Grant Duff's diary records, he had the answer for one member of his party who ventured to complain of insufficient recognition. "I assure you," he said, "you altogether underestimate the honor of knighthood. It satisfied Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Isaac Newton."

While there is no diminution of concern in France over the course of Holland in fortifying her sea coast, obviously to the advantage of Germany, England has at last awakened to the seriousness of the issue. Colonel Robinson, the military expert of the London Times, has devoted two articles to a broad discussion of the subject.

His conclusion is that the fortification of Flanders, closing the navigation of the Scheldt in time of war, answers to no national necessity of Holland, and that in fact it is not on the sea side that Holland is weak, but along her long and practically undefended eastern frontier. The navigation of the coast is perilous for warships, the shores of the sea afford no landing place for an army, and the 170,000 soldiers of the Netherlands, operating among the canals and waterways of the maritime provinces, could put up an irresistible defense. On the other hand, the German frontier is without defenses of any value. It is a temptation to German occupation in case of war. In fact, the writer wonders whether the whole agitation has not been stirred up by Germany to afford an excuse for invasion at the right time.

Commenting, the Times says it is the duty of Holland to protect her neutrality on all sides alike, and it is the duty of England to prevent the violation of Belgian neutrality today more than ever before. It is therefore imperative that she should have free access to Antwerp. The Times ends with an appeal to the wisdom of the Dutch government, and people to consider the rights of Belgium before entering on a course that may have grave consequences.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. HANCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through this period of change of life.

SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE TO TEST SUBMARINE

Nominated by the Democrats for Haverhill Man Perfects a Spiral Shaped Craft

Democrats Say That There Will be a Deadlock in Joint Convention—The Democrats Claim That Lodge is Defeated

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Sherman L. Whipple of Brookline, classmate of William Howard Taft, republican president of the United States, received the nomination for U. S. senator yesterday at the democratic caucus at the state house or the fifth ballot.

Mr. Whipple is regarded as the personal choice of Gov. Foss. His boom was sprung by those closely affiliated with the political fortunes of Gov. Foss and by considerable quiet lobbying during the past week. Gov. Foss' friends succeeded in nominating Mr. Whipple, comparatively a new man in the political game, over an old war-horse of the party and veteran campaigner, John R. Thayer of Worcester, who led on the first ballot with 10 votes more than Mr. Whipple.

John R. Thayer led all competitors up to the fourth ballot. At almost one-half his vote dwindled to almost one-half of Whipples and the latter had eight more than enough to nominate.

The fifth ballot resulted as follows:

Made Unanimous
The moment the ballot was known Representative Hensbery of Worcester was on his feet and moved to make the ballot unanimous. Senator Hunt of Worcester seconded Hensbery's motion.

Representatives Foley and Eagan, friends and supporters of Congressman O'Connell, followed in the same line and Mr. Whipple's nomination was made unanimous with great enthusiasm.

Only Six Absentees

There were only six absentees, two of whom were accounted for.

The absentees were Senator John H. Mink of North Adams, Representative T. J. Brennan of Boston, T. S. Giff of Lowell, W. J. Graham of Lawrence, J. H. McInerney of Boston, and D. O. O'Neil of Boston. Of these the presence of the two first named yesterday was assured.

Two of the three democratic representatives who have been charged with having Lodge's feelings were present. These were Representative Newton of Boston and Representative McCullough of Holyoke. Representative McInerney of Boston was not present. Representative Newton, previous to the taking of any ballot, addressed the caucus and declared that today and every day until a senator is chosen he will be present and vote for the democratic choice for senator.

Hoar Wants People to Decide
While the tellers were counting the fourth ballot Senator Roger Sherman Hoar addressed the caucus, stating that he had heard certain democrats state that it was empty honor which they were conferring upon the candidate whom they might choose, but he felt that it was something more than an empty honor.

He said he had been informed that there were more members in the democratic caucus than had attended the republican caucus, and he believed that the democrats had an excellent opportunity to at least deadlock the legislature.

In this connection he called attention to his own bill providing for a popular expression of choice to be secured by means of a special election.

He said the republican members of the committee on election laws, to which this bill was referred, have delayed the hearing on it as long as they dare, but it is to be held on Friday morning and he asked every member to see to it that the committee reports the bill at once, in order that it may be passed by the legislature and the machinery set in motion for ascertaining the will of the people.

"If that is done," he said, "we all know and every republican knows that Senator Lodge hasn't a ghost of a show."

Senator Doyle of Boston and Representative Hensbery of Worcester and McCarthy of Marlboro acted as a committee to receive, sort and count ballots.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday morning in Montreal, Que., when Mr. Fortunat Pelletier, formerly of this city, and Miss Elvira Pelletier of Montreal, were married. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 5.30 o'clock in the parish church of Maisonneuve, by Rev. Fr. Eugene Pelletier of Sweetburg, Que., a brother of the bridegroom. The witnesses were Mr. Ephrem Pelletier of his city another brother of the bridegroom and a cousin of the bride, Mr. Oscar Dufresne.

The newly married couple left on a bridal tour and on their return will reside at Maisonneuve.

Mr. Pelletier counts a host of friends in this city where he has resided for many years, being a member of the well known firm Pelletier and Leduc. He left this city a few months ago to engage in the real estate business in the outlying districts of the Canadian metropolis, but still retains his interests in the Lowell business.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 17.—James F. Buckley has spent twenty years of his life in perfecting a submarine boat and he is now near the goal of his ambition, which is to be able to explore the bottom of the harbor at Portland, Me., where, as a boy, he used to long to stay under water long enough to see what was there.

He has perfected a submarine boat in which the naval and war powers of several nations are interested, the United States war department having recently communicated with him relative to the improvement he has perfected on a craft which was tried out successfully ten years ago.

The secret of it he refuses to divulge except that it is a cigar-shaped craft revolving on an axle which makes possible a spiral movement through the water at a speed of between 100 and 150 miles per hour, depending only upon the engine power. The secret of air supply he has already solved, as well as that of speed under water, but he is not yet ready to give out the plans.

Mr. Buckley navigated the bottom of the Merrimack river several years ago, but his submarine depended upon hand power at that time. It worked well, however, the motion of the outer shell demonstrating the possibilities of that method. Since then the inventor's efforts have been directed toward the equipment of power source.

An accident to his craft while at the bottom of the river came near resulting in his death, for one of the fins of the boat struck an obstruction and damaged the power crank.

The English admiralty requested him to construct a craft along the lines of his first boat, but the expense involved was too great and he abandoned the project. He has had correspondence with the naval agents of Great Britain, Spain, France and Japan, but now says he will give America first choice and has offered his plans to the United States.

FOR LAMENESS COOL CUSTOMER

Dr. Daniels Tells How Brockton Man Arrested as a Suspect

The frequent lameness in the shoulder warrants a brief mention of this trouble. The complex structure, although naturally well protected by its muscular envelope, is frequently the seat of injuries difficult to determine and effectively treat—the bone forming the skeleton of that region is connected in a loose way with the bones of the arm, the joint being much strengthened by the tendons passing on all sides of it. Shoulder lameness may exist from lacerations of the muscles, tendons or ligaments of the joint, or disease of the bone itself. A simple superficial injury may easily be overlooked, but those are more serious cases.

The frequent attacks of shoulder lameness resulting from falling with severe concussion, a serious or violent straining of the muscles in starting too heavy a load, a mistake, a jump with disastrous landing, slipping on a smooth or icy road, baiting with snow, or collision with a car, are all similar accidents.

Shoulder lameness is often confounded with navicular and other forms of lameness, and many times navicular disease really existing is termed shoulder lameness and treated as such without doing the animal any good.

The symptom to be noted in shoulder lameness is continued lameness, and is more marked in dismounted than in motion, and in action the shoulder blade and upper arm are almost immobile, thus displacing the entire mass, and the leg in moving is drawn forward with no extension or flexion.

Treatment for shoulder lameness first requires absolute rest, application of cold water showers and hot water fomentations, followed by stimulating liniments, blister, setons, etc. No matter what else you may do, absolute rest is of the most importance, and a good, big rest, too.

Elbow muscles become "sprained" sometimes and is thought to be shoulder lameness. Heavy horses which are shot smoothly, driven rapidly upon slippery street or pavement, are frequent sufferers from this form of injury when in action, a rapid gait is out of the question, while the walk shows a pronounced dropping of the anterior part of the trunk, the entire weight being thrown upon the other side, heat, pain and swelling found at the elbow.

The treatment again is absolute rest for an extended period, cold water applications, hot fomentations, stimulating liniment and rest, as in shoulder lameness.

BROCKTON, Jan. 17.—"Herr-r," remarked Policeman Philip Pinegar, as he stood at the corner of Main and Centre streets, looking at a thermometer that registered just 6 below zero. Then he turned, looked up Centre street, and gasped.

Telurously approaching him was a man whose garments consisted of a pair of trousers and an undershirt. He was hatless and barefooted.

"Suffering cats, is it awake I am?" asked Pinegar, pinching himself. "Pinegar was awake all right. The lightly clad pedestrian strolled up to him, bowed courteously, and would have passed on, had not Pinegar stopped him.

"Come here, my boy," said he. "When were you first taken this way?" The stranger looked at Pinegar. "I don't speak English," he declared.

"It makes no difference," Pinegar warned. "You must be getting straight here. Come along with me, I'll show you the cooler."

Pinegar's friend had no desire to go to the cooler. He protested volubly, but Pinegar understood: nothing he said and cared less. He took the bare-headed, bare-footed one to the police station.

Then the captain came to the same conclusion Pinegar had. He sent out for doctors. Two came and put Pinegar's friend through a series of tests.

"Nothing the matter with him. He's sane enough," they declared. "What is the matter?" asked Pinegar and the captain.

"The doctors didn't know," said Pinegar. "Send for an interpreter and ask him," they suggested.

So an interpreter was summoned. In the mystery gesticulated and conversed for about two minutes. Then the interpreter turned to the captain.

His name is Fabian Patino, and he says it's all a joke," he explained. "To-night he called a friend of his, Antonio Galant, who lives at 155 Alameda street. When he leaves there he thinks it a good joke to take off his hat and coat and vest and outside shirt and shoes, no stockings, and throw them all together in a bundle in Antonio's back yard."

"Then he start to walk home. He walk most mild and a half when this man here (indicating Pinegar) stop him and bring him in. He did it just for a joke."

"Well, I'll be jiggered!" said Pinegar. "He says his clothes at Antonio's house," resumed the interpreter, "and perhaps you send for them. His feet get cold while he ride in patrol wagon."

The captain sent one of the men to Antonio's house and Fabian's clothes were found there, sure enough. They were picked up and brought to headquarters, where Patino put them on and was allowed to depart.

"It was a fine joke all right," Pinegar told the captain, "but who in blazes was Patino?"

"You and Patino might toss up and decide," suggested the captain.

SOLD COCAINE

Woman Was Given Two Months' Sentence

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Anne L. Manley, the colored woman who caused Prof. Philippe Marceau to resign from Harvard university by bringing a $50,000 breach of promise suit against him two years ago, was sent to Deer Island yesterday for two months for selling cocaine. She was arraigned in the superior court under the name of Sarah Smith.

Ireving Bostick, at whose house at 9 Williams street terrace, Roxbury, Anne Manley boarded and lodged, was also sent with her to the island yesterday on a charge of having cocaine in his possession. Bostick was sent away as a result of investigations made by the Watch and Ward society.

Ex-Judge Dewey defended the Manley woman and Bostick, and lost their cases on Friday the 13th.

The woman sold cocaine to an agent of the Watch and Ward society Nov. 3. On Nov. 12 the society with police officers of station 10 under charge of Sergeant O'Neill raided the house at 9 Williams street terrace, and secured 10 pounds of cocaine, in spite of the fact that Bostick threw some of it out of the window. In the Roxbury court they were sentenced to four months each. Judge Kenney yesterday, after an argument by Judge Dewey on the constitutionality of the cocaine statute, cut the sentence of the lower court in halves because both had already been in jail for a year, and the trial of their appeal served two months.

Samuel N. Wood Observes 90th Birthday

Samuel N. Wood, for many years one of Lowell's best known business men, but long since retired, observed his 90th birthday at his home, 648 Central street, yesterday. Mr. Wood was in good health and spirits, and during the afternoon received many friends and a wealth of flowers. His memory is remarkably good, despite his great age. His sight is good and he reads the newspapers daily, keeping in close touch with current events. He does not go outdoors much in winter. Mr. Wood is a most interesting talker and his talks of early Lowell never fail to charm.

Samuel Newell Wood was born in Draught, Jan. 16, 1821. His father Samuel Wood, was born in Tewksbury on June 6, 1786, and died in Lowell June 1, 1874. He was nearly 88 years old, so it can readily be seen that the subject of the present sketch comes of a family quite noted for longevity. Mr. Wood's mother was Patience Kendall, who was born in Tewksbury, and who died in Lowell about 1830.

Samuel N. Wood came to Lowell with his father, when a mere boy. He was educated in the public schools of Lowell, and at Phillips Andover academy, from which school he was graduated in 1837. For five years thereafter he worked at the grocery business as clerk, and at the end of that time he formed a business partnership with his father, on Market street, in the wholesale grain business.

Some five years later he went into partnership with his father, on Market street, in the wholesale grain business. A year later his father retired and Mr. Wood assumed full control of the business. The business increased rapidly, and in 1853 he admitted his son to partnership. In 1852 Mr. Wood retired from the business. For a number of years afterwards he devoted himself to the supervision of his real estate. Although of recent years he has relinquished this considerably.

Mr. Wood's father brought the first bale of wool and cotton shipped to Lowell, to the Hurd mills. Before that time he had been proprietor of a grocery store at Quincy, Mass., and often he spoke with pride of the fact that he had been steady customer had been John Quincy Adams, former president of the United States.

In June, 1843, he married Maria Gray of Wilton, N. H. He was married a second time on Nov. 18, 1845, to Laura Hyde of Oxford, Conn. His third marriage was to Mrs. Emma B. Dudley of New London, N. H. He has two children, surviving him, Mrs. Charles W. Gray of New London, N. H., and Edward N. Wood, who for many years conducted the grain business, originally established by his grandfather. He also has two sisters, Miss Mary Wood, aged 92, of Harvard, Mass., and Mrs. Hannah Hoagland of this city.

Mr. Wood has always been a strong supporter of the republic. He was one of the earliest members of Oberlin lodge, I. O. O. F., and of Vannaland encampment, of the same order. He has been a director of the First National bank, and a trustee of the Central Savings bank. During his younger years he was deeply interested in military affairs and for a number of years was quartermaster sergeant under Col. Bancroft. He is a member of the High Street Congregational church.

The man's uncle made three trips to Washington following the order of deportation by immigration physicians. Congressman McCall was ferocious in the case and yesterday's order followed steps with he taken by the Canadian government to declare the bay closed. It is probable that the question eventually will go to the Hague tribunal for settlement.

SHEEHAN THE MAN BOYS RAN AWAY

Choice of the New York Democrats for Senator They Wanted to See "The Great White Way"

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—William F. Sheehan was nominated as the democratic candidate for United States senator last night, at the joint caucus of democratic legislators, receiving 62 votes. Four more than a majority of all the democratic members of both houses. The fact that 25 members refused to attend the caucus leaves a strong possibility that today when the legislative votes in regular session, he may fail to perceive the number of votes necessary for election.

Besides Mr. Sheehan's, the names of Edward M. Shepard of Brooklyn and D. Cary Herrick of Albany and New York were the only ones presented to the caucus. Mr. Shepard received 22 votes and Judge Herrick 12.

The 25 legislators who "bolted" the caucus will be in a position to declare themselves unbound by its action, and even if all those who entered the caucus vote for Mr. Sheehan tomorrow, the absentees could prevent his election, because a majority of all the members of both houses present and voting is necessary for election.

An effort to make the nomination of Mr. Sheehan unanimous failed because two members, Assemblymen Chandler and Short, objected.

Both houses are obliged to take at least one ballot at noon today. If neither Mr. Sheehan nor anyone else receives a majority at that time, the legislature will continue to ballot in this manner until a choice is made.

DEWEY MINORITY CHOICE

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Chauncey M. Dewey was selected by the republican caucus last night as minority candidate for United States senator to succeed himself. Senator Dewey received 58 of the 67 votes cast, and his selection was made unanimous.

The candidates who received votes were: Theodore Roosevelt, 2; Andrew White, 2; Edward H. Butler of Buffalo, 2; ex-Senator George Mead of Rochester, 1; L. A. Grace, a New York business man, 1; Seth Low of New York, 1.

This means that Senator Dewey will receive all the republican votes at the regular sessions of both houses tomorrow.

The senator's name was presented by Assemblyman Merritt. In presenting the name of Colonel Roosevelt, Senator Wainwright expressed his opposition to the nomination of Senator Dewey, and said that the minority should make an "ideal nomination, one that would express the greatest contrast possible to that made by the democrats."

A NEW RULE

RELATIVE TO INCREASE OF SALARIES OF SCHOOL TEACHERS

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—At the meeting of the school committee last evening a change was made in the manner of giving teachers their increase in salaries. In future the increase will take place on the anniversary of their appointment instead of at the beginning of the following term. Hereafter the increases have come on the first of January or the first of September.

The mayor's vote of the increase of salary of George S. Burgess, secretary to the superintendent of schools, from $2400 to $3180, was referred to Chairman Ellis for conference on the matter with Mayor Fitzgerald.

As a typewriter was stolen from the girls' high school during the last summer vacation, the business agent requested that the school house commissioners be instructed in the future to put all contractors who do work in the schoolhouses during the summer vacation, under bonds. Bonds used in one of the schools last summer, when all of the schoolhouses were in charge of the schoolhouse commission.

After months of effort an Italian who can speak the various Italian dialects used in this city, and who is otherwise qualified for a transient office, has been found by the civil service commission and was appointed at last evening's meeting. He is Achille Forte of the North End and he was highly recommended by prominent Italians of that district. Another man recommended for the position was C. T. Clampa.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Four runaway boys, Albert McDonough, aged 14, and John Flaherty, aged 12, of Waltham, Mass., and Richard Butler and Thos. Galvin, aged 15, of Boston, who were arraigned yesterday before Judge Wyatt in the children's court as juvenile delinquents, were discharged and later were sent home to their parents, with whom the police had meanwhile communicated.

They came westward, not to shoot bears and catch Indians, but to see "the Great White Way." The Waltham lads' soon found that their joint capital—$8.00—didn't go far. The close of their first day found them penniless and looking for shelter, which they found at the newsboys' lodging house. Yesterday morning they walked into the station house with appetites which Lieut. Raynor tried to appease by sending out for steak and coffee. Their mothers appeared late in the afternoon and took them home.

But the Boston boys had the real adventure. Butler and Galvin, fired by tales of the city told them by two

CONDITIONS IN FAMINE DISTRICT IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Conditions in the famine districts and refugee centers of the northern part of the province of Anhui, China, are rapidly growing worse, according to a cable report received yesterday from Shanghai by the American National Red Cross society. INJURIES FATAL

Capt. Barrett Hurt by a Fall

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 17.—Capt. Patrick H. Barrett, 54 years old, of '66 Morse place, died at the Rutland City hospital yesterday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock from internal injuries received Wednesday morning while fighting a fire in the house of Adolphus Buchand on Robbins street.

At the time of the injury Capt. Barrett, with other firemen, was hauling a line of hose across a flat roof, when he backed off onto a slanting roof and fell to the ice-covered ground 25 feet below. He was rushed to the hospital in an automobile, and although an examination revealed the fact that he had suffered several broken ribs, two broken wrists and scalp wounds, it was believed that he had a chance for recovery. Later, however, internal injuries developed, resulting in his death yesterday afternoon.

A DEMOCRAT

TO SUCCEED SENATOR HALE OF MAINE

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 17.—The election by the legislature today of a United States senator for a full term to succeed Eugene Hale, whose term expires next March, was hardly more than a formality, as the democrats have an unquestioned majority in both branches, and there was no opposition to their nominee, Charles F. Johnson of Waterville, except that the republican members cast a complimentary vote for former Judge Frederick Powers of Houlton, brother of the late Congressman Livelyn Powers. This is a reversal of the situation that has existed for 60 odd years, the last democratic senator from Maine being the late James V. Bradbury of this city, who was elected in 1849.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS

SEGREGATION OF ASIATIC PUPILS IS ADVOCATED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 17.—A bill for the segregation of Asiatic pupils in the public schools of California was introduced in the state legislature yesterday by Assemblyman Hall of Bakersfield. He provides that education boards must establish separate schools for children of Mongolian or Chinese, Japanese, Malay or Hindu descent by providing separate buildings or separate rooms in the same buildings. Indian children are also included in the bill. The bill further provides that no adult Indian, Chinese, Japanese, Malay or Hindu shall be admitted to any public school in the state. It was a measure similar to this which led to protests from the Japanese and the intervention of President Roosevelt at the last session of the legislature.

New Store FOR RENT

The beautiful new double-deck store, No. 44 Central street, is approaching completion and is offered for rent.

The store consists of a first and second floor with basement, affording over 6000 square feet of floor space, with entrances on Central and Prescott streets.

Modern display windows, fronting on each street, are provided on the first and second floors; the upper show windows on the Central street front following the latest metropolitan plan, are dropped low enough to display goods so as to be seen from the sidewalk.

The interior of the store is high-posted and finished in a most artistic manner and equipped with the latest devices for attractive electrical lighting and display effects.

The centre of the store is lighted from the sky by a huge dome of pleasing design and equipped with a vacuum ventilator which automatically changes the air on all floors and keeps it fresh and healthful.

Electrical base plugs at convenient intervals on every floor. All openings piped for both gas and electricity. Modern steam heating equipment. Maple floors and ash finish throughout the store.

Entrances to the store from both streets are at level of sidewalk without steps. The basement is lighted by the largest and finest walk lights in the city. Toilet rooms for men and women with perfect ventilation and modern fixtures.

Street cars pass the entrances on both streets, and the unobstructed light which reaches the Central street windows from Middle street affords daylight long after other stores in the vicinity are lighted up.

The Rent Is Low

Considering the fact that the store fronts on two busy streets and is in the very centre of the shopping district, and that both entrances are within a few steps of Merrimack square, the rent is exceptionally low, being much less per square foot than is charged for any equally well located property in Lowell.

For further particulars apply at the office of The Lowell Sun.

LODGE HAS MAJORITY

EXTRA SENIOR SENATOR IN FATAL ACCIDENT

HANNIGAN RE-ELECTED

President of Carpenters' State Council This Afternoon

In the afternoon session of the Carpenters' state council, this afternoon, after a lively but friendly discussion it was voted to hold the next state council at Lawrence.

Late this afternoon the election of officers came up, and John Hannigan of Worcester was re-elected president. Thomas Beane of Boston was elected vice president, to succeed J. C. Genereux of Westfield. Peter Provost of Holyoke was re-elected secretary, and Treasurer Hervieux of Springfield was also re-elected.

At the time of going to press the council was balloting on the executive committee. The report of the morning session appears on another page.

M. A. Lee Elected

After half an hour's balloting for one member of the executive committee Michael A. Lee of this city was elected out of a field of eight.

Has Just Enough Votes to Elect Him

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—In each branch of the state legislature today ballots were cast for the choice of a successor in the United States senate of Henry Cabot Lodge, who for 18 years has represented Massachusetts in the national senate.

The closeness of the contest, especially in the house, as shown by the non-attendance yesterday of more than a score of republicans at the party caucus, drew the greater part of the spectators to the galleries of the lower branch. It was generally admitted before the voting began that Mr. Lodge would secure a majority in the senate, where his supporters claimed 24 out of 40 votes. There were all sorts of rumors as to the attitude of the majority of 24 members of the house. Both sides expressed confidence. The anti-Lodge members, made up of members and insurgents, republicans were certain that the lower branch of the legislature would be decked for some days. None of the opponents of Mr. Lodge, however, was willing to predict a definite outcome of the contest, nor were any of them optimistic regarding the chances of the democratic candidate, Sherman L. Whipple, a well-known Boston lawyer. The senate was scheduled to begin balloting at 2:30 p. m. and the house a half hour later. In both branches the roll was called and each member rose in his seat and announced his choice for United States senator. Under the United States statute the two houses meet in joint session at noon tomorrow when their journals are read and compared and if either branch has failed to make a selection a joint ballot is immediately taken. No nominating speeches are made.

In Massachusetts for 24 years the legislature has settled the senatorial question on the first day of balloting; the democrats usually joining the republicans in voting for the single senatorial candidate. At his first election in 1893 and his subsequent elections in 1899 and 1905 Mr. Lodge received the encouragement of a large majority of the members of both branches. The last contest was in 1907 when there were three candidates for the seat of Henry E. Davies. That struggle lasted several weeks and was finally settled by the re-election of Mr. Davies for a third term.

Whipple's Statement

A few hours before the senate convened Sherman L. Whipple, the democratic candidate, issued the following statement:

"The principal interest in the present state campaign was the prevailing high price of the necessities of life. The democrats claimed that the prices were artificially maintained by trusts and combinations. This Senator Lodge repeatedly denied in his speeches. He asserted that these prices were the result of the natural laws of demand and supply, that similar high prices prevailed throughout the world, and that trusts and combinations were in no way responsible therefore.

Yesterday morning it was announced that in Chicago millions of pounds of butter, eggs, cheese, and poultry had been held in storage warehouses for months and were to be thrown upon the market, that it was not possible long to sustain the artificial prices which had been so long maintained. Today there were intimations that the same thing is true in relation to beef and pork products and that prices which have been artificially maintained are to be lower.

"It is thus demonstrated that the contention of the democrats in the last campaign was correct and that Senator Lodge was absolutely wrong in his statement. It now appears that while he was asserting from one end of the Commonwealth to the other that the prevailing high prices of food were not artificially maintained by combinations and trusts these millions of pounds of food products were in cold storage in Chicago while the trusts which had engineered the corner were subjecting the people to exactions in prices which must have brought to them millions in profits.

"It is a dramatic coincidence indeed that upon the day of his nomination for re-election to the senate it is absolutely demonstrated that Senator Lodge's political utterances upon the public platforms in the last campaign are discredited and his political sagacity at fault."

The vote was taken at 2:30 p. m. Senator Roger Sherman Hoar, a democratic member from Concord first asked consideration of his bill providing for a popular vote on the question of Senator Lodge's successor but at the request of one of the other members of the senate the bill was laid on the table. The roll was then called.

Every member of the senate was in his seat and responded when his name was called.

The senate vote was:

Lodge, 24; Whipple, 14; Butler Ames, 2.

Vote in House

The vote in the house was:

Lodge, 117; Whipple, 109; Ames, 6; Walker, 4; John R. Thayer, 1; Sylvester McBride, 1; Curtis Guild, 1; absent, 1. Senator Lodge failed to receive a majority of the votes cast in the house, as the number necessary for a choice was 120.

After today's voting is repeated with the same figures tomorrow in joint convention Senator Lodge will receive the bare majority necessary to re-elect him.

No democrat voted for Lodge. One democrat, Rep. McInerney of Boston, was absent, one democrat voted for Thayer, and another democrat voted for Ames. The vote of the single socialist member of the house was given to McBride.

John Connell Caught in Belling at Waterhead Mills

He Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital, His Body Having Been Badly Crushed and Lacerated

John Connell, aged 26 years, and residing at 35 Agawan street, was fatally injured while at work at the Waterhead mills in Lawrence street about 6:45 o'clock this morning as a result of being wound around a shafting. He was removed to St. John's hospital, where he died about 8 o'clock.

Just how the accident occurred is not known for the officials of the mill refused to give any information to the press.

From what could be learned as a result of a roundabout investigation the young man was working about a machine when part of his clothing got caught in a belt and he was whirled around the shafting and thrown to the floor with great force, his legs being broken.

Little short of a panic prevailed among the operatives in the room, but several had the presence of mind to go to the assistance of the unfortunate man and finding him cut and torn and bleeding profusely from numerous wounds, summoned the ambulance.

The ambulance made a hurried trip to the mill and from there to the hospital, where the doctors did everything in their power to save the man's life.

An examination showed that Connell's legs were smashed almost to a pulp, he was suffering from internal injuries and had numerous abrasions and lacerations about the face, arms and body. A report was issued to the effect that the amputation of both his lower limbs would be the only thing that could possibly save the young man's life, but little hope was entertained for his recovery as it was plain that his entire body was crushed.

He gradually grew weaker and passed away about eight o'clock.

The young man was conscious until within a short time before his death and his case excited the deepest sympathy of the sisters and the doctors at the hospital. He showed the greatest fortitude. His friends are overcomen with grief at his sad fate.

BADLY BURNED CLOUDS OF DUST

Ernest Gauthier Victim of Accident Make Life Miserable for Pedestrians

Mr. Ernest Gauthier, employed in Putnam & Son's clothing store, is confined at his home, suffering from severe burns received Sunday while trying to put out a fire at his home, 351 West Sixth street.

A spark from the parlor stove set fire to one of the chairs of the parlor suite. Mr. Gauthier detected the smell of smoke and following it, discovered the blaze in the front room. The young man tried to extinguish the flames, but as his efforts were fruitless, he took hold of the piece of furniture and threw it out of the window, and in so doing, his hands were badly burned. Mr. Gauthier then went to Dr. Bertrand's residence and had his wounds treated. The damage to the furniture was slight.

While the smooth paving of the downtown streets has manifold advantages, this weather has demonstrated the fact that it has one disadvantage, and that is in causing great clouds of dust, which blow in clouds in all directions on these windy days, making it bad on the eyes of all who have to be out in this blustery weather. An account of the cold street car sprinklers cannot be brought out these days to lay the dust and hence we have to suffer. A fall of snow would settle the dust, clarify the air and rid the city of disease-bearing germs.

BALTIMORE BOARD SEEKS INFORMATION FROM LOWELL POLICE BOARD

The following letter from the secretary of the board of police commissioners of Baltimore, Md., would seem to indicate that the members of the board in that city have either been removed by the mayor or are liable to be removed:

To the Honorable,
The Board of Police,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen:

The board of police commissioners is in receipt of a copy of your report for the year ending May 31st, 1910, and notes the statements therein with respect to the differences between the board of police and the mayor of Lowell, and I am instructed to ask if you will be good enough to have a copy of the court's decision in the matter sent to it at the earliest possible moment. We will be very glad to bear any expense that you may be put to in the premises.

Awaiting your early reply, I am,
Very respectfully yours,

TEACHER'S IDEA

Did Not Meet With Parents' Approval

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The fact that the 12-year-old daughter of Chas. F. Chapman was asked to dance with a negro pupil in Public School No. 23 at Flushing, L. I., was discussed last evening at a meeting of the Flushing association, an organization of prominent citizens, and a committee was appointed to look into the matter and report.

Mr. Chapman did not approve of the action of the teacher in allowing his child, Beatrice, to be the dancing partner of a colored boy, Charles Davis, during the physical exercises in the school room. He says the little girl reported that she had objected to dancing with the lad, and that the teacher had ordered her to do so, or be sent to the principal's office.

Mr. Chapman is a capitalist, living at No. 272 Lincoln Park, Flushing. According to the information given out at the meeting last evening there are four colored pupils in the room, two boys and two girls. But, according to the report, the teacher said to be a Miss Sealing, tries to foster the principle of equality by giving no opportunity for the children of white parents to look down on the little sons and daughters of the other race.

Nevertheless, considerable feeling was expressed at the session of the Flushing association, and the report of the investigating committee, consisting of A. E. Sholes, Richmond Wood, T. Jefferson Burnett and John Vandewater, is awaited with interest.

The meeting was held in the League building. Most of the members of the association are the fathers of families and have children attending the public schools.

THE GYPSY KING

Lost Pig and Also His Kingdom

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Petru Lucas, the 60 year old gypsy king of Westchester Plains, says all his troubles are due to the fact that he parted with a charmed pig that had a straight talk. Gypsy laws and immigration laws are apt to conflict at times, and immigration Commissioner Williams and Lucas had a warm argument before it was determined that the latter should return to Bosnia today aboard the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm, taking with him Milton Nadisch, her son Stoli and Stoli's bride-to-be, Stana Ivanovich.

ALLEGED THIEVES

It is Said That They Stole Plumbing Articles — They Were Arraigned Before Judge Fisher and Cases Were Continued Until Tomorrow

Fred Lamarche, John Lane and Michael Cassidy are occupying cells at the police station charged with larceny, and in their arrest the police are of the opinion that they have captured three members of an organized gang of thieves who have been stealing plumbing articles from local and out of town establishments.

Yesterday afternoon Inspector Martin Maher and Sergeant Alexander Duncan apprehended Lamarche and Lane in Merrimack street and upon searching them found three nickel plated faucets, each of the value of $1.75, on their persons. They claimed that they found the faucets on the street, but failed to explain why they tried to sell them at various plumbing establishments instead of turning them over to the police.

Both men were arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning and after entering pleas of not guilty stated they were ready for trial, but at the request of Deputy Downey the cases were continued till tomorrow.

The police have not yet learned where the faucets were taken from and are anxious to find the owner before tomorrow morning.

This morning Inspector Maher arrested Cassidy in Middle street and when he appears in court tomorrow morning he will also be charged with larceny. It is alleged that he entered the store of Scott & O'Day last Friday afternoon and representing that his boarding mistress wanted some plumbing articles secured a faucet and self-closing bowl cock. Yesterday the matter was reported to the police and as a result of an investigation Inspector Maher, it is alleged, found two faucets which Cassidy had pawned and subsequently located the articles secured at Scott & O'Day's in a tool room in Merrimack street.

It is also alleged that Cassidy went to the Thompson Hardware Co. and representing himself as being in the employ of C. I. Hood, got an automobile jack, which it is said he also disposed of.

THE ALDERMEN

Will Consider Question of Reducing the Water Tax

At the meeting of the board of aldermen tonight the joint order for the reduction of water tax from 10 to 20 percent will be considered. The amendment offered at the last meeting for an extra reduction was laid on the table so that the first action in the matter tonight will be to take the amendment from the table.

Other business before the board will include the usual order authorizing the city treasurer to borrow $1,000,000 in anticipation of taxes, and a petition to pave Middlesex street with granite blocks from the junction of Park street and Middlesex streets to the city line between Lowell and North Chelmsford.

As a matter of fact there are two petitions for the paving of Middlesex street. One is signed by George L. Power and others, and the second by W. J. Gould and others.

Another petition to be considered by the board comes from Frederick E. Bingham. The petitioner prays that the grade of Knapp avenue be changed. Annual reports to come before the board include those of the sealer of weights and measures, superintendent of city streets, summaries of which have already appeared in these columns, and the report of the commissioners of sinking funds, the city treasurer and collector of taxes.

The following totals appear in the report of the city treasurer and collector of taxes:

THE EDDY WILL

Was Allowed by Judge Corning

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 17.—At the hearing before Judge Corning in the probate court here this afternoon, permission for the proving of the will of Mary Baker Eddy in solemn form filed by the executor, Hon. Henry Baker of Bow, at the time the will was presented and allowed in common form, was granted and the will allowed.

There was no contest over the action, the only contest present being Gen. Frank S. Streeter, who represented the executor. Counsel for George W. Glover and Dr. Foster Eddy, in the suits brought in the state and United States courts for a construction of the will with reference to the clause making the Mother church the residuary legatee did not attend the hearing. On petition Dewitt Howe was appointed guardian ad litem to act for the Glover and J. Foster Eddy.

George M. Fletcher of this city was appointed guardian ad litem for all others interested in the estate outside of New Hampshire.

"JACK" BARRY WEDS
WORCESTER, Jan. 17.—John J. Barry, better known as "Jack" Barry, the crack shortstop of the Philadelphia world's champions, and Miss Margaret McDonough of this city were married here in the church of the Sacred Heart by Rev. Father Bernard Conaty. Mr. and Mrs. Barry left after the ceremony for Atlantic City.

It is adapted to their delicate systems and absolutely free from alcohol and all poisonous drugs.

It relieves constipation, colic, difficult teething, expels worms, promotes sleep.

Mr. Shepard received 25 caucuses voted and Judge Herrick seven. Even if all the 25 bolters voted for Shepard, his strength would not equal Sheehan's. The members who refused to caucus, however, said that their action should not be construed primarily as a move to help Mr. Shepard's cause, yet exclusively as a protest against the election of Mr. Sheehan. Most of them declared that the principle they wished to enforce was that laid down by Gov. Dix in his public statement issued yesterday, namely, that they would submit to no coercive and would not permit the caucus decisions to limit their individual action. Twenty of these absentees signed an agreement to stick together on this proposition.

The Sheehan men this morning were working hardest among the remaining five bolters who did not sign the agreement yesterday. The committee, however, held an informal conference before the session today.

D. Cary Herrick said this morning: "I am still a candidate."

A deadlock resulted from the first and only ballot taken today by the senate and assembly separately for United States senator. William F. Sheehan, who led the democratic opposition, received a plurality of 91 votes in both houses. Since 196 members voted, this number was eight less than the majority.

The first ballot for United States senator in the assembly gave Sheehan 66, Shepard 12, Parker 6, Herrick 1, Littleton 1, Depew 69; absents 4.

The senate voted as follows:

of aphasia. He came to his senses late Sunday afternoon while he was walking along Broadway, in this city, near 35th street.

"It was like coming out of a dream," he said yesterday. "I suddenly realized who and where I was. I did not know where I had been, possibly I have wandered into many cities."

His sudden awakening restored Mr. Ketcham to an understanding of his situation and a realization of the anxiety which his absence must have caused his family and friends, he took a train to Poughkeepsie.

His first move on entering that city was to go to a bank where he has an account. He cashed a check. The cashier recognized him, and, knowing of his mysterious disappearance, called Mr. Ketcham's half-brother, Charles H. Ketcham, by telephone. The latter arrived at the bank a few minutes afterward. The long lost brother recognized him instantly, and the other relatives in different parts of the country were notified by wire.

When Mr. Ketcham went away he had about $200 in cash and more valuable jewelry. He still has his jewelry, but he had but a few cents in his pocket when he reached Poughkeepsie. Ketcham was on a visit with his wife of such an under taking. It was suggested that a social be held in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the expenses of the festival.

Many names have been suggested for conductor of the consolidated band, prominent among them being Prof. Emil Stoltenberg, leader of the Myrick band, of Boston and Prof. Theron D. Perkins, leader of Perkins' Chromomital band of Boston and a composer of band music of note. Both of these men have had great success in directing great musical festivals and it is probable that one of the two will be engaged to conduct the Lowell festival and the members of the union hope that the committee will appreciate their efforts to give them the biggest thing in the musical line offered in Lowell in a long time. The union expects to have 150 professional musicians on the stage at the festival. At the next rehearsal the overture to "Tannhauser" by Wagner and "Rosmunde" by Schubert will be played.

It is expected that the full instrumentation will be present at the meeting and will include all the many instruments used in the biggest bands.

The election with amazement and chagrin, for the dullest of them cannot be insensible to the fact that had we followed their advice, we would have now be waking with dawnstares through that valley over which forever falls the shadow of defeat. The senator advocated a middle course: in party progress, avoiding what are known as the "progressive" or the "conservative" camps. The democratic party believes in progress," he declared, "but it believes

DESTROYED BY FIRE CHARLES H. HYDE

Says He Was Not in Conspiracy

Old Ferncroft Inn at Danvers Burned Today

It Was the Oldest in New England and Had Much Valuable Antique Furniture

DANVERS, Jan. 17.—Ferncroft Inn, the Middleton Colonial hostelry, was burned to the ground early this morning. The fire started from an open fireplace in one of the parlors and burned rapidly to the upper floors. Fortunately there were few guests at the house at the time and the small force of employees was able to help them to places of safety before the fire assumed threatening proportions.

The Danvers fire department was called out and found the water supply

inadequate, making it impossible to save any part of the buildings. Only a few of the larger pieces of the inn's famous collection of antique furniture was saved. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

The Ferncroft Inn was considered one of the oldest hotels in New England. It was built in 1679 to accommodate the stage coach travelers and has always been used as a hotel. A few years ago it was partially destroyed by fire, but since had been restored in its recent colonial design.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—City Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde returned to New York on the very night that the authority of the legislative investigating committee to examine him expired. FOUR AUTO BILLS TOWN MEETING

Filed by Automobile Legal Association

In Billerica Was Slimly Attended

The Automobile Legal Association has filed four bills of interest to automobilists who operate in the state of Massachusetts.

The first is the so-called light bill, which would require every vehicle on wheels, whether stationary or in motion, on any public highway or bridge to have attached to it a light or lights, which shall be so displayed as to be visible from the front and rear during the period of from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any vehicle which is designed to be propelled by hand, or to any vehicle while upon any lighted street or highway where street lights are maintained at a distance of 500 feet apart or less or to any other vehicle designed for the transportation as its principal freight of hay or straw while loaded with such freight.

This bill is in seven sections, the sixth section of which provides that for a violation of its provisions a fine not exceeding $5 may be imposed.

The second bill is one which is designed to give not only automobilists, but all persons charged with misdemeanors punishable by a fine of not more than $25, the opportunity to appear by counsel, who may plead guilty or nolo contendere for the defendant without his being present, provided, that the person charged deposits with the clerk of the court before which he is summoned to appear, before 10 a. m. of the day upon which the summons is returnable the sum of $25, out of which the fine imposed may be taken and the balance returned to the attorney representing him.

The third bill tends to correct the present automobile laws in abolishing the minimum fine, but leaves the maximum fine as it is, so that if the courts find a violation of the law to have been very slight and the consequences thereof to have been not serious enough to warrant a consideration, the court may impose a fine less than $10.

The injustice of the present law, which requires, for instance, that a person who fails to blow his horn at an intersecting street must be fined at least $10 and not more than $25 for the first offence, has been commented upon by numerous judges of the district and municipal courts as a harsh law, which leaves the courts no alternative but to impose the fine of $10.

The fourth bill is an amendment to the first clause or paragraph of section 1 of chapter 334 of acts of 1909, which defines "ways" so as to include private driveways, and the amendment is so framed as to permit an automobilist to pass a private driveway without slowing down to eight miles an hour and blowing his horn.

Less than forty people were in attendance at the special town meeting held in the town hall in Billerica last night for the purpose of hearing the report of the board of selectmen relative to the footbridge at the Fordway bridge and see what action the town would take in the matter. After considerable discussion pro and con the meeting came to a close and the matter is at the same stage at the present time as it was before the meeting was called.

The meeting was called to order by Moderator Charles Kahrsch, and after Clerk King read the article, Chairman Singhi gave a report of the matter and submitted opinions from J. C. Worcester, an engineer of Boston.

Mr. Singhi explained that the sum of $2000, available for the work of erecting a footbridge, was wholly inadequate, as the lowest bid received was $2000.

Relative to the bridge itself, the following letter from Engineer Worcester was read:

The present bridge was well designed for ordinary highway traffic, including light weight electric cars. It is now in a fair state of preservation, with the exception that the floor beams are more or less weakened by corrosion, and one of the trusses has been seriously damaged, apparently by a collision with a derailed car. The wooden stringers supporting the electric car track are in bad shape and will have to be replaced before long, and it is evident that all parts of the wooden floor system will need renewal within a limited number of years.

The present weight of electric cars overstrains the floor of the trusses adjacent to the tracks. These trusses, however, would not be dangerous if the damage caused by the collision above referred to were properly repaired.

The worst feature of the bridge as it now stands comes from the fact that it is too narrow to safely carry foot traffic. There are no sidewalks and there is no place for people to take refuge when the bridge is occupied by an electric car and vehicles in the roadway.

Considering the fact that there are two cars every 15 minutes on the bridge, that the bridge is only 250 feet long, and that autos going at high speed are a constant menace, and that it is obviously somewhat dangerous for foot passengers.

The pipe along the southern side of the highway bridge is in an extremely precarious condition on account of the brackets supporting the trusses at the ends and the eastern abutment being badly bent and liable to collapse at any time.

THE DELAWARE

WILL CARRY BODY OF LATE MINISTER CRUZ

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Because of the dismemberment of the battleship South Carolina by the loss of her propeller on her voyage across the Atlantic, the battleship Delaware will take the body of the late Minister Anibal Cruz to Chile.

The Delaware already has left Guantanamo for Hampton Roads. The body, which is now here, will be transported from Washington to Hampton Roads on the Mayflower and there transferred to the Delaware. According to present arrangements the Delaware will sail for Chile on January 31 by the Straits of Magellan.

Returned by Jury in Essex Co. Court

SALEM, Jan. 17.—A verdict, about one-fifth of the amount sued for, was returned by a jury in the Essex county superior court today, when Stuart Browne of New York was awarded $25,000 after a hearing of his suit against Joseph H. Fairhall, executor of the estate of John Burnham Brown, late of Ipswich, who died a year or two ago in Chicago.

Browne claimed that Brown had agreed to purchase from the plaintiff stocks and bonds in New York Banking company enterprises to the value of about a million and a half dollars, but that the agreement was not kept by Brown. Browne sued the executor of the Brown estate for $1,225,750 in an action of contract. This is the largest damage suit ever tried in Essex county, but the verdict of $25,000 falls far short of being the heaviest verdict awarded in the city.

These men and others denied before the committee that they had participated in any bribery plot. Hyde, however, left the city and mysteriously disappeared for more than a month. Later he was discovered on a houseboat in Florida waters. He denies any one to show that he was in any conspiracy as alleged and says that New York city money was endangered by bank failures during his absence will not be lost. Hyde laughs and refuses to pay attention to demands that he resign and says he will "continue to serve the city faithfully." Petition has been made to Mayor Gaynor to remove Hyde.

NAMES CONFUSED

STATE DEPARTMENT SUBJECTED TO SEVERE CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Through a curious transposition of names the state department was recently subjected to severe criticism from Berlin for the alleged appointment to an important consular generalship of a person directly from civil life, which, of course would be in violation of the principles of consular reform, for which Secretary Knox has been so earnestly working.

It is reported that one Gabriel Hollis had been appointed consul general at Constantinople. As a matter of fact the new consul general at that point is one of the veterans of the service, Gabriel B. Randall, who has been consul at Beirut, where he is succeeded by A. S. Hollis, formerly consul at Dundee. It is evident that the two names were confused.

The disposition of the state department to abide by the principle of promotion in filling these higher places in the consular service is manifested by the strong support it is giving to the bill recently introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Lowden of Illinois, the purpose of which is to give the force of statutory law to the present executive order which places the consular service on the basis of the merit system.

TWO LOWELL MEN THE ALPINE FIVE TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

In Boxing Bouts on Wednesday Night

Recent results show that the boxing game is coming back to its own. The Reno tragedy seems to be passing from the minds of the fans. Everywhere throughout the country the outlook for the game is encouraging. In Boston recently one of the biggest crowds in the history of boxing in the Hub saw the battle between Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette. This was a remarkable occurrence. It has been said repeatedly that two colored men would not draw. But the outpouring in Boston to see the runners-up for the heavy weight title that is possessed by Jack Johnson, completely upset that old story.

Indications are that this will be another banner week in the boxing game. Stellar shows are being given here. New England has its quota, however, and the followers of boxing in these parts will not want for glove entertainment.

In Boston tonight Pat Moore will attempt to whip Matty Baldwin, who has been on the hospital list for several weeks. They meet at the Army A. A. in a 12-round contest. But despite the class of this match it has nothing to do with the prize offered at the Queen City A. C. of Manchester next Wednesday night. This is as good a match as any offered anywhere in the country. Interest runs high in the bout, so high in fact that a special train will be used to convey the Lawrence sports to the ringside.

More than 250 Lawrence fans have signified their intention of going to Manchester.

Both boxers are said to be in prime fix for the contest. Each has trained to the minute in anticipation of a grueling battle. They are old ring credits. Thomas has a victory to his credit over Sullivan and the Lawrence boy is determined to reverse things on this occasion.

In Fall River, Mass., Jimmy Gardner of Lowell and Terry Martin of Manchester will meet for the title of the New England championship. This will be a hard bout. Martin is in good shape now. He has trained hard and feels confident that he will hold the Lowell wonder to a draw.

Packey McFarland and Jack Goodman will clash in New York. The Chicago boxer must make good in order to be a card in England. He is a flatterer to go abroad, but he must win to get the opportunity to sign the articles.

Boston will be well represented in the ring this week. Sam Langford will spar a joke named Jim Atwater in Utica, N. Y. Porky Flynn will meet Joe O'Neil in Syracuse, N. Y. George Alger will clash with Jack Leonard at Johnny Nelson's benefit and he may also meet some star at the American A. C. in Philadelphia.

Dieter Stanley, the recipient of a prize from England, will make his New York debut Friday night at Tom O'Rourke's club. He will clash with Frankie Burns, the New Jersey sensation. The match is at 115½ pounds, a new bantam weight limit.

There will be several sets of amateur contests. At the Irish-American A. C. in New York a series of bouts will be held Tuesday and again on Wednesday night. Jim Buckley has again assumed the management of the Dixie Kid. The Dixie Kid was released after he faked in Albany, but when he got the match in Buffalo Jim declined to reinstate him.

Jimmy Deforest has a new protégé. He is a fast Philadelphia featherweight. In bouts with Pat Moore at the camp in Allentown, N. J., he showed up surprisingly well.

Frankie Conley, who was ordered out of the ring by Doc Frew the other night for failing, will meet Tommy Dixon in Kansas City in a 10-round bout. Conley sparred with Atwater once and that was his last fight. Sandy Ferguson is training in New York for a return match with Jim Barry. They fought under go-as-you-please rules in New Orleans a few months ago. The match ought to be a big drawing card.

An all-star show will be the feature at the Rhode Island A. C. next Wednesday night. Three 10-round bouts and a six-round mill will entertain the members.

FOR SUPPORT OF WIFE AND FAMILY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Members of one of the clubs to which Horace Wylie, who disappeared a month ago with Mrs. Philip H. H. H., belonged, are discussing a letter which Wylie is reported to have left in a private box in one of the banks of Washington.

The story is to the effect that in addition to a formal note that in the envelope contained bonds to the amount of $15,000. The note was of advice, stating that the writer believed that the sum would be sufficient for the support of the family for a reasonable time, at the end of which Mrs. Wylie could, if she chose, ask for a divorce.

Now Tied With Y.M.C.I. Quintet

The Alpines and Y. M. C. I. are now tied for first place in the Catholic league as a result of the former team winning three points from the Y. M. C. I. in the game played last night. Good scores were in order and while the Alpines besides taking all three points captured the total pinfall, the game was close and exciting.

Coleman of the vanquished team put up an excellent game, having a single of 120 and a triple of 317, and Devlin of the winning team had a total of 300. Two other members of the Alpines came within three pins of the 300 mark.

The first game in the new Minor league was played last night between the J. P. S. and Rocklands, the former winning the three points. Sixteen 15 strings rolled by the winning team were over the 100 mark, while the members of the losing team were able to reach the century mark but four times during the game.

The feature of the game was the consistent rolling of A. Severance of the winning team. His first string was 100, his second 105 and he got 110 in the third, with a total of 321.

The game between the Y. M. C. I. and St. Peter's teams in the Catholic league series resulted in the former team winning two of the three points, but the St. Peter's quintet scored the total pinfall as a result of the high score put up in the first string.

BIG CAR REPLACED

Residents of Collinsville No Longer Kick

The residents of Collinsville have no kick coming today although they were all coming up for one of the "dinky" Peabody cars appeared on the tracks this morning. The company fooled them today, however, for a fine big comfortable double truck car took them to Lowell this morning and their protests are temporarily "canned."

MRS. DANNIE MANN

Playing the Title Role in "Mandy Hawk" at the Merrimack Sq. Theatre

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The bill presented at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is one of the best the house has put on since its inception.

The real feature of the program is a little pastorial playlet presented by Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Mann and called "Mandy Hawk". It is a dainty bit, rich in Down East humor and dialect.

Mrs. Mann plays the title role of the little girl in a way to win the heart of everyone in the audience, while Mr. Mann as the old farmer is excellent. Elaborate setting and unusual electrical effects depicting a typical country scene at the closing of the day, with the lighted windows of the church shining in the distance, from which comes the sound of the choir singing, suggests perhaps the most popular scene in the old favorite, "The Old Homestead".

The Four Everetts, acrobats and equilibrists, are very clever. They do a really remarkable series of balancing and acrobatic stunts from juggling, pyramid, and their features are quite original. The act is interesting from start to finish and handsomely put on.

Archer and Carr have a singing and talking sketch which is unusual only in its excellence. One is a very charming soprano voice, the other a young man with great abilities as a comedian. They present a lot of laughable repartees and sing a number of new songs.

Gilbert Loebe, late of Lew Dockett's minstrels, is billed as the "fashion plate comedian". He is a sure laugh maker with his stories and parodies on popular songs. Mr. Loebe is a wonderful singer equipped with a voice of remarkable range, which he can switch from soprano to deep bass.

Harrington and Millard are making quite a hit with their illustrated songs, one a bass soloist and the other a baritone. They present a novel offering that is well done.

The pictures presented yesterday were unusually good. A continuous performance will be presented every day, this week, from 1 until 10:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mann, besides appearing in mid-afternoon and evening, also "come out" at 5:40, so that patrons are given every opportunity of seeing them.

Last night the theatre orchestra gave a pleasing concert of selections from the opera "L'Amorita".

MILK PROBLEM MAN ARRESTED

Discussed at Meeting Is Accused of Robbing a Friend

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The milk selling farmers of New England, with contractors and health officers, discussed the milk problem under the auspices of the Boston Co-operative Milk Producing company at the American house last night, and concluded the day's work last night with resolutions upholding claims of the purity of the product and justifying the existing prices.

The resolutions offered by Prof. J. W. Sanborn of Gilmanton, N. H., embraced the salient features of the addresses of the day. They declared the farmers were not "that tuberculosis had decreased at the same time the use of milk had increased, showing the product was not responsible for the increase in the disease claimed; that a Massachusetts legislative committee had found that Massachusetts farmers were raising milk without profit; that milk was not expensive, but comparatively cheap than beef and other food products, and that on the other hand, condensed milk was more costly and of more uncertain character.

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston told the milkman that it was the opinion of men in authority that if Boston could secure a pure milk supply the death rate among children would be reduced 50 per cent in the city.

H. G. Deane of Grafton, N. H., made a plea for a return to the farm, and I. S. Whiting, W. A. Graustein and C. H. Hood, contractors, said the agitation had increased the burden of the farmer.

Dr. Mark Richardson, secretary of the state board of health, spoke on the inadequacy of present dairy inspection. The organization continued its meeting today for the election of officers and other business.

EX-COMMANDER SMITH DEAD

ANDOVER, Jan. 17.—Peter D. Smith, commander of the department in Massachusetts G. A. R., in 1903, died last night. He was president of the Smith and Dove company, manufacturers of thread and twine. Mr. Smith is survived by a widow and three daughters.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—After it is alleged, he had cleaned out the home of Celia McLaughlin at 12 Mason street, Charlestown, of all the furniture, and then took three suits of clothes and an overcoat from William Gundy, who befriended him, George Caldwell was arrested by Patrolman Morgan of the Charlestown station as he was passing through City square last night on his way to attend a ball in the city.

Caldwell, who was dressed in the height of fashion, insisted the officer was making a grave mistake in attempting to take him into custody, and Officer Morgan was in a quandary, as the man was fogged out from head to foot in new clothes and carried a cane. The clothes were later identified at the police station by Gundy as his property.

The police allege that Caldwell, who boarded with a Mrs. Hines at 10 Mason street, carried out a sofa, six chairs, tables, rugs and other articles to a second-class furniture store on Main street and sold them. The woman with whom he lived gave him the key and sent him to the McLaughlin flat to get a washbasin. It is alleged Caldwell left the door open and returned, giving the woman the key and the key. It is alleged that he later visited the house and cleaned it out, carrying the articles to the store.

Caldwell then met William Gundy of 92 Warren street, Charlestown, and told him a hard luck story. Gundy took him in and gave him shelter for the night. Last night when Gundy returned home he found that three suits of clothes were missing, together with his new overcoat, hat and other articles. Caldwell will be arraigned in the Charlestown court today.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Julia M.: It is natural to grow heavier during cold weather months, but your weight is increasing too rapidly, and I would suggest a simple treatment which is splendid for taking off flesh. Get from your druggist four ounces of paraffin and dissolve in 1½ pints hot water. A tablespoonful of this before each meal will gradually take off the superfluous weight. This treatment is harmless, costs little and requires no starving, but you must be sure to get paraffin.

Elsie I.: It is ungrateful for your sweetheart to chide you about the downy growth on your face, but if you follow these simple directions the hair can be easily removed. Buy an ounce of delatone from your druggist, mix a little with enough water to make a paste, and apply to the hairy surface. Let remain for two or three minutes, then rub off and wash the surface well. While delatone is a little expensive, one application usually does the work.

May: Stop using face powders and try this "liquid powder" for that shiny look and your complexion will soon resemble a healthy unit. Dissolve four ounces of spirum in one-half pint hot water, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, shake well and let cool. This applied to the skin twice after washing clears and cleanses it and gives it a pink and white glow not obtainable with powder or rouge. Any druggist can supply spirum, and it is inexpensive.

Hermes: Face lotions will not rid your face of its pimples and liver spots. This condition is caused through impurities in the blood finding their way to the skin's surface. What you require is a blood purifier and system tonic, and if you will prepare this inexpensive recipe, the skin will become clear and you will feel much better: Get an ounce of karsone from your druggist and dissolve in one-half pint water, adding one-half cup sugar, then hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and I'm sure you will find it excellent.

an ounce of almozoin in a half-pint of cold water, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, stir well and let stand for a few hours. Nightly massaging with this almozoin cream jelly softens the skin and removes blackheads, while in continued use will give to the face that perfect glow of youthful health. You will find almozoin inexpensive and any druggist can supply it.

Anna G.: The condition you describe is not eczema of the scalp, but is likely caused through using inferior soaps or shampoo mixtures, which have roused the scalp of the oily secretion necessary to keep it in a healthy condition. I am sure you can overcome this if you buy some castor-oil and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough for one good shampoo, and although its cost is trifling, it stops itching and soon corrects the dry, scaly condition of the scalp. It would be advisable to use the quinine hair tonic mentioned in another paragraph, as it is a splendid tonic in all scalp and hair troubles.

Maxine: Your thin, straggly, falling hair with dandruff is due to a starved condition of the hair follicles, and if less soon looked after will be a serious matter. You can make an excellent and inexpensive hair tonic at home if you mix a full pint of quinine from the druggist and dissolve it in one-half pint alcohol, then add one-half pint of water. This makes a full pint of excellent tonic for the hair, and a few careful treatments of the scalp with this brings back the silky lustre to the hair and promotes a luxuriant growth.

J. V. M.: You are right in saying that dull, listless eyes detract from womanly beauty. The burning sensation of which you speak does not call for eye-glasses, but rather for eye-tonics. If you make up the following simple and inexpensive eye lotion you will obtain quick relief: Get an ounce of crystals from the drug store and dissolve in one-half pint water. Add two drops of this harmless liquid in each eye will strengthen the eye muscles and renew the sparkle to the eye.

ALMOST A RIOT

At a Special Town Meeting in North Attleboro

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Jan. 17.—

When a coterie of business men tried to push a $20,000 railway appropriation article through a special town meeting last night a mob of citizens which was quelled only by the arrival of the police.

During the excitement several prominent citizens were roughly handled, others fought with excited men over the possession of the lists, and scenes never before witnessed in local town meetings were enacted.

At the height of the confusion several hundred workmen lined on one side of the hall hooted and jeered representatives of the business coterie, and their friends lined opposite them until a riot threatened and Selectman John Devlin called for the police to restore order.

The meeting had been called for the consideration of an appropriation of $20,000 asked by a faction which was in favor of the Boston & Providence interurban railway changing the location of its tracks from the filter beds to Cheever's corner, a point nearer the center of the town. The Rev. W. Henry Kling was elected moderator.

Immediately the question of the appropriation was submitted to the meeting, a strong opposition developed. The opposition claimed that if the railway wanted to change its location, the cost of the change should be borne by those to be benefited, the manufacturers.

Charles P. Ayer and T. I. Smith, manufacturing jewellers, joined with Attorney W. C. Hobbs in support of the suggestion that the town pay the cost of the land damages.

But the labor element led by Selectman John Devlin, were opposed and wanted the matter postponed to the regular town meeting. Paye moved that the matter be referred to the Selectmen, and Moderator Kling declared the motion carried. The vote was 25-10 in favor of the proposition. What the Rev. Mr. Kling attempted to have the vote counted the meeting broke away from his control and men climbed over tables and railings to snatch away from the tellers their lists. Charges of graft and personalities flew thick and fast and finally when several hundred men had become so excited that the slightest provocation would have started a riot, a squad of police entered the hall and restored order.

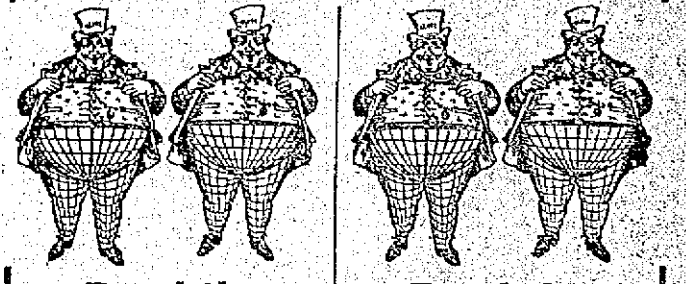

The meeting adjourned until tonight, when one of the bitterest fights in local political history is due.

MISS GRACE WILSON WITH THE SHEEHAN OPERA CO.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

It is to be deeply regretted that Joseph F. Sheehan, the American tenor, does not see fit to study the languages and join The Metropolitan Grand Opera company, surely they have no one who can excel him either vocally or artistically. Whether it is that Mr. Sheehan believes in making hay while the sun shines and refuses to abandon his own company at the height of its success, or whether he is sincere in his oft repeated statement, "that his mother tongue is good enough for him, is immaterial; suffice it, that were he in the Metropolitan company today, he would be classed with Tamagno, De Reske and Caruso. He is the only man I ever heard who sang the "Diquella Fina" in the key it is written. Even the great artists I have mentioned had it put down from half to whole tone. Eric De Lamater, Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. Sheehan and his excellent company come to the Opera House tonight for one performance of "Il Trovatore."

MARIE CAHILL

"Judy Torgot" is a remarkable musical comedy that ranks with the best of its kind, and Marie Cahill, besides all past records in making song hits, says the Boston Journal in reviewing Miss Cahill's latest musical comedy success which comes to the Lowell Opera House January 23.

The production will be seen here in its New York entirety including the famous "Judy" chorus of sixty young and pretty girls.

COLONIAL THEATRE

The show at the Colonial theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is one of the best of the season. There is an exceptionally good comedy sketch that of Loring Paquette & Co., entitled, "The Gibson Girl." Onthank and Bianchetti, novelty acrobats, won great applause for their feat of juggling upstairs on their heads. Others on the bill were Arthur Pippin, in a very clever musical act and the Child Sisters, in a neat singing and dancing specialty.

THEATRE VOYONS

The history of the great struggle between the North and South is full of romances in which Northern soldiers fell in love with Southern maids and this love resulted in many happy marriages after the war. Today at the Theatre Voyons the feature dramatic picture is a true picture of life during the war and the story of the Southern girl and her Northern sweetheart as one of the best yet filmed. There are three comedies in the program and each a gem of its kind and sure to bring plenty of laughs. A novel scene, subject showing some very beautiful Swiss wood carving and a song program which features "Love Joe," sung by Charles Sturtevant complete a great show.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A capital show from beginning to end is what is being presented at the Academy for the first half of the week. The Lovitts are a pair of clever pantomime performers and have a real novelty act in this line. Hughes and Tiffany appear in a comedy act, "The Water and the Maid," and introduce some funny sayings that will keep you laughing all through the acts, which includes several catchy songs. The feature act on the bill is presented by Francis Morse & Co., and is one that is out of the ordinary. It tells of the entrance of a Bowery girl into a stage career and the slang that is used by Miss Moore in the role of the Bowery belle is certainly very amusing. The bill is interspersed with the latest in motion pictures.

IF ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE WILL THEN BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS

Herewith is printed the full text of the draft of the new city charter as approved by the citizens' committee of sixty, appointed by the board of trade and with the assistance of representatives of numerous organizations throughout the city. If enacted by the legislature it will be submitted to the people for adoption at a special election in October. Citizens should study it carefully, and keep this copy for future reference.

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LOWELL.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The government of the City of Lowell and the general management and control of all its affairs shall be vested in a municipal council, which shall be elected and shall exercise its powers in the manner hereinafter set forth; except, however, that the general management and control of the public schools of the city and of the property pertaining thereto, shall be vested in a school committee.

Section 2. The municipal council shall consist of five members, to wit, a mayor and four aldermen. The school committee shall consist of five members. All the above officers shall be elected at large by and from the qualified voters for terms of two years, unless it is otherwise provided in this act.

Section 3. The annual city election of the City of Lowell shall be held on the second Tuesday of December. Every special city election shall be held on a Tuesday.

Section 4. The municipal year shall begin at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of January, and shall continue until ten o'clock in the forenoon on the first Monday of the January next following.

Section 5. In the year nineteen hundred and eleven and in every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election of said city a mayor, two aldermen, and two members of the school committee, for the term of one municipal year, next following such election. In the year nineteen hundred and twelve and every second year thereafter there shall be elected at the annual city election two aldermen and three members of the school committee for the term of one municipal year next following such election.

Except as aforesaid and as otherwise provided in this act, no city officer shall be elected at any city election. The above mentioned officers shall be elected by and from the qualified voters of the city and may be residents of any part thereof.

Section 6. On the third Tuesday preceding every annual or special city election at which any officer mentioned in section two is to be elected, there shall be held a preliminary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for such offices as under the provisions of this act are to be elected at such annual or special city election. The notice calling for the said preliminary election shall be issued at least forty days before the date of the city election. No preliminary election shall be held until after the expiration of the preliminary election, which under the provisions of this act is to be held on the third Tuesday preceding such special election.

Section 7. At every preliminary election the polls shall be opened at twelve o'clock noon and shall not be closed before eight o'clock at night, and except as is otherwise provided in this act every such preliminary election shall be held by the same officers and held in the same manner as an annual city election. The polling places shall be designated, provided, and furnished, and official ballots, special ballots, ballot boxes, voting lists, specimen ballots, blank forms, apparatus and supplies shall be provided for every such preliminary election, of the same number and kind and in the same manner as at an annual city election, and the same election officers shall officiate as at an annual city election.

Section 8. Except as is provided in section five, there shall not be printed on the official ballots to be used at any annual or special city election of the City of Lowell the name of any person as a candidate for mayor, alderman or member of the school committee, unless such person shall have been nominated for such office at a preliminary election held as provided in this act. There shall not be printed on the official ballots to be used at a preliminary election the name of any person as a candidate for nomination unless such person shall have filed within the time set forth in section nine of this act the statement of the candidate and also the petition described in section nine. Beginning with the current year political committees in the City of Lowell shall be elected at the state primaries instead of at the municipal primaries.

Section 9. Any person eligible for any elective office for which provision is made herein may have his name printed as a candidate for such office on the official ballots to be used at a preliminary election, provided that he shall, at least ten days before such preliminary election, file with the city clerk a statement in writing of his candidacy, in substantially the following form:

We further state that we believe him to be of good moral character, and qualified to perform the duties of the office.

No acceptance by a candidate for nomination named in such petition shall be necessary for its validity or for its filing, and the petition need not be sworn to.

Section 10. Women who are qualified to vote for members of the school committee may be candidates for nomination for that office at any preliminary election at which candidates for nomination for that office are to be voted for; and at such preliminary election they may be candidates for nomination for that office. They shall file the hereinbefore described statement and petition in all cases where the same are herein required to be filed by male candidates for that office.

Section 11. On the first day, not being Sunday or a legal holiday, following the expiration of the time for filing the above described statements and petitions, the city clerk shall cause to be published in one or more daily newspapers of said city, the names and residences of the candidates for nomination who have duly filed the above mentioned statements and petitions, and the offices and terms for which they are candidates, as they are to appear on the official ballots at the preliminary election. Thereupon the city clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed the ballots to be used at such preliminary election; and the ballots so prepared shall be the official ballots, and the only ballots that may be used at such preliminary election. They shall be headed as follows:

Official Preliminary Ballot

(The heading shall be varied in accordance with the offices for which nominations are to be made.)

Section 12. The name of every person who has filed a statement and petition as aforesaid, and his residence and the title and term of the office for which he is a candidate, shall be printed on said ballots, and the names of no other candidates shall be printed thereon. Ballots for use at the said election and for members of the school committee shall be prepared and furnished in the manner now provided by law.

There shall be printed on all said ballots such directions as shall aid the voters; for example, "Vote for one," "Vote for two," and the like.

Party Designations Abolished

Section 13. No ballots used at any annual or special city election, or at any preliminary election shall have printed thereon any party or political designation or mark; and there shall not be appended to the name of any candidate any party or political designation or mark, or anything showing how he was nominated, or indicating his views or opinions. On all ballots to be used at annual or special city elections or at preliminary elections, blank spaces shall be left at the end of each list of candidates for the different offices equal to the number to be elected thereon, in which the voter may insert the name of any person not printed on the ballot for whom he desires to vote for such office, provided that such person is eligible for such office.

Section 14. The qualifications for voting at a preliminary election and at a city election shall be the same.

Section 15. The election officers shall immediately upon the closing of the polls at preliminary elections count the ballots and ascertain the number of votes cast in the polling places, where they respectively officiate for each person for nomination for the office for which he was a candidate; and they shall forthwith make returns thereof to the city clerk upon blank forms to be furnished to them as in city elections.

Section 16. On the first day, not being Sunday or a legal holiday, following such preliminary election, the city clerk shall canvass said returns so received from the election officers, shall forthwith determine the results of said canvass, and shall forthwith cause the same to be published in one or more daily newspapers of said city.

Nominations

Section 17. The two persons receiving at a preliminary election the highest and second highest number of votes respectively, for any office shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at the annual or special city election for which such preliminary election was held; except that in case two or more persons receive the same number of votes and more votes than any other person for the same office, then said persons shall be the candidates as aforesaid whose names shall be printed on said official ballots. If two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at such annual or special city election, the several persons to a number equal to twice the number so to be elected to such office receiving at said preliminary election the highest number of votes, the second highest number of votes, and so on to the number to be nominated, shall be the candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballots to be used at such annual or special city election. If, in order to obtain the requisite number of candidates for any office, it becomes necessary to take one of two or more persons having the same number of votes for the same office, then the names of all the aforesaid persons having the same number of votes for such office shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such annual or special city election, together with the names of all persons, if any, receiving a higher number of votes for such office, even though it makes the number of candidates more than twice the number to be chosen to such office. No names of candidates shall be printed on said official ballots except as provided in this section and in section fifteen.

Section 18. No acceptance of a nomination made at a preliminary election shall be necessary for the validity of such nomination.

Elections

Section 19. At a city election other than the above described preliminary election, the person receiving the highest number of votes for an office shall be deemed and declared elected to such office; and if two or more persons are to be elected to the same office the several persons receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes, the second highest, and so on to the number to be chosen to such office, shall be deemed and declared to be elected; but persons receiving the same number of votes shall not be deemed to be elected if thereby a greater number would be elected than are by law to be chosen.

Section 20. The laws of the commonwealth relating to annual, city, and special elections of city officers, special elections in cities, election officers, voting places, for elections, election apparatus and blanks, calling and conduct of elections, manner of voting at elections, counting and recounting of votes at elections, corrupt practices and penalties shall apply to all elections under this act, including preliminary elections, except as is otherwise provided herein.

Abolishment of Present Government

Section 21. At ten o'clock in the forenoon of the first Monday of January, in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, the city council, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen and common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board shall be abolished; the terms of office which the present mayor, aldermen, common council, school committee, members of the board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board are now serving shall terminate; and except as is otherwise provided in this act, all the present powers and duties, under any act, general or special, of the mayor, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen, city council, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, and all the powers and duties with respect to the police force in said city now vested in the Board of Police of the City of Lowell, are hereby transferred to, shall vest in, devolve upon, and be exercised and performed by the municipal council.

The municipal council shall be the judge of the election of its own members.

Section 22. The municipal council elected as aforesaid shall meet at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the first Monday of January in each year; and the members of said municipal council, whose terms of office then begin shall severally make oath before the city clerk, or any officer authorized to administer oaths, to perform faithfully the duties of their respective offices. The municipal council shall thereupon be organized by the choice of a president, who shall be called the president of the municipal council and shall hold his office during its pleasure. The president of the municipal council shall be some member thereof other than the mayor. The organization of the municipal council shall take place as aforesaid, notwithstanding the absence, death, refusal to serve, or non-election of the mayor, or one or more of the four other members; provided, that at least three of the persons entitled to be members of the municipal council are present and make oath as aforesaid. Any person entitled to make the aforesaid oath, who was not present at the time fixed therefor, may make oath at any time thereafter.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of public safety, and the municipal council shall at such meeting, or soon thereafter as may be, designate by majority vote one alderman to be commissioner of finance; one to be commissioner of streets and highways; one to be commissioner of water works and fire protection; and one to be commissioner of public property and licenses; but such designations shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby.

Meetings of Municipal Council

Section 23. The municipal council shall fix suitable times for its regular meetings. The mayor, the president of the municipal council, or any two members thereof, may, at any time, call a special meeting, by causing a written notice, stating the time of holding such meeting and signed by the person or persons calling the same, to be delivered in hand to each member, or left at his usual dwelling place, at least six hours before the time of such meeting. Meetings of the municipal council may also be held at any time when all the members are present and consent thereto.

Section 24. A majority of the members of the municipal council shall constitute a quorum; its meetings shall be public, and the mayor, if present, shall preside and shall have the right to vote. In the absence of the mayor, the president of the municipal council shall preside, and in the absence of both, a chairman pro tempore shall be chosen. The city clerk shall be, ex officio, clerk of the municipal council, and shall keep records of its proceedings; but in case of his temporary absence or in case of a vacancy in the office, the municipal council may elect by ballot a temporary clerk who shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of his duties and may act as clerk of the municipal council until a city clerk is chosen and qualified. All final votes of the municipal council involving the expenditure of fifty dollars or over shall be by vote and yeas and nays shall be entered on the records. It shall vote by yeas and nays when that is practicable, and on the request of one member any vote shall be by yeas and nays and shall be entered upon the records. The affirmative vote of at least three members shall be necessary for the passage of any order, ordinance, resolution, or vote.

Section 25. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, without the approval of the mayor, all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, can now do with such approval. The municipal council shall determine the policies to be pursued and the work to be undertaken in each department, but each commissioner shall have full power to carry out the policies or have the work performed in his department, as directed by the municipal council. Any notes, bonds or scrip which said city is authorized to issue shall be signed by the treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the municipal council.

Section 26. The municipal council shall have full supervision of the erection, alteration and repair of all public buildings including school buildings, except repairs and alterations of school buildings for which provision is made in the annual appropriation. No department of the city and no reparation of person shall at any time, open, dig up or otherwise obstruct any way or sidewalk, without the consent of the municipal council in writing previously obtained, except in case of an emergency.

Publicity For Contracts

Section 27. Neither the municipal council nor the school committee shall make or pass any order, resolution, or vote appropriating money in excess of five hundred dollars, or making or authorizing the making of any contract involving a liability on the part of the city in excess of five hundred dollars, unless the same is proposed in writing and notice is given by the city clerk in at least one daily newspaper of the city, not less than one week before its passage, except an order, resolution or vote for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, which contains a statement of its urgency and is passed by a four-fifths vote; such notice shall be given as aforesaid upon the request of the municipal council or of the school committee.

Section 28. When the municipal council shall pass any measure or an amendment or repeal of any measure, such measure, amendment or repeal so passed shall, except as is otherwise provided in this act, take effect at the expiration of ten days from its passage; provided, however, that if there be a time therein specified when it shall take effect, and such time may be published in the city, after its passage, such measure, amendment or repeal shall, except as is otherwise provided in this act, take effect at the time so specified therein.

Section 29. No measure passed by the municipal council or by the voters, as provided in this act, shall require the approval of any court or of the attorney-general, or shall be required to be published in order to become effective, unless otherwise provided in this act.

Section 30. Upon vote of the municipal council the mayor shall sign, seal, execute and deliver in behalf of the city deeds and leases of land sold or leased by the city, and other deeds, agreements, contracts, leases, indentures, assurances, and instruments on behalf of the city, except as is otherwise provided herein.

Section 31. The mayor shall have no power of veto, and no measure which the municipal council shall make or pass shall be presented to him for, or shall require, his approval in order to be effective.

Section 32. Each of the five commissioners provided for in section twenty-two of this act shall annually submit to the municipal council in the month of January detailed estimates of the amounts deemed necessary for his respective department for the financial year, which shall begin on the first day of January. No sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose, and no expenditure shall be made or liability incurred by or in behalf of the city until the municipal council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability, together with all prior unpaid liabilities which are payable therefrom, except that after the expiration of the financial year and before the fifteenth day of March, upon vote of the municipal council, liabilities payable out of the regular appropriation may be incurred to an amount not exceeding one-sixth of the total appropriation made for similar purposes in the preceding year. At any time the unexpended balance of any sum appropriated for a specific purpose may be transferred to another account by vote of the municipal council, but no money raised by loan shall be transferred to any appropriation from income or taxes. Nothing herein contained shall be taken to prohibit the payment at any time of expenditures against the city. The school committee shall, in the month of January of each year, submit to the municipal council an estimate in detail of the amount deemed by it necessary to expend for its purposes during the financial year, which shall begin on the first day of January.

Section 33. No officer of said city, except in the case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend intentionally, in any fiscal year, any sum in excess of the appropriation therefor duly made in accordance with law; and any officer who shall violate this provision shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 34. All loans issued by the city after the passage of this act, except temporary loans in anticipation of taxes, shall be made payable in annual installments in the manner authorized by section thirteen of chapter twenty-seven of the Revised Laws, as amended by section one of chapter three hundred and forty-one of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and eight. All bonds shall be offered for sale in such a manner that the effect of the premiums, if any, shall be to reduce the total amount of bonds issued.

Monthly Statements to Be Published

Section 35. The commissioner of finance shall each month have printed in pamphlet form a detailed itemized statement of all cash receipts and expenditures of the city during the preceding month and of all bills and accounts owed by the city at the end of the preceding month, in such a manner as to show the gross monthly revenue and expense of each department, and shall furnish copies thereof to the public library, to the daily newspapers published in said city, and to persons who shall apply therefor at the office of the city clerk. At the end of the municipal year he shall cause a complete examination of all books and accounts of the city to be made by competent accountants; and shall publish the result of such examination in the manner above provided for the publication of monthly statements. The provisions of this section shall apply to the school department of the city, and the school committee shall furnish the commissioner of finance with such information, facts, figures and data as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section so far as it applies to the school department.

Criminal Offense to Participate in Contracts

Section 36. It shall be unlawful for a member of the municipal council or school committee or for any officer or employee of the city directly or indirectly to make a contract with the city, or to receive any commission, discount, bonus, gift, contribution or reward from, or any share in the profits of any person or corporation making or performing such a contract, unless such contract, upon learning of the existence of such contract or that such contract is proposed shall notify in writing the municipal council or school committee of such contract and shall abstain from doing any official act on behalf of the city in reference thereto. In case such interest exists on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by another officer of the city, duly authorized thereto by the mayor, or if the mayor has such interest, by the commissioner of finance. A violation of any provision of this section shall render the contract in respect to which such violation occurs voidable at the option of the city. Any

Resolutions to That Effect Were Adopted at Today's Session—President Hannigan Presented Gavel and "Mallet"—Grand Open Meeting Tonight

The state council of union carpenters of Massachusetts in semi-annual session in this city this morning declared itself in favor of the election of the judges by direct vote of the people by adopting resolutions submitted by the committee on resolutions condemning the imprisonment in Kansas of one Frank D. Warren of Girard, Kan., and calling for the direct election of the judges in the interest of the working people of America.

The resolutions came up with others from the resolution committee though the others all dealt with matters pertaining to the craft.

This morning's session was graced by the presence of another J. Gerhardt representing the New York state council, R. B. Scott of Newport, R. I., president of the Rhode Island state council, and E. C. Willis of Hartford, Conn., president of the Connecticut state council. All will be speakers at the big open meeting and smoke talk to be held this evening in Carpenters' hall, to which all carpenters, whether organized or not, are cordially invited.

Today's session was opened, at 9 o'clock by President Hannigan and the visiting brothers upon their arrival were introduced and all three made brief remarks.

After the early business Bro. Thos. Beane of Boston obtained the floor and in a neat speech presented President Hannigan a beautiful gavel suitably inscribed from the carpenters and painters of Boston. President Hannigan responded gracefully. Then President Scott in a humorous speech presented Pres. Hannigan a monster mallet of solid oak inscribed: "Presented to President Hannigan at Lowell by the Rhode Island council. May he use it judiciously." The mallet made a tremendous hit both ways for President Hannigan in accepting it gave it a resounding thump on the rostrum that could be heard across Merrimack street.

The mill problem was further considered during the morning session as were several communications relative to the craft.

This afternoon action will be taken upon the place of the next meeting and the election of officers may come up, though it is probable that the election will go over until tomorrow as some of the visitors will give the afternoon to sightseeing.

The open meeting will be held in Carpenters hall at 8 this evening. It will be opened by C. P. Monahan, president of the local council, and besides the visiting officers there will be remarks by the state officers and local men both in and out of the craft. An entertainment will be given. The closing session will be held tomorrow.

CAMPAIGN ON

To Educate Public on New Charter

The committee on publicity of the charter committee of 60 met last evening and made arrangements to begin a campaign of education extending into every corner of the city in the interest of the new charter.

In the first mail this morning one coupon was received from a well known citizen favoring the new charter and during the morning several replies were received.

Druggist Frank Moody secured a copy of the draft of the charter and has framed it and placed it in his store window, where it is attracting considerable attention.

Arrangements have been made for a meeting of French-Americans in C. M. A. C. hall on Friday evening of this week. They will be addressed in English and French on the benefits of the proposed new charter, and among the speakers will be Dr. Frank McAvinue, John H. Beaulieu, Thomas J. Coyette, Dr. J. E. Lamoureux and Clovis Ouellette.

At the meeting of the Mule Spinners' union on Friday night several speakers will make addresses in explanation of the provisions of the charter.

EVERY WOMAN'S HAIR SHOULD BE BEAUTIFUL

(From Style and Fashion, New York)
"Beautiful, glossy and lustrous hair is within the reach of every woman who will only try," said Mme. LeClair, the French beauty specialist, today.

"By trying I mean she must use intelligence as well as be willing to put forth the physical effort required. If your hair is dull, brittle dry and streaked, it means that you are not taking intelligent care of it."

"Stop your scrubbing, rubbing and rinsing. Soap and water shampoos only give you a headache, keep you indoors the better part of a day, and expose you to catching cold."

"Every woman who wants abundant, lustrous hair should use a dry shampoo. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of theriac. Sprinkle about a tablespoonful of this mixture upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. This cleanses the scalp and hair and gives the hair a beautiful glossy lustre. In addition to making it light and fluffy, Theriac encourages the growth of hair."

AN EX-PAUPER BUBONIC PLAGUE

Must Pay His Board Is Causing 150 Deaths Daily

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—When Granville F. Lombard, formerly of 305 Salem street, Malden, penniless, nine years ago, fell into consumption, his mother, worth thousands of dollars, turned him from her door. As a pauper he applied for aid from the city of Malden and was sent to Rutland for a long period, at an alleged expense to the city of $1067.

After his mother died, late in 1909, and left him $17,000, mostly in cash, which he had hidden in her clothes and under carpets, the city of Malden sent him a bill for what it claimed it had spent on him.

It was not until yesterday that the city obtained a decree from a court for the sum. Judge Sweetser, sitting as auditor in the suit of the city against Lombard, yesterday awarded the city that amount.

His father was Charles Lombard, a real estate broker, who when he died left his wife 40 houses on Baker Hill. She converted most of them into cash, some of which she invested in a bank and the rest she hid in the house.

Lombard became a postman in the Back Bay and earned some money but at an early age he caught consumption and spent time and money traveling.

When he returned penniless and sicker than ever he called at his mother's home, but she went away visiting and he was turned away. This was in 1901.

Lombard was admitted to the Malden almshouse but became so ill that he was sent to the Rutland state sanitarium.

Five years ago the city sued his mother for his support up to that time. She paid nearly $1000 and then put the rest of her real estate into cash. After that the city was unable to collect from her.

Lombard is now living with his wife and five children in Hubbardston, just across the Princeton line. Two of his children work in farm houses and he lives in what appears to be extreme poverty.

No one seems to know what has become of the $17,000 left him by his mother.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Six families, including 20 persons, were driven out into the bitter cold when the big double apartment house at Broadway and Pleasant street, Revere, took fire last night. The building is three stories in height, with stores on the ground floor and dwellings above, and is owned by former Senator Alfred S. Hall. It is known as Hale's block.

On the ground floor is the drug store of Chas. R. Stevens, the printing office of the Revere Journal, owned by Ernest H. Pierce, and the grocery store of James Melley. The fire, which started in the basement of the drug store, was discovered about 9.15. The thick smoke filled the halls of the apartments above, and the police ordered all the occupants to leave the building. They stood shivering in the wet weather for a time, until they were taken to the police station for shelter.

The fire worked its way through the partitions as far as the second story and compelled the firemen to cut holes in the walls in a number of places. After a two-hour fight it was extinguished. The cellars were filled with water. The loss on the building will be about $2500; on the contents of the drug store $1000, and $500 on the printing office and grocery store.

The families living in the building were those of Edward F. Labonty, John Smith, plumbing inspector of the town, Philip H. Hastings, William A. Brown, John Warnock and William Hubbard. They all returned after the fire was extinguished, as their furniture had not been injured.

The council or ministers met today and discussed the matter of the plague in Manchuria and the advisability of making representations to the Chinese government and suggesting that Fudzianian be cleaned under the supervision of Russian authorities and physicians.

Democrats Say That There Will be a Deadlock in Joint Convention—The Democrats Claim That Lodge is Defeated

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Sherman L. Whipple of Brookline, classmate of William Howard Taft, republican president of the United States, received the nomination for U. S. senator yesterday at the democratic caucus at the state house on the fifth ballot.

Mr. Whipple is regarded as the personal choice of Gov. Foss. His boom was sprung by those closely affiliated with the political fortunes of Gov. Foss and by considerable quiet lobbying during the past week. Gov. Foss' friends succeeded in nominating Mr. Whipple, comparatively a new man in the political game, over an old war-horse of the party and veteran campaigner, John R. Thayer of Worcester, who led on the first ballot with 10 votes more than Mr. Whipple.

John R. Thayer led all competitors up to the fourth ballot. On the fifth his vote dwindled to almost one-half of Whipple's and the latter had eight more than enough to nominate.

The fifth ballot resulted as follows:

Necessary for a choice	56
Whipple	54

Gov. Foss	2

Made Unanimous

The nominal ballot was announced Representative Henebery of Worcester was on his feet and moved to make the ballot unanimous. Senator Hunt of Worcester seconded Henebery's motion.

Representatives Foley and Eagan, friends and supporters of Congressman O'Connell, followed in the same line and Mr. Whipple's nomination was made unanimous with great enthusiasm.

Only Six Absentees

There were only six absentees, two of whom were accounted for.

The absentees were Senator John H. Mack of North Adams, Representatives J. J. Brennan of Boston, T. S. Cuff of Lowell, W. J. Graham of Lawrence, J. H. McInerney of Boston and B. O. O'Neill of Boston. Of these the presence of the two first named yesterday was assured.

Two of the three democratic representatives who have been charged with having Lodge leanings were present. These were Representative Newton of Boston and Representative McCullough of Holyoke. Representative McInerney of Boston was not present. Representative Newton, previous to the taking of any ballot, addressed the caucus and declared that today and every day until a senator is chosen he will be present and vote for the democratic choice for senator.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 17.—James F. Buckley has spent twenty years of his life in perfecting a submarine boat and he is now near the goal of his ambition, which is to be able to explore the bottom of the harbor at Portland, Me., where, as a boy, he used to long to stay under water long enough to see what was there.

He has perfected a submarine boat in which the naval and war powers of several nations are interested, the United States war department having recently communicated with him relative to the improvements he has perfected on a craft which was tried out successfully ten years ago.

The secret of it he refuses to divulge except that it is a cigar-shaped craft revolving on an axle which makes possible a spiral movement through the water at a speed of between 100 and 150 miles per hour, depending on the engine power. The secret of the axle supply he has already solved, as well as that of speed under water, but he is not yet ready to give out the plans.

Mr. Buckley navigated the bottom of the Merrimack river several years ago, but his submarine depended upon hand power at that time. It worked well, however, the motion of the outer shell demonstrating the possibilities of that method. Since then the inventor's efforts have been directed toward the equipment of power source.

An accident to his craft while at the bottom of the river came near resulting in his death, for one of the fins of the boat struck an obstruction and damaged the power crank.

The English admiralty requested him to construct a craft along the lines of his first boat, but the expense involved was too great and he abandoned the project. He has had correspondence with the naval agents of Great Britain, Spain, France and Japan, but now says he will give America first choice and has offered his plans to the United States.

FOR LAMENESS COOL CUSTOMER

Dr. Daniels Tells How Brockton Man Arrested as a Suspect

The frequent lameness in the shoulder warrants a brief mention of this trouble. The complex structure, although naturally well protected by its muscular envelope, is frequently the seat of injuries difficult to determine and effectively treat—the bone forming the skeleton of that region is connected in a loose way with the bones of the arm, the joint being much strengthened by the tendons passing on all sides of it. Shoulder lameness may exist from lacerations of the muscles, tendons or ligaments, of the joint or disease of the bone itself. A simple superficial injury may easily be overcome, but those of a more serious nature are often impossible of a satisfactory treatment. The frequent attacks of shoulder lameness resulting from falling with severe concussion, a serious or violent straining of the muscles in starting too heavy a load, a misstep, a jump with disastrous landing, slipping on a smooth or icy road, falling with snow, or collision with any object, and many similar accidents. Shoulder lameness is often confounded with rascals, and other forms of lameness, and many times lameness is really existing, is termed lameness and treated as such without doing the animal any good. The symptoms to be noted in shoulder lameness is continued lameness, and is more marked in diseased bones than muscles, and in action the shoulder blade and upper arm are almost immobile, thus displacing the entire mass, and the leg in moving is drawn forward with no extension or flexion.

Treatment for shoulder lameness first requires absolute rest, application of cold water showers and hot water fomentations, followed by stimulating liniments, blister, setons, etc. No matter what else you may do, absolute rest is of the most importance, and a good, dry rest, too.

Elbow muscles become sprained sometimes and is thought to be shoulder lameness. Heavy horses which are shod smoothly, driven rapidly, upon slippery street or pavement, are frequent sufferers from this form of injury. When in action, a rapid gait is out of the question, while the walk shows a pronounced dropping of the anterior part of the trunk, the entire weight being thrown upon the other side, heat, pain and swelling found at the elbow. The treatment again is absolute rest for an extended period, cold water applications, hot fomentations, stimulating liniment and rest, as in shoulder lameness.

SOLD COCAINE

Woman Was Given Two Months' Sentence

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Annie L. Manley, the colored woman who caused Prof. Philippe Marceau to resign from Harvard university by bringing a $50,000 breach of promise suit against him two years ago, was sent to Deer Island yesterday for two months for selling cocaine. She was arraigned in the superior court under the name of Sarah Smith.

Living Brockton, at whose house at 9 Williams street terrace, Roxbury, Annie Manley boarded and lodged, was also sent with her to the island yesterday on a charge of having cocaine in her possession. Both were sent away as a result of investigations made by the Watch and Ward society.

Judge Dewey defended the Manley woman and Brockton, and lost their cases on Friday the 13th.

The woman sold cocaine to an agent of the Watch and Ward society Nov. 9. On Nov. 12 the society with police officers of station 10 under charge of Sergeant O'Neill raided the house at 9 Williams street terrace, and secured a lot of cocaine, in spite of the fact that Brockton threw some of it out of the window. In the Roxbury court they were sentenced to four months each. Judge Kenney yesterday, after an argument by Judge Dewey on the constitutionality of the cocaine statute, cut the sentence of the lower court in halves because both had already between their arrest and the trial of their appeal served two months.

Living Brockton, at whose house at 9 Williams street terrace, Roxbury, Annie Manley boarded and lodged, was also sent with her to the island yesterday on a charge of having cocaine in her possession. Both were sent away as a result of investigations made by the Watch and Ward society.

Samuel N. Wood Observes 90th Birthday

Samuel N. Wood, for many years one of Lowell's best known business men, but long since retired, observed his 90th birthday at his home, 643 Central street, yesterday. Mr. Wood was in good health and spirits, and during the afternoon received many friends and a wealth of flowers. His memory is remarkably good, despite his great age. His sight is good and he reads the newspapers daily, keeping in close touch with current events. He does not go outdoors much in winter. Mr. Wood is a most interesting talker and his talks of early Lowell never fail to charm.

Samuel Newell Wood was born in Dracut, Jan. 16, 1821. His father, Samuel Wood, was born in Tewksbury on June 3, 1739, and died in Lowell June 1, 1874. He was nearly 85 years old, so it can readily be seen that the subject of the present sketch comes of a family quite noted for longevity. Mr. Wood's mother was Patience Kendall, who was born in Tewksbury and who died in Lowell about 1820.

Samuel N. Wood came to Lowell with his father when a mere boy, and he was educated in the public schools of Lowell and at Phillips-Andover academy, from which school he was graduated in 1839. For five years thereafter he worked at the grocery business as clerk, and at the end of that time he formed a business partnership with Marshall Hemmingsway, under the firm name of Wood & Hemmingsway, in the same line of business.

Some five years later he went into partnership with his father on Market street, in the wholesale grocery business. A year later his father retired and Mr. Wood assumed full control of the business. The business increased rapidly, and in 1868 he admitted his son to partnership. In 1883 Mr. Wood retired from the business. For a number of years afterwards he devoted himself to the supervision of his real estate, although of recent years he has relinquished this considerably.

Mr. Wood's father brought the first bale of wool and cotton shipped to Lowell, to the Hurd mills. Before that time he had been proprietor of a grocery store at Quincy, Mass., and often he spoke with pride of the fact that one of his steady customers had been John Quincy Adams, a former president of the United States.

In June, 1843, he married Maria Gray of Wilton, N. H. He was married a second time on Nov. 18, 1845, to Laura Hyde of Oxford, Conn. His third marriage was to Mrs. Emma B. Dudley of Ipswich, N. H. He has two children surviving him, Mrs. Charles W. Gay of New London, N. H., and Edward N. Wood, who for many years conducted the grain business originally established by his grandfather. He also has two sisters, Miss Mary Wood, aged 82, of Haverhill, Mass., and Mrs. Hannah Houghton of this city.

Mr. Wood has always been a strong republican. He was a member of the common council in 1844. He was one of the earliest members of Oberlin lodge, I. O. O. F., and of Vannaburgh, a branch of the same order. He has been a director of the First National bank, and a trustee of the Central Savings bank. During his younger years he was deeply interested in military affairs and for a number of years was quartermaster sergeant under Col. Hancock. He is a member of the High Street Congregational church.

LODGE IS CHOICE

The Republican Caucus Favored Him for Senator

132 Members Took Part in the Meeting—His Friends Claim That the Senator Will Get Nine More Votes, Giving Him a Majority on Joint Ballot

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The first legislative skirmish in the United States senatorial contest at the state house yesterday resulted in the unanimous nomination of Senator Lodge in the republican caucus. All of the absentees Ames men remained away, as well as several anti-Lodge men. A few of Senator Lodge's supporters were unable to be present for business reasons.

There were 28 absentees, which comes pretty near corroborating Congressman Butler Ames' claim that at least 30 republicans would not attend the caucus.

As there are 153 republican members on a joint ballot, one can start with the proposition that Senator Lodge had in yesterday's caucus 125 votes. Add to this the seven absentees who sent word that they would be present today and vote for Senator Lodge and his vote is swelled nine to the others absent, which would give him a majority of one on a joint ballot. Some of the more enthusiastic of the Lodge men claim 12 of the absentees uncommitted which would give him two more than a majority on a joint ballot.

Butler Ames laughed at the Lodge claim last night and declared that he was satisfied that the democrats and the anti-Lodge republicans would deadlock the legislature on the senatorship.

The Absentees

These republicans were absent from the caucus:

Senators Denny of Worcester, Hilditch of Middlesex, Nason of Essex and Tinkham of Suffolk. Representatives Arkell of Worcester, Benniman of Lowell, Bean of Cambridge, Bowswell of Lynn, Collins of Amesbury, Cushman of Provincetown, Dow of Cambridge, B. D. Gifford of Chatham, Greenwood of Everett, Keefe of Fall River, Kilpatrick of Lowell, Knowles of Gloucester, Marchand of Lowell, Morgan of Lawrence, Swamphart, Silvestro of Worcester, Stevens of Dracut, Turner of Waltham, Wells of Haverhill, C. J. Wood of Cambridge and R. A. Wood of Cambridge.

Of these the Lodge men claimed Senators Denny of Worcester, Tinkham of Suffolk, Representatives Bagley of East Boston, Baker of Westwood, Bean of Cambridge, Bowswell of Lynn, Collins of Amesbury, Cushman of Provincetown, Dow of Cambridge, Gifford of Chatham, Keefe of Fall River, Knowles of Gloucester, Penniman of Cambridge, Quinn of Swampscott, Turner of Waltham, Wells of Haverhill, and C. J. Wood of Cambridge. The 12 other absentees they give to Ames.

Prolonged applause greeted the conclusion of the nominating speech by Speaker Walker, and Representative Willits of Fall River immediately moved that Senator Lodge be nominated by acclamation. This was seconded by Senator Pearson of Norfolk.

At this point Representative Underhill of Somerville said he had heard that some members thought the nomination ought to be made by ballot. He believed if there were such men they should frankly urge that nomination should be made that way. The "acclamation" method, however, apparently appealed to all present, and Representative Willits' motion was carried without dissent. The chairman then put the question and Senator Lodge was unanimously nominated as the

David Ziskind, the well known junk dealer, appeared in court this morning to answer to a complaint charging him with violating a city ordinance—allowing his horse to remain unattended in Merrimack street for over 20 minutes.

After the complaint had been read by the clerk, the latter asked: "What do you plead, guilty or not guilty?"

"Well I don't know," said Mr. Ziskind, "I didn't look at my watch to see how long it was there."

"You can plead not guilty and have a trial if you desire."

"How much will it cost?" was Mr. Ziskind's query.

"Are you ready for trial today?" asked the clerk.

"I don't know, I guess I'll plead guilty."

Patrolman John Leighton testified that Mr. Ziskind's horse and wagon were left standing outside of the Hildreth building in Merrimack street for over one hour one week ago last Monday. Witness drove the horse over to the police station and subsequently Mr. Ziskind called for the outfit.

The defendant said that he had to go to a lawyer's office in the Hildreth building for the purpose of signing a deed on the morning in question, and was not aware that the horse had been standing in the street for over 20 minutes. He also said that he was not aware that such an ordinance was in force, but said he would keep it in mind in the future.

who were married six months ago have reached the same conclusion—that they are not well mated and each has decided to take a different path in the future. The young couple, neither is much more than 20 years of age, married in haste and now they are repenting at leisure. The marital troubles were brought out in police court this morning when Mrs. Nicholas had her husband before the court on a complaint charging him with failing to provide for her. She said she had worked every day since the time she was married and that during the six months they had been living together he had not given her half a dollar in money. She left him about two weeks ago. The husband makes between $5 and $6 per week.

Judge Fisher turned the couple over to Probation Officer Slattery.

The Missing Girl

Mrs. Patrick McCarron, mother of the missing girl, was at police court today with her husband to see if the court could assist her in finding her missing daughter by forcing some people to tell what they know about the girl's disappearance. Mrs. McCarron thought her husband might have influenced the girl to go away and that he may know where she is. The husband was questioned, but nothing of importance was elicited.

Other Offenders

James Danforth, charged with being drunk, was placed in the hands of the probation officer. Martin Callahan was fined $5, and one first offender was fined $2.

It was not quite so cold this morning as it was yesterday morning. In fact at 6 o'clock this morning the mercury had risen about two degrees in some places while in other points of the city it had changed considerably. At 6 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 2 above at Sparks drug store on Lakeview avenue, while at the pumping station on the boulevard and at McKinley's grocery store on Mammoth road, it was just 2 below. Nevertheless it was cold enough for anybody, even the coal dealers were not complaining.

This cold spell is the delight of the skaters and the latter proved it last night, for Shedd park, Lakeview and the Merrimack river were overcrowded with skaters. The ice was good and the sport was enjoyed till a late hour. Shedd park was pretty rough yesterday forenoon, but in the afternoon a gang of men from the water works department decided the rink, so that the evening the ice was of excellent quality. This place was again visited by a large crowd this afternoon, while a number of young boys were enjoying themselves on the Merrimack river.
